LEADERS OF PARTY ADVISE COOLIDGE TO DROP WARREN

Confirmation Impossible, White House Is Told After Senate Rejection of Appointee.

DAWES ABSENT, WITH VOTE TIED

Defeat of Nominee for Attorney-Generalship a Triumph for Reed of Missouri and Walsh.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Coolidge was advised today by Republican leaders in the Senate not to resubmit the nomination of Charles B. Warren of Michigan to be Attorney-General, because it could not be confirmed. Mr. Coolidge was informed that the full support of Warren had been counted in the vote yesterday when the nomination was rejected 46 to 40, the absent Republican Senators favorable to confirmation being paired with Senators in opposition.

Chairman Cummins of the Judiciary Committee, who had charge of the Warren nomination in the Senate, was the first to present his views to the President today. Later Senators Watson of Indiana, Moses of New Hampshire, Reed of Pennsylvania and Wadsworth of New York discussed the situation at an hour's conference with the President. The Senators said afterward that Mr. Coolidge offered no comment.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Coolidge today is trying to digest the most unpalatable mess of political porridge that has been served up to him since he became President.

Senators Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Montana were the chief cooks of the dish. If it had not been for the efforts of these two, Charles Beecher Warren, the President's choice for the Attorney-Generalship, would today be getting ready to take the oath of office with the consent, if not the blessing of the Senate, and Vice President Dawes would be smoking his pipe in peace.

As things turned out, Warren's nomination was rejected late yesterday afternoon by a tie vote which would have been resolved in favor of confirmation if Vice President Dawes had been in the presiding officer's chair in the Senate instead of taking a little snooze in his apartment at the Willard Hotel.

Dawes Arrived Late.

On such things do the fate of republics depend. Dawes was not in his seat and a speeding taxicab failed to get him there on time. That fact determined the issue. It may also be said to have been determined by Senator Overman of North Carolina.

It was the first rejection of a cabinet nomination in 60 years—since the administration of President Johnson.

Overman is a conservative Democrat and a member of the Judiciary Committee. When the matter of the Warren appointment was being fought out in that committee, with Reed and Walsh leading the opposition, Overman was a wavering member. Then one Sunday the President had him on the Mayflower and the next day he told his colleagues that he was going to vote for the confirmation. He believed, he said, that the President had a right to pick his own Cabinet without interference by the Senate.

Overman voted for Warren in the committee and voted for him again yesterday in the Senate. He was the only Democrat so to vote. It was his ballot that—made the result a tie—40 to 40. If Dawes had been in the chair the trick would have been turned right there. The 40 to 40 vote did not affirm.

Pennsylvanian's Change of Vote.

Then came the switch by Senator Reed (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, who, of course, was for confirmation. He changed his vote for the special purpose of making himself eligible to move reconsideration, in the course of which process it was hoped that Dawes

TWO U. S. FLYERS, MILES APART IN AIR, HOLD CONVERSATION

Each Plane Equipped With Broadcasting and Receiving Instruments.

By the Associated Press.

DAYTON, O., March 11.—Today for the first time in history, according to army aviation officers here, two men several thousand feet in the air and more than five miles apart, held conversation. This remarkable feat was accomplished at Wilbur Wright Field by Maj. H. J. Knerr and Lieut. M. N. Stewart, during a test of new radio equipment.

A test of the equipment included the flight of two ships equipped with broadcasting and receiving instruments. The men conversed with each other with perfect ease. Maj. Knerr said, while whizzing through air at the rate of 120 miles an hour, going in different directions. Their conversation was heard on receiving sets at Wright Field.

WOMAN DIES PROTESTING SHE WAS GIVEN POISONED DRINK

Man Companion Arrested in Her Hotel Room at Kansas City Is Held for Questioning.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 11.—Mrs. Dora Gage of Atchison, Kan., died in a hospital here today protesting that a man companion arrested in her hotel room had given her a poisoned drink. The man, who said he was R. M. Turner, Atchison real estate dealer, was held for questioning.

Hotel attendants were attracted to the woman's room by her screams and found Mrs. Gage apparently suffering acutely from poisoning. Before her death Mrs. Gage told the police that Turner had poured her a bitter drink from a bottle, reserving another bottle for his own use, and that later he threw the first bottle to the pavement from a window.

Turner refused to answer questions of the police.

FLOGGING FOR BLACKMAILERS

British Proposal Would Supplant Life Imprisonment.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, March 11.—Flogging for blackmailers was formally proposed to the House of Commons by Home Secretary Johnson Ricks during the debate in which it was suggested that blackmailing trials be held in secret so that the victims would not be afraid to come forward.

The Home Secretary opposed this, but favored flogging in addition to punishment for life, as at present in force. Several Tory members expressed approval of whipping, but it was opposed by the Liberal and Labor members who said that it was a barbaric punishment, now imposed only in England.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 11.—More than 1000 packages of shamrocks intended to brighten Boston homes on St. Patrick's day, were ordered sent back to Ireland today by representatives of the Department of Agriculture. The action was taken under the regulation which prohibits the importation of living plants because of the danger of pests.

$8500 DAMAGE BY BOMB EXPLOSION IN LOFT BUILDING

Sportwear Concern's Quarters Scene of Blast on Fifth Floor at 1021-25 Washington Avenue.

POLICE WITHOUT CLEW IN CASE

Many Windows Broken and a Hole a Yard Across Torn in Floor by Dynamite at 10:30 P. M.

A dynamite bomb, which exploded at 10:30 o'clock last night in the factory of the Metropolitan Sportwear Co., on the fifth floor at 1021-25 Washington avenue, caused damage totaling approximately $8500 to that concern and four wholesale hat and dress firms on lower floors.

The circumstances under which the bomb was planted have not been determined and the police today have no clew to the identity of the offenders.

Eleven windows on the fifth floor, the quarters of the Metropolitan Co., were shattered by the blast, and a hole about three by four feet was torn in the floor. Bales of leather and sheep skins, used in the manufacture of jackets in the factory, were scattered about and other equipment disarranged. The chief damage was to the sportwear company, however, and all of that to the concerns on lower floors resulted from automatic sprinklers which were opened by the explosion.

Entrance by Fire Escape.

A piece of burned fuse about eight feet long, found in the wreckage, indicated the bomb was timed so as to give those who planted it time to get out of the building by climbing down the fire escape. This apparently was their means of entrance as well as exit, as doors leading to stairways and elevators had not been tampered with. The factory quarters were closed at 6 p. m. and officials said no one but employes had been in the place during the day.

Martin Ryan, a private watchman employed by several wholesale concerns in the district, was a block away when the explosion occurred and was the first to reach the scene. He said he saw no one entering or leaving the building. No fire was started by the blast, but piles of sheep skins and bags of waste cuttings near the center of the room were scorched, apparently by the flame from the explosion. What fire may have existed, however, was quickly extinguished by the sprinkling system which showered the factory and the four floors below.

Concerns Suffering Losses.

The Shapiro-Handelman Garment Co., wholesale cloak and suit dealers, on the fourth floor, suffered damage estimated at $5000 from water which drenched large quantities of silks and dress goods. Damage to the Frager Bros. Dress Co., on the third floor, was placed at $1500; Adelson Hat Co., second floor, $500, and Levis-Goodbarr-Lloyd Co., wholesale milliner dealers on the first floor, $500.

Arthur Schoenberg, of 5560 Pershing avenue, vice president and treasurer of the Metropolitan company, said the damage to that concern would total about $1000 but was covered by insurance.

He declared he was unable to account for the attempt to wreck the factory. The company had experienced no labor troubles, he said, and had no known enemies. About 50 persons, many of whom are women, are employed in the place.

Employes Questioned.

Several employes, taken into custody today for questioning, were released and an early police theory that ill feeling on the part of some of the workers may have led to the explosion was abandoned.

Further police investigation disclosed that the firm, which was incorporated for $50,000 about two years ago, was in good financial standing and has orders ahead for business totaling $200,000. Harry Grossman, 18 Lewis place, is president.

SUBMARINES PIERCE "INVADERS'" LINES

American Warships Holding Sham Battle Off Lower Californa.

By the Associated Press.

ABOARD U. S. S. SEATTLE AT SEA OFF THE COAST OF LOWER CALIFORNIA, March 11.—Uncle Sam's newest submarines, those of the "S" type, after cruising 2600 miles from the Panama Canal, pierced the lines of "invading" battleships in the greatest naval sham battle ever held in the Pacific early today and left a much harassed "enemy" at his base on the west coast of Mexico.

One hundred and nine ships of the American Navy, divided into the black, or invading fleet, and the blue or defensive fleet, was on the moonlit sea off the Mexican coast last night, and, until an hour before dawn today, the engagement went on over hundreds of square miles of ocean.

This morning found the great problem—the defense of the Pacific Coast against invasion—finally worked out. The decision on the result of the battle will come later.

The aim of the black fleet, the enemy, great dreadnoughts guarding supply ships and screened by destroyers, was to reach a base on the coast from which to operate in the invasion. The duty of the blue fleet, the defenders, whose mainstay was its wing of swift scout cruisers, was to get into action against the black fleet at sea and destroy it or cripple it.

The blue fleet accomplished the first phase of its mission by sighting the enemy before the latter reached its designated base. Then began a hot battle of blue submarines against black destroyers. It started at 9 o'clock last night and raged until nearly dawn today.

The great "S" sype submarines penetrated the formidable screen of black destroyers and harassed the enemy unceasingly until he reached his base.

ALABAMA SHOPKEEPER FLOGGED

Second Man Abducted by Mob in Birmingham Is Missing.

By the Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 11.—Philip La Suga, a shopkeeper, who was kidnaped from his store last night by a band of men, was found in a serious condition at his home today by newspaper men. The man was suffering from wounds resulting from a flogging, according to members of the man's family.

The police had failed to find trace of Joseph Zimmerman, a railroad employe, who was kidnaped yesterday from his place of employment by a number of men occupying automobiles. Zimmerman had been charged withs annoying school girls. La Susa, officers said, received a threatening letter some time ago. It was said by police that reports had been made that a fiery cross had been burned in front of his store a few weeks ago.

GYPSY AND $600 GONE BUT EAR-ACHE REMAINS

Sufferer Complains to Police After Unprofitable Visits to Phrenologist.

The subdivided cross-section of a human head and the phrenologist's sign in the window of a shop in the 3000 block on Olive street, caught the eye of Jacob Gadient. His trouble was in his head and perhaps phrenology was what he needed.

Madame Marie, the gypsy phrenologist, confirmed his theory. Phrenology, she explained, was the sure cure for a persistent ear-ache. She massaged his bumps and kneaded his neck, and Gadient went home to 2117 Arsenal street feeling much relieved, with his purse $100 lighter.

That was two weeks ago. Saturday last, with the ear-ache as bad as ever, Gadient returned. For $500 more, Madame Marie guaranteed she would send it away forever. Gadient paid. Madame Marie rubbed, and bade him come back on Friday, the 13th, for another treatment.

Gadient went back yesterday holding his ear. Madame Marie was gone, the phrenologist's sign was gone, and the subdivided crosssection of a human head was gone. Gadient complained to the police. They advised him to see a doctor, while they seek Madame Marie.

$10,000,000 IS LEFT TO YOUNG MAN MRS. ST. CYR MARRIED AT 60

Inherited Large Fortunes Through Previous Marriages, Then Wed Third Husband Much Younger.

POSED AS YOUNG FRENCH WIDOWER

Subsequently Shown That He Was John Thompson of Waco, Texas, a Former Chorus Man.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—By the will of his wife, whose death in her lonely mansion at San Mateo last week ended an international career of romance and finance, Jean St. Cyr has become a man of wealth in his own name.

Of the $30,000,000 estate of Mrs. St. Cyr, amassed largely through her previous marriages, the husband is to attain title to only $10,000,000. William Rhinelander Stewart Jr., and Princess Miguel de Braganza, son and daughter of the first marriage, are to share equally with St. Cyr, the will provides.

Stewart and St. Cyr, both of whom were at the bedside when Mrs. St. Cyr died March 3, are named jointly as executors.

Mansion to Husband.

To the husband goes title to El Cerrito, the $500,000 mansion in which the St. Cyrs have lived in the foothills west of San Mateo, for the remainder of his life. Upon his death, the will provides, it is to go to the daughter, and following her death, if it precedes that of Stewart, to the latter.

The $30,000,000 estate is left as a trust with St. Cyr and Stewart as trustees, the husband, son and daughter sharing equally in its proceeds.

The children of Princess de Braganza, if there are any, are given preference over the children of Stewart in the event that all three of the principal legatees pass away, the estate to go first to them and secondly to the children of the son.

The document mentions only personal property, which revealed that the vast property left her by "Silent" Smith had been disposed of by Mrs. St. Cyr.

Mrs. St. Cyr and her third husband were married when she was about 60 and he was 33. At [illegible] posed as a young French widower, socially prominent but it was subsequently shown he was John Thompson, of Waco, Tex., a former chorus man.

She inherited her wealth from her first husband, William Rhinelander Stewart of New York, and the "man of mystery," James Henry Smith, known to his associates in Wall Street as "Silent" Smith. The death of Mrs. St. Cyr has recalled the stir created in New York and Palm Beach society almost 10 years ago by the marriage of "Silent" Smith's widow, then a grandmother and the mother of a Duchess, to the young widower of social ambition and unexplained antecedents. It developed later that St. Cyr was really plain John Thompson of Texas.

The woman who, since April, 1915, was Mrs. St. Cyr, was Annie H. Armstrong, member of a leading Baltimore family, before her marriage, in 1879, to William Rhinelander Stewart of New York. He was one of the heirs of the great Rhinelander estate, and the Stewarts' social position in New York was unrivaled.

William Rhinelander Stewart Jr. and Anita Stewart, who became the wife of the Portuguese royal pretender, Prince Miguel of Braganza, and who is the Duchess of Vizeu, were the children of this marriage. In 1906 Mrs. Stewart obtained a divorce at Reno.

Married Seventh Richest Man.

Soon after her divorce, she was married to James Henry Smith, who possessed $70,000,000, inherited from an uncle in England, and who was known as the "seventh richest man in America." Smith died in Japan in 1907, while they were on their honeymoon tour.

Smith was the "Wall Street Man of Mystery." His unusual character is reflected in the name given him by his business associates and acquaintances—"Silent" Smith. Little was known about him, except that he was very wealthy, having inherited a large fortune and increased it by his operations in Wall street.

At Palm Beach, early in 1915, Mrs. Smith met St. Cyr, whose first

WOMAN EXPLORER IN AFRICA KILLED BY A RHINOCEROS

British Captain Later Trampled to Death When He Tries to Blind Animal.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 11.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Nairobi, in the Kenya colony of British East Africa, reports that Mrs. Green, a noted Irish explorer from Dublin, and a British Captain have been killed by a rhinoceros.

Mrs. Green had crossed Africa from the Belgian Congo to Nairobi and was about to climb Mount Kenya when she encountered the rhinoceros at Nanyuki. The woman fired with a small-bore rifle and wounded the animal, which thereupon charged and fatally injured her.

The British officer, Capt. Atkins, accompanied by his wife, arrived later in a motor car at the scene. He was not aware of Mrs. Green's death and they alighted from the car. The rhinoceros then charged upon them. The Captain shouted a warning to his wife and tried to blind the animal by throwing his coat over its head. The rhinoceros, however, knocked the Captain down and trampled him to death.

Mrs. Atkins made her escape and brought back gunmen, who killed the rhinoceros.

AMERICAN SHOT BY BRIGANDS IN ATTACK IN GREECE

Three Others, Also U. S. Citizens, in Auto Holdup in Southern Epirus.

By the Associated Press.

ATHENS, March 11.—Dr. John Logan of Gainesville, Ga., was shot through the right lung yesterday noon by bandits who were holding up the automobile in which he and three other Americans, all students of the American School of Archaeology, were traveling in Southern Epirus, Greece.

The wounded man's condition is considered serious but not necessarily fatal. Dr. Jesse Marden of Boston, the Near East relief organization's medical director, left Athens tonight by steamer to attend Dr. Loga, who has been removed to Arta. Dr. Logan's companions escaped injury. They were Charles Alexander Robinson of Peekskill, N. Y.; Helen Virginia Bros of Portland, Me., and Dorothy Cox, a Bryn Mawr student, of New York.

After escaping from the brigands by speeding up their car, the students abandoned the automobile and baggage and hid in the forest. Later the brigands found the car and took three cameras and some wearing apparel from it. The students afterward returned to the car and motored back to Arta. The Government is searching for the perpetrators and has expressed its regrets to the British and American legations.

YEAR'S SENTENCE AND $1000 FINE FOR MAKING WHISKY

Judge Davis Assesses Heavy Penalty Against Italian, Not Naturalized.

Federal Judge Davis' new policy of imposing exceptionally heavy punishment on Italian moonshiners and bootleggers who plead guilty in his court, was demonstrated today when Ignatio Anetti of 5114 Wilson avenue, admitted making whisky at home.

Judge Davis asked but one question. "Are you a citizen?" and the answer "No," was followed by a sentence of a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary and a $1000 fine.

The sentence is the same as that which Judge Davis imposed yesterday on Angelo Murabito, when he announced his plan to stop the widespread violation of liquor laws among Italian immigrants. In the past, the maximum penalty has been, as a rule, six months in jail and a $500 fine.

MILLER'S CAMPAIGN RECORDS ARE STOLEN FROM SAFE

Robert J. Kratky, attorney, and manager of the campaign of Victor J. Miller for the Republican mayoralty nomination, said today that records of campaign and other expenditures had been stolen from the safe in his office between 9 p. m. Monday and 2 p. m. yesterday. His office is in the Central National Bank Building.

He said they were of no intrinsic value but were his personal records of the Miller campaign. He said it included check stubs and a list of contributors to the Miller campaign.

No marks of forced entry were found on the office doors or on the safe. Kratky said that his office had been open most of the time and that entrance might have been effected to his private office without being noticed.

"The theft will accomplish nothing," he said. "Our records are in duplicate and my own private papers included in the loot will be of interest to no one else."

ROCK ISLAND ROAD OBTAINS CONTROL OF COTTON BELT

DEAL PROMOTED BY EDWIN GOULD

Alliance of Lines Mutually Beneficial and Definite Public Advantage, He Asserts.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Control of the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway Co. has been acquired by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Co., Charles Hayden, chairman of the Rock Island, announced today.

Acquisition of the Cotton Belt System, Hayden said, had been accomplished by the Rock Island, and interests friendly to the road, obtaining a dominant interest in the stock of the St. Louis Southwestern company.

Edwin Gould, chairman of the St. Louis Southwestern, announced that in disposing of the Rock Island substantial holdings of Cotton Belt stock, he had promoted what he conceived to be the true destiny of the St. Louis Southwestern.

Goulds Knew of Deal.

"Alliance with the Rock Island," Gould said, "commends itself on geographical, traffic and economic considerations as a mutually beneficial arrangement and as a definite public advantage as well as a logical development of legislative policy which favors natural and voluntary selection as against arbitrary or compulsory grouping.

"Security holders of all companies may be congratulated on this development of interest in that property on the part of a great railroad organization and its eminent and able management."

The Rock Island's acquisition of the St. Louis Southwestern brings together two important roads in the Southwest with total combined assets of close to $600,000,000 and more than 10,000 miles of track.

The announcement was a complete surprise to the financial district, which had been expecting that the next move in the regrouping of southwestern railroads would be the annexation of the Rock Island by the Southern Pacific.

Belief as to Cotton Belt.

At the same time it was believed the "Cotton Belt" system was destined for inclusion in a new merger to include the Kansas City Southern, Missouri, Kansas & Texas, Frisco and other roads.

The latest development immediately aroused speculation in Wall street as to whether the combined Rock Island-St. Louis Southwestern property would be drawn into the Southern Pacific system or form the nucleus of a new consolidation.

The change in control of the St. Louis-Southwestern marks the passing from the Gould management of the last important Western railroads which still had remained under their direction. Recognition was immediately given to the Rock Island interests by the election of Charles Hayden, Marcus L. Pell, J. E. Gorman and N. D. Amster to the Cotton Belt board of directors.

The Rock Island, which emerged from receivership in 1917, has a combined capitalization and funded debt of $383,038,119, while the smaller road has $103,633,500.

Deal Surprise to Cotton Belt Officials in St. Louis.

Announcement of the acquisition of stock control of the Cotton Belt by the Rock Island was received with surprise today by officials of the Cotton Belt here. At the general offices, in the Buder Building, it was stated that the president, Daniel Upthegrove, is in New York today attending a meeting of directors there. In his absence, it was stated, no statement will be issued here.

Merger of Cotton Belt With Rock Island Not Contemplated Now.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Acquisition of control of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway by the Rock Island lines, as announced in New York today, does not carry with it a merger or consolidation at this time, it is said at the offices of the Rock Island system today.

In the absence of President J. E. Gorman, who is in New York where the change of control from the Gould to Rock Island interests was announced, local officials of the Rock Island had little information to give out.

KENDRICK TELLS OF PRYING INTO TEAPOT OIL LEASE

Wyoming Senator Testifies Rush of Independents Caused Him to Inquire Into Fall's Activities.

ZEALOUS NAVY OFFICERS 'DETACHED'

Action Was by Admiral Robinson, Because of Spirit Shown in Watching Reserve, Deposition Says.

By the Associated Press.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 11.—How the rush of independent oil operators to the Wyoming representatives in Congress caused United States Senator John B. Kendrick and Representative Frank W. Mondell to pry under the alleged cloak of secrecy concerning Secretary Fall's nominations for leasing the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve was told in deposition and testimony today in the Government's suit for cancellation of the lease.

Rear Admiral J. K. Robinson, chief of the Navy Bureau of Engineering, "detached" Commander H. A. Stuart and Lieutenant Commander John F. Shafroth from their duties in the bureau at Washington "because they were too zealous in looking after the naval oil reserve in consequence of the policy of previous administration," according to a deposition by Shafroth read by the Government this afternoon.

Kendrick, taking the stand as a Government witness, declared that on April 7, 1922, the day on which the lease to the Mammoth Oil Co. was executed, he received a request from Leslie D. Miller, Cheyenne oil man, that his application for a lease on part of the Dome be considered. Kendrick testified he transferred the request to the Department of the Interior, through his secretary, W. A. Anderson; that on April 10, three days after the lease was executed to the Mammoth company, he obtained information from H. Foster Bain, director of the Bureau of Mines, on the Government's proposal to lease the navy oil field; that on or after April 25, 1922, when reports were circulating in the press that the Government contemplated such a lease, he received a protest against the action from the Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas Producers' Association and that this also was forwarded to the Interior Department.

Introduced Senate Resolution.

The Wyoming Senator recalled how he had introduced a resolution in the Senate April 15, 1922, calling upon the Department of the Interior for information on what had been done toward leasing the dome. This was after rumors were current that a lease had been given to the Mammoth company Kendrick said.

A deposition by Anderson was read in which Anderson averred he talked to an official in the Interior Department about Miller's application on April 7, 1922, and the department official told him that no lease had been signed and that Secretary Fall would consider Miller's application.

A deposition by the then Representative Mondell, showing he received a telegram April 16 from B. B. Brooks of Cheyenne, former Governor of Wyoming, and president of the Rocky Mountain Oil & Gas Producers' Association, protesting against the "contemplated" lease and had forwarded it to the Interior Department, was read.

Prospective Bidder Testifies.

John McFaddyen of Casper, district manager of the Ohio Oil Co., one of the prospective bidders in the leasing, testified under cross-examination that his company "would not have considered negotiating for a lease as favorable to the Government as that of Sinclair."

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., March 11.—The entire plant of the Willimatic branch of the American Thread Co. closed yesterday as a result of the strike of operatives begun yesterday as a protest against a 10 per cent wage reduction imposed in January. There were but 500 of the 2500 operatives in their places when the mills opened.

Wreck of Herrin Store After Blast

By the Associated Press.

HERRIN, Ill., March 11.—The police and Sheriff have failed to find a clew to persons responsible for the explosion that wrecked the front of the H. O. Fowler store and apartment building, slightly injuring Mr. and Mrs. Fowler and badly frightening 15 other occupants of the building.

Officers expressed the belief that the charge of dynamite was set yesterday for Glenn Fowler, active Ku Klux Klansman and former lieutenant of the late S. Glenn Young, slain klan liquor raider. Fowler works in his father's store, but was absent at the time of the explosion.

Damage done to the building has not yet been estimated, but the elder Fowler said it probably would run into several thousand dollars, while nearby structures suffered a loss from broken glass which will add to the total damage.

would arrive on the scene and all would end happily. But the maneuver of Reed of Pennsylvania availed nothing against the better generalship and better luck of the Reed-Walsh forces.

Walsh promptly moved that the motion to reconsider be laid on the table. Again the vote would have been 40 to 40, but Overman, under pressure by his Democratic colleagues, went over to their side and the tally showed the Walsh motion carried by 41 to 39. The motion to reconsider was laid on the table, which meant that the nomination had been defeated.

Overman had carried out his pledge—if pledge it was—to vote for the confirmation and he had then turned around and saved the day for his Democratic colleagues. So everybody ought to be happy.

Overman, it might be said, was vaccinated on the Mayflower with the presidential virus, but the vaccination "took" only slightly. He has probably had his last trip on the Mayflower for some time.

Votes Changed by Debate.

It is not often that votes are actually changed by the debates on the Senate floor. Nearly always the result of a contest is a foregone conclusion, with the leaders on each side able to tell within one or two votes just how the tally will stand.

The Warren debate furnished a marked exception. When it started the confirmationists appeared to be considerably in the majority and Leader Curtis and the other regular Republicans were cockily confident that Warren would go over after Reed and Walsh and perhaps one or two others had entered their objections for the record.

Many of the Democrats had succumbed to the argument—an argument advanced not only by Republicans but by some big Democratic newspapers—that the Senate should not reject an appointee to the Cabinet except on grounds of moral unfitness.

Gradually through the oratorical bludgeoning of Walsh and Reed these Democrats were brought back into line and the event showed the minority presenting a solid front with sufficient reinforcements from the insurgents on the other side to thwart the President.

Reed and Walsh were both at their best in hammering home the idea of the Senate's responsibility.

Argument Against Warren.

The burden of their argument was that Warren, because of his record of service to the sugar trust, was an unfit man to place at the head of Government prosecutions of trusts. Walsh riddled the contention that the Senate should never reject a Cabinet nomination except on moral grounds. A man might have led an immaculate moral life, he pointed out, and yet be utterly unfit for high public places.

He declared that two of the heads of the Department of Justice in the last six years—A. Mitchell Palmer and Harry M. Daugherty—had been chosen for political reasons and that the result had been well nigh disastrous to the country.

Reed charged that Warren had violated the antitrust law, but that even if no such law had been on the statute books he would stand convicted of transgression against the code of fair dealing. He denounced Warren hotly as a conspirator against the people.

Few of the Republicans listened to the speeches of Reed and Walsh, but the Democrats sat through them attentively. The galleries, sensing the tension on the floor, hung on the words of the speakers. There was probably more suppressed excitement in the chamber than at any other time since the critical moments of the great fight on the League of Nations.

During the taking of the vote the Senators and galleries strained their ears to catch every response.

Reed and Walsh sat poised like boxers in their corners waiting to spring. When the result became known the galleries broke into a cheer and the Democrats swarmed about their two champions with congratulations.

Insurgents Not Tamed.

The vote belied the theory that the last election had a chastening effect on the Republican insurgents. They proved quite as recalcitrant as ever. In one way the result represented a kick-back from the recent action of the regulars in depriving the La Follette Senators of their committee assignments. All of this group, who were present, voted against the President. If the regulars had held out an olive branch, instead of engaging in reprisals, the President probably would have had one or two of their votes.

While there was no official expression on the subject, it was indicated that the President would consult with Warren, who is now in Michigan, before taking any steps. The belief was expressed by some of the President's advisers that if Warren were willing he would give him the appointment in recess. In that case the nomination would have to be resubmitted to the Senate at the next session and again run the gauntlet in that body.

The rejection came as an utter surprise to the President, who had been led to believe that nearly all the opposition would evaporate after a few speeches.

Boom for Guy D. Goff.

Several regular Republican Senators who voted for the Warren confirmation declared today that, while the President had a technical right to appoint Warren in recess, they believed it would be impolitic for him to do so. The vote in the Senate, they conceded, reflected a strong public sentiment against the nomination. In their view, the President should bow to this sentiment and send in another name.

A movement was got under way in the Senate to induce the President to nominate Guy D. Goff, the new Senator from West Virginia and a former Assistant Attorney-General. The nomination of Senator Goff, it was pointed out, probably would be confirmed without much delay, under the unwritten rule of the Senate which gives preferential treatment to its own members.

Dawes Takes Taxicab.

While leaders on both sides were sending pages scurrying in search of one or two absentees and were eagerly watching the entrance doors, a drama little less stirring was being enacted behind the scenes. When it became apparent early in the roll call that the result would be extremely close, Vice President Dawes was summoned on the telephone. He was urged not to wait for his official car, but to get a taxicab and make all haste.

His secretary, E. Ross Bartley, meanwhile hurried to the main floor entrance, stopped the taxicab before it reached the Senate portecochere and hurried the Vice President to an elevator that had been waiting on signal from Senator Cameron (Rep.), Arizona, who had stationed himself on the front portico.

But Dawes arrived in time only to hear the result on the second vote, where his presence was of no avail because of the switch in ballot by Senator Overman.

Just before the vote on confirmation, the two Senators from Michigan—Couzens (Rep.) and Ferris (Dem.)—voiced their opposition to the nomination.

Couzens' Reason for Opposing.

Couzens said he did not believe Warren would inspire confidence as Attorney-General.

"I would not hesitate to put Mr. Warren in the Department of Justice," he said, "if I were going to have the right to watch him and follow him. I would not hesitate to say that under those circumstances he would do his duty."

Ferris said he had known Warren for many years and esteemed him very highly.

"But," he added, "the information brought out here is of such a character as to make me feel that I owe it to the State of Michigan and to the people of the United States to vote against him."

TWO MORE EGAN GANG MEMBERS SENTENCED

Leonard and Martin Get Six Years Each for Pocahontas (Ill.) Mail Robbery.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 11.—Edward (Cocky) Leonard and Bartley Martin, members of the Egan gang of St. Louis, were sentenced each to six years in the Federal penitentiary for participation in the Pocahontas, Ill., mail robbery of June 15, 1923.

The two men entered pleas of guilty yesterday and sentence was deferred, but because of their expressed eagerness to get out of Sangamon County jail into Leavenworth, Federal Judge Fitz Henry passed sentence today. Dinty Colbeck, leader of the Egan gang and eight of his henchmen are now serving time at Leavenworth for other mail robberies.

Leonard and Martin have been in jail since Feb. 2 when they were arrested in St. Louis. The indictments were returned March 5 and included as defendants Colbeck and Oliver Dougherty, now in prison, as well as Lee Turner, gangster-aviator, and William Engler, a fugitive from justice.

The robbery at Pocahontas occured while an elderly mail messenger was wheeling two pouches of mail, containing $4000 cash, from a morning train. Four men in an automobile kidnaped the messenger and Turner's airplane was wrecked on a nearby farm. It is understood that Ray Renard, whose testimony resulted in previous convictions of Egan gangsters, gave the grand jury information which resulted in the belated indictments.

Leonard and Martin told Judge FitzHenry they wanted to be sentenced and sent to prison immediately. They were willing to pay their own railroad fare rather than wait, they said, and it is expected they will be taken there under guard within 24 hours.

JEWELER'S BILL FOLLOWED GIFT OF HONOR MEDAL

Frederick Monsen, Explorer, Tells of Embarrassment After Decoration in Venezuela.

How Cipriano Castro, then dictator of Venezuela, decorated him with the Order of Bolivar, was told at Washington University Medical School Auditorium last night by Frederick Monsen, the explorer, when speaking before the Washington University Association.

"I had undertaken a bit of exploration," Monsen said. "Only 80 miles across land to a river. But white man had not been there before and President Castro said it couldn't be done. It only took three weeks. It hadn't been done because no one before me had tried.

"Imagine my surprise when I returned to Caracas to be summoned to a reception given by the President in my honor.

"Imagine my chagrin when he summoned me to his side and pinned upon my breast the Order of Bolivar.

"But that was nothing to my embarrassment next day when I received a bill of 80 pesos from the jeweler. He wanted to be paid for the insignia."

County officials stated today that he reported faithfully once each term through three terms of court, as required by law. Under his parole, Milliken promised to stay out of Missouri unless permitted by the Parole Board to return on brief business visits. He now lives at the Forest Park Hotel.

DENNISTOUN DIVORCE VALID, DEFENSE ADMITS

Plaintiff in Suit Against Army Officer Rests Her Case.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 11.—Mrs. Ian Onslow Dennistoun, through her counsel, rested her case against her former husband Lieutenant-Colonel Dennistoun, shortly after the opening of court today in continuation of the trial of her claim for money she alleges she loaned him prior to their divorce.

Sir Edward Marshall Hall, counsel for Col. Dennistoun, today admitted the validity of the divorce obtained by Mrs. Dennistoun in Paris in 1921, after the presiding Judge had pointed out that to declare this divorce invalid would open up the question of the subsequent marriage of Col. Dennistoun to the widow of the Earl of Carnarvon, discoverer of the tomb of King Tutankhamen.

Col. Dennistoun's counsel during yesterday's proceedings had maintained that the divorce was not valid.

Defense Outlines Case.

Counsellor Norman Birkett, outlining the case for the defense, told the jury the former Countess Carnarvon would have settled the controversy but despite "the unspeakable anguish" which the proceedings caused her and Col Dennistoun, they had determined "to take their present and their future in their hands and fight in order that they should have no further demands made upon them."

Col. Dennistoun, the counsellor said, denied he had promised his former wife he would provide for her after their divorce, or had ever agreed to any provision for her maintenance.

Turning to the plaintiff's allegation that husband and wife had agreed for her to become the mistress of Sir John Cowans, former British Quartermaster General, in order to obtain military preferment for Dennistoun, Birkett declared it to be false.

"It is utterly untrue," the counsellor added, "that there was a cold and calculated bargain under which the wife paid the price."

Lady Carnarvon Distressed.

Once during the outbursts between Sir George Lewis and Sir Edward Marshal Hall yesterday when Sir George said that if the case had not been fought the name of the former Dowager Countess Carnarvon would never have been mentioned, the former Countess, who was seated with her husband at the counsel table, became distressed and buried her face in her hands.

In the course of the testimony it transpired that Dennistoun became entitled to £10,000 sterling after the suit was begun last September owing to the death of his father.

JURY FINDS MAN CHARGED WITH ROBBERY TO BE INSANE

A jury in the Circuit Court at Belleville yesterday afternoon returned a verdict finding Robert Comisky, 30 years old, who was under indictment on a charge of robbery with a deadly weapon to be insane. He was ordered committed to the Insane Hospital at Menard, Ill., by Judge Crow.

Comisky was indicted with William Sherman and George Blunfor the holding up of John Ward an East St. Louis saloonist, last fall and robbing him of $65. Sherman pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of from 10 years to life in the Pontiac Reformatory and a jury which tried Blum failed to agree and he will be given a new trial.

Comisky on Feb. 22 attempted to end his life by hanging himself in his cell at the county jail.

$25,000 JEWEL HOLDUP BRINGS MRS. PERKINS' HUSBAND HOME

While Police Seek Leader of Robber Trio, Victim and Estranged Mate Become Reconciled.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Detectives are searching for "a gray-haired man with a flat nose," as the leader of a masked trio which invaded the apartment of Mrs. Beatrice Fay Perkins Monday morning, attacked her and Milton Abbott, cotton broker, and stole $25,000 worth of her jewels.

This meager description was the only clew they had of the identity of the trio. It was furnished by Mrs. Perkins. She had seen that hair and nose when the silk handkerchief momentarily slipped from the face of the man who was slugging her with a pistol butt and snatching at her jewels as Abbott lay near by, already beaten into unconsciousness.

While police spread their dragnet and Abbott scanned the rogues' gallery in the hope that he might recognize the photograph of one of his assailants, a reconciliation was taking place at Mrs. Perkins' apartment.

She had married Benjamin Perkins, wealthy restauranteur of this city, at Chicago in 1918, when she was 17 years old. He, a native of California, had met her at Kansas City, where she lived with her parents, and was known as "Jay Finke." For several years, however, they had been estranged.

When reporters called at Mrs Perkins' home yesterday they were smilingly greeted by her husband. He announced their quarrel had been patched up, and declared: "It's an ill wind,' you know."

Unable to Work, Woman Ends Life

CENTRALIA, Ill., March 11.—Gladys Grace Collinsworth 28 years old, took poison that resulted in her death early Monday because she was unable properly to do her work at the Centralia Envelop Co. plant., where she was employed until Saturday night, it developed today with the completion of the Coroner's inquest. The woman told a physician who attended her that she was physically unable to perform the duties at the factory and preferred to die. She carried a small insurance policy, the suicide clause of which would have been voided in one more day.

State Radio Used by Baker's Secretary in Offering for Sale His Optimism Airy.

LeRoy Huron Kelsey, secretary to Gov. Baker, is "proud to be known as the Edgar A. Guest of Missouri." With a volume of "Poems of Optimism" to sell at $1 each, a mimeographing machine handy, and a State broadcasting station—WOS, Jefferson City—at his disposal, Kelsey is trying to do credit to the nickname a Kansas City columnist gave him a year or so ago.

About once each week WOS sends into the evening air a half dozen or so of Kelsey's optimistic creations, read by the author. Then the announcer states that for a 2-cent stamp "the Eddie Guest of Missouri" will send a copy of any of his poems—2 cents per poem—to any point in the United States. A mimeograph in the Secretary of State's office grinds out the lyrics and duplicates a letter which each inquirer gets. The letter calls attention to "Poems of Optimism," published some time ago by a Kansas City firm, a beautifully bound volume, which will be sent postpaid upon receipt of $2."

Kelsey does not think he is misusing State property. College professors and such are permitted to broadcast their ideas—why not poems? The sale of books is a personal matter between author and admirer. There is no profit in it, said Kelsey, for from $00 inquiries received in the past month, a mere handful of books were sold. What poetry Kelsey writes now, he asserted, is written when off duty. The mimeographing is done after office hours by a clerk, paid by Kelsey.

MRS. SHELP SAYS WADE CALLED TO 'STRAIGHTEN RUF'

Plaintiff Testifies in Suit to Break Will of Wealthy Patent Medicine Manufacturer.

MRS. RUF ALSO ON THE STAND

Asserts She Opposed Marriage of Niece to Shelp Because "Girl Was So Young."

Testimony ended today in the trial at Clayton of the suit of Mrs. Willard B. Shelp Jr. to establish her claim, as an adopted daughter, to a half share of the $2,500,000 estate of her uncle, Frank A. Ruf, patent medicine manufacturer, who died in 1923. Arguments will be heard Saturday, after which Judge Wurdeman will take the case under advisement.

In a short talk to counsel, Judge Wurdeman reminded them that the law required the plaintiff in such a case as this, where no adoption papers had been signed, to present an overwhelming amount of evidence to substantiate a claim that a state of adoption existed. The burden of proof in this case, he added, was even heavier on the plaintiff as it had not been proved she had taken the name of her alleged foster parents.

The 26-year-old plaintiff appeared this morning as one of the witnesses in rebuttal of testimony by defense witnesses. Some of her testimony contradicted that given last week by Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co., which, as trustee of Ruf's will, is a defendant in her suit.

Wade's Testimony.

Wade had testified he had known Ruf for 30 years and had seen him intoxicated only once in that period, his one lapse from sobriety coming in 1915, when Wade, Mrs. Ruf and a nurse accompanied Ruf in a private car to a Battle Creek sanitarium.

Mrs. Shelp, however, recalled another time when she said Wade saw Ruf intoxicated. She said she and her uncle were at the Ruf home, 5863 Cabanne avenue, one evening in the fall of 1918, when Wade called.

"I've come, Frank, to see that you straighten up," Wade said, according to the witness.

Ruf, who was "very, very much intoxicated," replied: "Who the hell's business is it what I do, anyway."

The witness said she then left Wade and Ruf together. Later that year, Mrs. Ruf returned from a trip East and Ruf again "followed Wade's advice" and went to Battle Creek, she said.

Example of Generosity.

As an example of Ruf's generosity toward her, prior to her marriage, which displeased him, the witness said she and he were standing in front of a department store display window one day, gazing at an evening wrap, priced $1200.

"Would you like to have that, Babe?" Ruf inquired.

"I sure would; it's beautiful," the girl replied. So they went inside, she testified, and Ruf was about to make the purchase when Mrs. Ruf happened along and stopped him, on the ground the wrap could not be worn often enough to justify the price.

Denies Introduction as Niece.

Mrs. Shelp denied being introduced as a niece on two occasions by Mrs. Ruf, as had been testified. As for the testimony of a cousin and another niece of Ruf that they had resided at the Ruf home at various times and had been treated similarly to her, she said she had never seen them at the home. She also denied testimony by Mrs. Ruf that she had said she wanted to live at the Ruf home, to avoid working for a living.

Willard B. Shelp Jr., her husband, was another rebuttal witness. He testified that he met Mrs. Ruf by appointment on the mezzanine floor of Hotel Statler in December, 1919.

"Mrs. Ruf told me she had made up her mind to tell me a few things I might not know about her niece, whom I was engaged to marry," Shelp testified. "She said her niece possibly had inherited a taste for liquor, and asked me not to let her take a drink. There was also a discussion about our wedding plans, and I said Alpha wanted to be married at her home, the Ruf residence."

Asked About Nephew.

At another point in the cross-examination, Mrs. Ruf was asked how her husband, who died in 1923, regarded Edward A. Ruf, a nephew who resided at the Ruf home during part of the years that the niece stayed there.

"Mr. Ruf loved Ed just as much as Alpha, and I do, too."

"Did you ever run Ed Ruf out of your house?"

"No. I told him once that he'd better go away for a little while."

"Isn't it a fact you told him to sleep in the stable?"

"No."

Edward A. Ruf and two brothers were bequeathed $5000 each in Ruf's will, which ignored Mrs. Shelp. The bulk of the estate, derived from Ruf's patent medicine business, was left in trust for the

As an example of Ruf's generosity toward her, prior to her marriage, which displeased him, the witness said she and he were standing in front of a department store display window one day, gazing at an evening wrap, priced $1200.

"Would you like to have that, Babe?" Ruf inquired.

"I sure would; it's beautiful," the girl replied. So they went inside, she testified, and Ruf was about to make the purchase when Mrs. Ruf happened along and stopped him, on the ground the wrap could not be worn often enough to justify the price.

Denies Introduction as Niece.

Mrs. Shelp denied being introduced as a niece on two occasions by Mrs. Ruf, as had been testified. As for the testimony of a cousin and another niece of Ruf that they had resided at the Ruf home at various times and had been treated similarly to her, she said she had never seen them at the home. She also denied testimony by Mrs. Ruf that she had said she wanted to live at the Ruf home, to avoid working for a living.

Willard B. Shelp Jr., her husband, was another rebuttal witness. He testified that he met Mrs. Ruf by appointment on the mezzanine floor of Hotel Statler in December, 1919.

"Mrs. Ruf told me she had made up her mind to tell me a few things I might not know about her niece, whom I was engaged to marry," Shelp testified. "She said her niece possibly had inherited a taste for liquor, and asked me not to let her take a drink. There was also a discussion about our wedding plans, and I said Alpha wanted to be married at her home, the Ruf residence."

Asked About Nephew.

At another point in the cross-examination, Mrs. Ruf was asked how her husband, who died in 1923, regarded Edward A. Ruf, a nephew who resided at the Ruf home during part of the years that the niece stayed there.

"Mr. Ruf loved Ed just as much as Alpha, and I do, too."

"Did you ever run Ed Ruf out of your house?"

"No. I told him once that he'd better go away for a little while."

"Isn't it a fact you told him to sleep in the stable?"

"No."

Edward A. Ruf and two brothers were bequeathed $5000 each in Ruf's will, which ignored Mrs. Shelp. The bulk of the estate, derived from Ruf's patent medicine business, was left in trust for the widow, with charities to get it at her death.

Mrs. Ruf on Stand.

Mrs. Ruf, widow of the multimillionaire, was the final witness for the defense yesterday and told of conversations she had with Shelp prior to his marriage to her niece in 1920.

"Yes, he came to me and asked my consent to his marriage to Alpha," Mrs. Ruf said, in reply to a question. "I told him to ask the girl's own mother, Mrs. Albert H. Adams, as it was none of my business who she married and I had nothing to say about it."

"But you did oppose the marriage?"

"I opposed the marriage because the girl was so young, only 20, and was accustomed to better surroundings than I believed Shelp could give her."

Ruf's Drinking Discussed.

Asked if her husband was frequently intoxicated, as has been charged, Mrs. Ruf replied, "No, not very." She admitted a nurse had been attending him at his home in 1917 for four months prior to his going to a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich.

Blame for Ruf's drinking was attributed in part by his widow to Dr. John W. Cox., Ruf's wealthy business partner, who, she added, was a "bad influence" on Ruf in that respect.

"Have you said Dr. Cox was always intoxicated?"

"No, I said he was never sober."

A letter written in 1918 by Mrs. Ruf to her neighbor, Mrs. Georgella M. Riddle, 5878 Cabanne avenue, in which she said, "I expect to have a nice time tomorrow—Dr. Cox is always so funny" was read. Mrs. Ruf conceded Cox is "very funny."

Dr. Cox Laughs.

Dr. Cox, seated in a front row of the courtroom, laughed heartily. A small, white-haired man of 68 years, he was attired in a frock coat, the lapel of which held a violet. He cupped his hands to his ears to hear the testimony bearing on his long association with Ruf.

The marriage of Miss Hatch to Shelp took place at the home of Mrs. Riddle. Mrs. Ruf has not spoken to Mrs. Riddle since that time.

Dr. Cox was a frequent visitor at the Ruf home and was "always drinking," Mrs. Ruf said. She was asked if her sudden return home from the East on one occasion was due to her having received a letter from Mrs. Riddle, advising her that Miss Hatch and Ruf were alone in the house, except for servants. She denied this, explaining she had returned as she heard Dr. Cox was there and she knew "by instinct" that he and Ruf would take to drinking.

The witness was asked if Ruf, before his marriage to her in 1897 was a friend of her sister, the mother of Alpha. She said they were "just passing acquaintances." She said she did not know whether her sister had met Ruf while he was a clerk here in Alexander's drug store, before he and others organized the Antikamnia Remedy Co. and made fortunes.

Denies Adoption Plan.

In her direct testimony, Mrs. Ruf denied that she or her husband had ever considered adopting Alpha, had ever referred to her as their daughter or had given her or anyone else reason to regard her as an adopted child. She said Alpha was treated much the same as Ruf's other relatives, including his nephews.

WIFE LEFT THIRD OF $30,000,000 ESTATE TO ST. CYR

wife had died but a few months before. The first Mrs. St. Cyr had been Mrs. Caroline Redfield, more than twice his age, at time of their marriage in 1909. She was considered wealthy, but her children shared the estate with the young husband, and his inheritance from her came to less than $100,000.

Introduced to Widow.

At Palm Beach, in the early spring, the young widower—he was then 23—made himself known as a lavish entertainer. Maj. Gray Pendlpton of Philadelphia, cousin of the first Mrs. John Jacob Astor, was one of those with whom the young man ingratiated himself, and one day he interrupted a conversation between Maj. Pendleton and Mrs. Smith, in a manner that brought an introduction to the rich widow.

Their mariage at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., came with the waning of the Palm Beach season. He appeared in the license record as Jean Harald Edward St. Cyr, native of France, 39 years old, and the bride gave her age as 47, a palpable under statement, in view of the date of her first marriage, 36 years before.

A picture of St. Cyr, published in the Post-Dispatch, brought a solution of the mystery of St. Cyr's identity. He was recognized by former neighbors as John Henry Edward Thompson, native of Waco, and it was learned that he had been a newsboy, department store clerk, hotel clerk and chorus man before his change of name and his first marriage.

The developments showing the young man's identity proved more startling than had the marriage itself. "We were all taken in," said one of his Palm Beach friends, and Maj. Pendleton, in particular felt it necessary to make explanation to the former Mrs. Smith as to the rather unwilling part which he had in introducing St. Cyr to her.

But the wife received the explanation with no apparent regret. "I don't care what they say about him" she was quoted as remarking, "so long as they don't call me an old woman."

Bayfield, formerly of Chicago, declined to state his reasons for selling the Majestic. The transfer became effective immediately.

SLEEPING CAR EPISODE DENIED BY MRS. STOKES

On Witness Stand, Wife of Millionaire Contradicts Testimony Regarding Man in Her Berth.

ARGUMENTS TO JURY ON THIS AFTERNOON

Several Witnesses Refute Statements Ascribed to Them in Charges Made by Defendant.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes of Denver was called to the witness stand this morning in the trial of her husband, W. E. D. Stokes, charged with conspiracy to defame her.

Her appearance on the witness stand marked a departure under the Illinois statutes, which prohibit a wife from testifying against her husband. Judge Gemmill ruled that her testimony should be so circumscribed that it would not be evidence against her husband, but rather a defense of attacks on her good name.

Mrs. Stokes was on the witness stand 30 minutes and was not cross-examined. She made a general denial of all accusations made by Stokes and J. P. Burke and C. V. Hanson, Chicago sleeping car conductors, who testified she had traveled overnight with men companions.

She was followed on the witness stand by her motehr, Mrs. Arthur Scott Miller of Denver.

Never Inmate of Resort.

Mrs. Stokes also denied statements of Stokes as to occurrences in their New York home New Year's eve, 1919, when Stokes testified, she twice appeared partly disrobed before her young cousin, Hal K. Billig of Chicago, which, the aged defendant testified, was followed by their final separation Jan. 19, 1919.

Mrs. Stokes said that she never had ridden on a train with any man other than her husband and that she invariably traveled with a woman companion.

She denied she ever had been an inmate of the Everleigh Club, notorious a decade ago in the night life of Chicago. It was investigation of such alleged information that led to the present trial of Stokes and Robert F. Lee, Chicago negro.

Mrs. Stokes testified that she never had taken the train from Denver upon which Burke said she rode to Chicago with a man she introduced as Billig.

She denied that she had traveled from Chicago to Denver with her children in 1922 as testified by Burke, who said that was what made Mrs. Stokes a figure in his memory.

Admits Scratching Husband.

"The children were wards of the Denver court," she said. "And I could not have taken them from the State."

Mrs. Stokes said that Stokes left her Jan. 8, 1919, as against his statement of Jan. 1, as the final day of their life together.

She identified a diamond ring as a present to her after the Jan. 1 fixed by Stokes.

"Yes, I did scratch him," admitted Mrs. Stokes. "He was trying to choke me and I defended myself in that manner."

"Mr. Stokes left the house," said Mrs. Stokes in reply to a question as to who was responsible for the separation. "I did not know he was leaving. He said nothing about it."

Divorce Documents Barred.

Mrs. Stokes was asked to remove her hat and displayed a mass of unbobbed, titian hair. She denied that she ever had had it doctored or that it was of different color now from what it was when she was married.

She spoke in a low voice, with a glance occasionally at her huge, gray-haired husband.

She was dressed in a blue tailored, fur-trimmed suit, with a tight blue hat that came well down over her face.

Mrs. Miller was asked only a few questions regarding the presence of the children at the time the sleeping car conductor said their playfulness attracted him to Mrs. Stokes. She said they were in her Denver home.

The prosecution tried unsuccessfully to have introduced documents presented in Stokes' unsuccessful divorce suit, but was overruled, and rested its case.

Hearing of testimony was concluded at 12:20 p. m. and after brief questioning of Stokes this afternoon, argument was begun. Assistant State's Attorney Smith opening.

Dr. Hall C. Billig of Chicago, father of Hal K., testified his son was not out of Chicago, except for short week-end trips, during 1922, the latter part of which was fixed by two sleeping car conductors as the time Billig traveled from Denver to Chicago and Chicago to Denver with Mrs. Stokes.

Norman G. Fortney and W. C. Gibson, neighbors of the Billigs, testified in corroboration of the statements of Dr. Billig.

Leon Diggs, negro actor, was recalled to the witness stand for completion of his cross-examination started yesterday. He testified that while he had signed an affidavit mentioning Mrs. Stokes he did not know her and had not read the statement before signing it.

The next five witnesses denied the testimony of Stokes in which he had detailed conversations he had with them and various clews they had given him in his investigation of information that his wife formerly was an inmate of the once notorious Everleigh Club in Chicago.

Etta Wright, formerly maid at the Everleigh Club and caretaker there for several years after it was closed a decade ago, denied Stokes had discussed Mrs. Stokes, Helen Underwood or any other woman with her.

"Did you ever tell Mr. Stokes if that vase could talk it could tell who killed Marshal Field Jr." was asked the negress, referring to testimony of Stokes. "I positively did not," was the reply.

The Wright woman denied that she ever had known Mrs. Stokes or any woman under the name of any of the aliases mentioned in Stokes' investigation which led to the present trial. She admitted that she had sold Stokes a vase from the Everleigh Club for $20, he saying he wanted it for a souvenir.

"Dropped Many a Dollar There."

"Mr. Stokes said he had dropped many a dollar there," testified the former Everleigh Club caretaker.

Harry Emond, tailor; Dr. Maurice Rosenberg, former house physician at the Everleigh Club, and Anna Johnson and Lucille Harrison, the last two negresses, voiced a steady stream of "I did nots" as Milton D. Smith, Assistant State's Attorney, read statements from the testimony of Stokes. Emond denied he had given Stokes any information about the alleged murder of Marshall Field Jr., or passed him on to any one in pursuit of his investigation of Mrs. Stokes.

Rosenberg denied the statements of Stokes that the doctor had offered to accept $25,000 and whisper words to Mrs. Stokes which would make her disappear, that he ever had treated her professionally while she was an inmate of the Everleigh Club or that he was acquainted with Mrs. Stokes.

Hal K. Billig denied from the witness stand yesterday that he ever had traveled with Mrs. Stokes.

Billig also denied testimony of Stokes that he had been driven from the Stokes' New York home by the 73-year-old defendant on New Year's eve, 1919, the date of the Stokes' final separation, after Mrs. Stokes twice had appeared before him in dishabille. He said, however, he had left the Stokes' home after Stokes had remarked to a nurse that it appeared as if conditions were such that he would "have to sit up all night."

ALOE IS 5 TO 4 FAVORITE, SAYS BETTING COMMISSIONER

Wagers Thus Far Favor Miller to Run Second, Grimm Third, Kearney Reports.

Tom Kearney, a betting commissioner, said today that wagers on the Republican mayoralty race thus far favor Louis P. Aloe to win the nomination; Victor J. Miller to run second and former Circuit Judge J. Hugo Grimm to run third.

Aloe is a 5-to-4 favorite to win, with no betting on the possibility that he will run second or third. Miller is 2½ to 1 to win and 3 to 5 to finish second. Grimm is 3 to 1 to win and even money to finish second.

In each case quoted the odds dictate that the second figure is laid against the first. Thus Aloe backers would bet $4 and win $5 if he wins. Miller backers will bet $1 to win $2.50 if he is nominated, and Grimm supporters will receive $3 for their $1 wager if he wins.

PSEUDO PROHIBITION AGENTS ROUTED ON DEMANDING DRINKS

Two men, who entered the lunch room conducted by Frank Pisholte at 3144 Cherokee street, at 7 p. m. yesterday, representing themselves as prohibition enforcement officers, one of them displaying a badge, were put to flight by Pisholte's son, Gus, who drew a revolver when he doubted they were officers. The men ran when their authority was questioned after they demanded that Pisholte "trot out the liquor," and they had been told there was none.

Ten minutes before, they had struck Joseph Wrodleski, a grocer next door, when he insisted that he had no liquor on his premises. Wrodleski was not injured.

AUTO USED BY ROBBERS FOUND

The automobile used by six masked robbers in holding up a policeman and a messenger of the Liberty Central Trust Co. yesterday was found abandoned by the police last night in front of 1920 North Eleventh street. The car, a Packard sport model, was taken from Millard A. Waldheim by two men who held him up in front of his home at 4522 Lindell boulevard, Feb. 15, and made him drive to Taylor avenue and Forest Park place.

The machine, when found by the police, bore stolen Illinois license plates. In the robbery at 10:20 a. m. yesterday, the robbers disarmed Patrolman Joseph Dunn of Central District and escaped with $5375, which John Meeks, a messenger for the bank, was carrying. Dunn was acting as a guard for Meeks.

CHINESE, SON OF JERSEY GIRL, HEIR TO FORTUNE

Death of Chin Nom, Wealthy Merchant, Discloses Story of Former Almshouse Waif.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 11.—It's the story of Willie Chin, whose mother was white. Willie didn't know the story himself until yesterday when the excitement had ended over the death and burial of Chin Nom, wealthy Chinese merchant of Mott street, whom Willie had always called "Pop."

Willie thought his mother was the tiny woman with the carved yellow face who sat in a cheap rocking chair gazing silently at the smoke spirals from the joss-sticks burning in front of "Pop's" picture. She was in black silk kimona and trousers of China. Her hair, still shiny black, was tied tightly in a knot behind her head. Her dark eyes bore an expression of pain.

Beside her, sitting awkwardly in that room of Occidental furniture and Oriental grief, were Charlie Yung, her son-in-law, round faced Jessie, her daughter, and Chin Bing, whom she adopted only two years ago. There also was Willie, in his blue suit with the wide black band.

Tells Willie Story of Himself.

It was into this group that Miss Frances Day, superintendent of the New Jersey State Board of Guardians, came. She was the woman to whom Chin Nom had gone 10 years ago to get a Chinese child to adopt, and she had given him Willie Chin.

The graven figure in the arm-chair nodded to her. Chin Nom's widow had not seen her for years, but had not forgotten. Miss Day ran her hand over the wiry hair of Willie Chin.

"Are you happy?" she asked.

"I miss Pop terrible," he said, and then began to cry.

In the uneasy shadows from the candles, beside the portrait on the mantelpiece showing the round blank face of the Chinese who had been Chin Nom, the widow rocked. She nodded as Miss Day turned to leave.

"No clan sleak," she offered.

Willie was not surprised when he heard the story of himself, by which he passed from an almshouse waif to the position where, at the death of Chin Nom's widow, he will inherit one-third of more than $1,000,000. Willie is 10, but 10 years is a lot in Chinatown.

"Sure, I know," he said and nodded.

"The Chink" Sent to Prison.

It was in the late summer of 1914 that a young girl, daughter of prideful tradespeople in Harrison, N. J., entered the laundry of William Kee, "The Chink's," when he offered her candy. Next April the young girl was taken to a hospital in another part of the State. There Willie Chin was born. The girl shrieked when he was brought to her. The girl's family claimed her and moved from Harrison. Neither they nor the girl enter the story again. William Kee, "The Chink," was sent to prison for a long term.

Willie Chin was placed in the Hudson County Almshouse and the name "Willie," which was all he went by, was entered on the files of the State Board of Children's Guardians.

Chin Nom, head of an honorable family but without a male child to warm his heart, was told of "Willie" by Judge Joseph Farmer of Jersey City, who knows Chinese. He adopted Willie. Two years later the laundryman father sought to regain Willie through the courts and failed.

Chin Nom, 66 years old, worshipful master of the Eastern division of the Chinese Masons, owner of a chain of Chinese import stores from New York to San Francisco, died Friday, after making a final appeal to the members of the On Leong and Hip Sing tongs not to break out into open warfare again. He was buried Monday.

What is your Cell Number?

FRANKLY, I have put the question this way to flag your attention, as your eye scans this big page. I refer, of course, to the number of the battery which fits your flashlight.

The longest-lasting, brightest-burning batteries, of course, are Eveready. The small cell is No. 935, and the large one is No. 950. Look on the side of your Eveready flashlight to find your cell number. Then you won't have to tote your flashlight along when you buy new batteries. WIDOW CLAIMS HALF OF F. C. RIDDLE ESTATE

They Were Separated 20 Years and He Left Her $125 Monthly Income.

A claim for a dower interest of one-half the estate of the late Frank C. Riddle, president of the Riddle and Bro. Casket Co., was filed in Probate Court today by Mrs. Georgella Riddle, his widow. Mrs. Riddle, who became separated from Riddle 20 years before his death, also asked for an immediate allowance of $5000 for present needs.

Riddle in his will filed last week placed his stock in the casket company in trust for Mrs. Riddle, who is to receive $125 a month from the trust in pursuance to their separation agreement. Any other income from the stock is to be divided betwen Miss Lillian Neal, vice president of the casket company and a trustee in the will, and Miss Marian Riddle of Hollywood, Cal., a niece of Riddle. The residue of the estate is also to be divided between Miss Riddle and Miss Neal.

Mrs. Riddle seeks in her claim to get one-half the estate as provided by law for a widow, but the trustees will contend that the separation agreement which she signed, eliminated her right to a dower interest.

TWO DEAD IN DOMESTIC ROW

Man, Said to Have Killed Wife, Is Slain by Father-in-Law.

By the Associated Press.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 11.—Clyde Porter, 33 years old, and his wife, Cevia, 28, are dead after a tragedy at their home near Post, this County, and John Zinn, 58, father of Mrs. Porter, surrendered at the Sheriff's office, early today.

Porter is alleged to have shot his wife with a revolver three times about 2 o'clock this morning, and Zinn, hearing of the tragedy, armed with a shotgun, went to his son-in-law's home. Porter is alleged to have met him at the door with a revolver in his hand. Zinn killed Porter.

CHILDREN MOURN FOR 'LANDLADY BOUNTIFUL'

Mrs. Annie Laurie Bradley, 82, Remembered Tenants' Youngsters With Gifts.

The death of Mrs. Annie Laurie Bradley at her home, 1618 North Euclid avenue, yesterday, marked the passing of a St. Louis property owner who always welcomed tenants with children and never increased her rents.

Her death, at 3 a. m., resulted from pneumonia, which followed complications brought about by the infirmities of age. She was 82 years old, and during the last two years of her life had been unable to get about to look after the welfare of her renters in person as she had previously insisted upon doing.

Gifts to Children.

For many years Mrs. Bradley had been known far and wide as one "landlord" who was always ready to grant an extension of time when a tenant found times hard and who never failed to remember each child of renting families with a dollar at Christmas time and a quarter apiece on the Fourth of July. Usually her Christmas gifts to the children alone totaled about $50, aside from other gifts to the tenants.

Mrs. Bradley often declared it was her love for children that prevented her from increasing rents, even when she found it hard to make ends meet with the income that her nine residences and three flats afforded.

"I would rather deny myself luxuries," she would say, "than take money in rents which might cause some child to be deprived of comforts."

Estate Valued at $75,000.

Mrs. Bradley began the management of her estate in 1918, upon the death of her husband, Richard Bradley, a former court stenographer. She continued to conduct her affairs until about 18 months ago when she was incapacitated by illness and W. H. Corcoran was appointed guardian.

It was not until the property was no longer in her hands that rents were increased. According to Corcoran, increases were then necessary to protect the estate and provide necessaries of life for the owner who had denied them to herself. The value of the estate is understood to be about $75,000. She had no income other than her rentals and this was largely consumed by taxes and improvements made on property from time to time for the comfort of the tenants.

Before the guardian's appointment her rents averaged about $25 a month for residences and flats ranging from three to six rooms. Many were as low as $18 and the highest charge was $30. Now the charges range from $25 up to $50.

Mrs. Bradley's affection for children was expressed in other ways than in preference for renting families who had them. She never had a child of her own, but she reared and educated 11 in all—four children of a brother and seven of a sister. All these are now grown and all live in other cities except one nephew, Donald Kellogg, who with his wife and one child, resides at Mrs. Bradley's home. Mr. and Mrs. Paris Osbourn and two children, tenants to whom she became attached, also occupy part of the house at the Euclid avenue address.

To the 11 children reared by Mrs. Bradley, it is understood, most of her estate is left in her will.

MORE CANDIDATES DECLARE IN FAVOR OF PLAZA PLAN

Grimm, Hall and Miller Among Those Going on Record in Answer to Committee's Query.

Additional replies from candidates for public office, as to their attitude towards the Memorial Plaza plan under the bond issue, have been received by the Memorial Plaza Committee, and all committed themselves to support of the project. The purpose of the committee is to put those candidates, who will win in the election, on record, to defeat any later attempt of interests inimical to the plaza plan.

Three Republican candidates for the mayoralty who sent "yes" answers were J. Hugo Grimm, Judge Robert W. Hall and Victor J. Miller. The other Republicans, Louis B. Aloe and George Dieckman, had answered in the same way previously. One Democratic candidate has answered "yes," Patrick J. Cavanaugh, but William L. Igoe and James W. Byrnes have not answered yet.

Comptroller Nolte, Republican, seeking re-election, also sent a favorable reply, with the remark that his support would be given "as far as the power granted under the Charter will permit me." The other candidates for this office, Eugene J. Sartorius, Democrat, and George S. Tourville, Socialist, had answered in the affirmative.

Others Replying Favorably.

Aldermanic candidates who sent favorable replies, in addition to those previously announced, were:

First Ward, George E. Selzer (R.), Lloyd T. Watkins (D.).

Third Ward, Diedrich Onken (S.).

Seventh Ward, Henry Wander (R.), incumbent.

Ninth Ward, Andrew A. Koettker (R.), George Sudhoff (D.).

Thirteenth Ward, Joseph F. Chartrand (D.).

Fifteenth Ward, Arthur Kramer (R.), Otto C. Oehler (R.), Mrs. Emma M. Huss (S.) Kramer commented: "I'm heartily in favor of carrying out all bond issue projects, as voted by the people."

Seventeenth Ward, William M. Runge (R.), John P. Cunningham, (D.).

Twenty-third Ward, John M. Casey (R.), Harry Felberbaum (R.).

Twenty-seventh Ward, August Grahn (S.).

Many Still Unheard From.

Thirty-one candidates for places as Aldermen on the three tickets remain to be heard from, including six incumbents, seeking re-election, whose votes have been favorable to the plaza project, and one incumbent who voted in favor of keeping the courthouse on Broadway. The only other candidates remaining to be heard from are the two Democrats running for the mayoralty nomination.

All candidates for office have received questionnaires from the American Women's Council of Justice, the apparent object of which is to promote sentiment diametrically opposed to the plaza support being fostered by the Memorial Plaza Committee.

Queries in Questionnaire.

Questions it asks are:

1. Are you favorable to early action for improvement of the downtown river front?

2. If so, are you favorable to commencement of such work being paid for by funds provided in item eight of the bond issue?

3. Are you favorable to building the new auditorium provided for in item 13 of the bond issue on the river front?

4. Are you favorable to the stabilization of downtown property values and the rejuvenation of the business district east of Fourth street?

5. Are you in favor of the city determining by litigation at this time whether the Circuit Courts can be moved (to the plaza) without loss to the city of the title to the present courthouse?

6. If in such litigation it is determined that the city would lose such title in case of such removal of the courts, would you urge the repeal of the ordinance putting the new courthouse on Twelfth boulevard, so as to avoid the loss to the city of the valuable site of the present courthouse and the historic building which stands on it?

Only a Few Replies.

Mrs. Emilie M. Sweeney, president of the American Women's Council of Justice, declared that no one interested in the referendum object had had anything to do with her organization's questionnaire. River front improvement is the sole object, she said. Only a few answers had been received up to today, she admitted, including letters from Candidates Miller and Dieckman, which, she said, "were rather favorable in parts."

Former Circuit Judge Charles W. Rutledge, chairman of the Memorial Plaza Committee, said today he had heard of plans for a slate of Republican aldermanic candidates, which is to be distributed at the polls Friday, backing candidates believed to favor the Broadway courthouse interests.

"We will consider that candidates who do not answer our questionnaire are against the plaza plan," Rutledge said.

Banish Neuritis for Good

You are tired of taking medicines that relieve for today only. You want a remedy that will banish your pains and aches for good—not merely some dope to produce false relief by deadening the nerves.

Bear in mind that neuritis is an inflammation of the nerves, and this inflammation must be removed before you can expect permanent relief. Obtain a bottle of Eopa Neuritis Tablets from your druggist. Take according to directions and see how quickly you begin to improve. That agonizing pain, no matter where it is located, will disappear forever when the inflamed nerves are fully healed.

Eopa Neuritis Tablets usually give prompt relief, yet they are perfectly harmless to everybody. Guaranteed to be free from narcotics and habit-forming drugs. Price $1 at Judge & Dolph Drug Stores, Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co., and all other good druggists. Mail orders filled, cash or C. O. D. Boericke & Runyon Co., Mfrs., San Francisco.

Breath Bad?

Constipation may be causing it. Pluto Water safely and quickly flushes all the congested waste out of the bowel tract. Acts in 30 minutes to two hours. Never gripes. Prescribed by physicians, sold by druggists and bottled at French Lick Springs, Ind.

TRAVELS 25 YEARS—SLEEPS VERY LITTLE

"I am a traveling man and for 25 years I had chronic indigestion and gas fermentation. Everything I ate fermented and I often slept only two hours at night. Tried all so-called stomach remedies, but benefit lasted only a short time. Six months ago I took Adlerika and I feel fine and want to thank the discoverers of this system." (Signed) A. Thomson.

Intestinal Evacuant

There is now offered to the public a liquid preparation which is not only a wonderfully effective and QUICK intestinal evacuant, but which also seems to stimulate the glands of the intestinal tract and to cause expulsion of flatus (GAS). This preparation, known as Adlerika, is a valuable agent for the purpose of cleansing the bowels of matter which has been in the system a long time and which other less effective means have been unable to dislodge. It is often astonishing the great amount of matter Adlerika draws from the intestinal canal—even right after a natural movement it sometimes brings out unsuspected quantities of additional matter. Many times it brings out much GAS, thus relieving pressure in the abdomen. Adlerika is especially valuable when PROMPT action is necessary or to encourage the elimination of metabolic poisons through the bowel.

In slight disorders, such as occasional constipation or gas on the stomach and headache (when due to bowel inaction), a single spoonful of Adlerika often produces surprising and gratifying results. In cases of obstinate constipation or stomach trouble, if Adlerika does not bring relief in 24 to 36 hours the advice of a reputable physician should be secured.

Reports from Physicians

"I congratulate you on the good effect from Adlerika since I prescribed it." (Signed) Dr. L. Langlois.

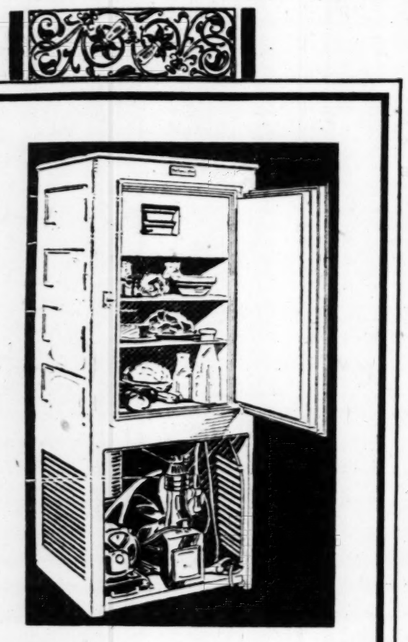

"Adlerika is the best in our entire 27 years' experience." (Signed) Dr. G. Rogers.

"I prescribed Adlerika with highly satisfactory results." (Signed) Dr. A. C. C. (Name given on request.)

"I can't get along without Adlerika." (Signed) Dr. W. H. Bernhart.

J. E. Puckett (a user of Adlerika) writes: "After taking Adlerika feel better than for 20 years. Haven't language to express the impurities eliminated from my system."

Adlerika is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines because of its REAL and QUICK action. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. In St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Enderle Drug Co. and other leading druggists.

LEGISLATIVE AMNESTY FOR FERGUSON IN TEXAS ASSURED

House Approves Senate Bill Vindicating Impeached Executive, Husband of the Governor.

By the Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 11.—James E. Ferguson has virtually won his long fight for vindication from the judgment of the Legislative Court of Impeachment, which seven years ago removed him from the Governor's chair and deprived him of the right ever again to hold state office.

By a vote of 88 to 53, the House of Representatives last night passed to third reading the Woodward bill already passed by the Senate, granting legislative amnesty to the deposed chief executive. Opponents of the bill charged that the only legal way to vindicate Ferguson was to submit the matter to the voters in the form of a constitutional amendment.

Leaders of the pro-amnesty forces plan to force a vote today. The bill would then go to Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, wife of the ousted Governor, for her signature.

Ferguson's removal from office in 1917 followed his conviction on several counts of malfeasance in office, the principal charge against him being that of misapplication of public funds.

$300,000 ISSUE OF BONDS IN MISSING BROKER'S OFFICE

Securities Purporting to Be Those of Sangamon County School District Under Inquiry.

WILL LEFT BY BENJAMIN H. WHITE

Letter in Mailbox, Signed With White's Name, Places All Blame in the Case On Writer.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 11. — The State's Attorney's office today investigated the papers purporting to be a $300,000 issue of bonds of Sangamon County School District No. 186, found in the office of Ben H. White, missing bond broker, who is sought in connection with the disposal of false Christian County school bonds.

The forgeries of the Christian County bonds were discovered by officers of the Modern Woodmen of America, which purchased $150,000 of the spurious bonds. Fred Emert & Co. of St. Louis and Stern Bros. & Co. of Kansas City, which received the bonds from White and sold them to the fraternal organization, instigated the search for White, in whose mail box was found a letter purporting to have been written by him and admitting guilt of the forgeries. The police had a theory that White, who has borne an excellent reputation, planned suicide.

The discovery of 300 supposed bonds, each purporting on its face to be of $1000 denomination, in White's office caused Assistant State's Attorney Blumenthal to call executives of the Mercantile Printing Co. which printed the bonds. They stated that the 300 were all that were printed. These purported Sangamon County bonds bore the names of L. F. Dodd as president and Elaine Mathen as secretary of the school district.

Purported Confession Note.

According to relatives White left his home Sunday morning. The day before he gave his wife a will leaving his entire estate to her after his debts had been paid. In his mail box was found a photostatic copy of a letter alleged to have been written by the broker. It read:

"To whom it may concern: I am alone guilty of the forgeries of the South Fork, Assumption and Stonington township bonds. The proceeds have been dissipated except what remains in my bank account at the Northern Trust and Continental and Commercial. There are no extenuating circumstances. I did it with my eyes open and now I am paying the bill."

The note was signed "Benjamin H. White" and was dated March 8.

Blumenthal said the only visible assets found on first examination were two automobiles and $1250 in two bank accounts. A safety deposit box may be opened on a court order.

$100,000 in Less Than Year.

"We have traced to White $100,000 in less than a year," Blumenthal said. "What he has done with the money we have not been able to determine." Blumenthal said White recently lost $2000 in the purchase of stock and an effort is being made to determine if his losses were greater. Mrs. Becky Coles, a divorcee and White's private secretary, told the prosecutor that her employer had been speculating in stocks and that she thought he had a large bank account. She said he gave expensive gifts to friends and made frequent trips to New York, the last on Feb. 15.

A revolver which she noticed in his desk several weeks ago has disappeared, she said, as have also many papers and documents that were in the desk. For several weeks White had been melancholy and morbid, she said. A broker friend of White's informed the prosecutor that White gave a party at his club last Saturday night which he described as "his last fling."

127 VIOLATIONS OF SMOKE LAW REPORTED IN 2 MONTHS

Records of Commissioner Indicates Placed Cited Have Eliminated the Nuisance.

Reports from Smoke Commissioner Gordon, compiled today by Director of Public Safety Christophel, show that between Jan. 1 and March 1 city smoke inspectors visited 127 homes, business establishments and factories which were violating the smoke ordinance and made suggestions which eliminated the nuisance, so far as these places were concerned.

The list of offenders included 20 apartment houses, 64 industrial plants, manufacturing companies and hotels, 25 residences and flats, nine garages, seven bakeries and two churches. Since the visit of the inspectors, the reports state, all these places have made progress toward abatement by attention to firing instructions given by the inspectors. An additional report shows that from March 1 up to yesterday 31 places, chiefly apartment houses and residences, were visited and corrected.

How Robert M. Koenig Found Remedy for Pimply Skin

For years my skin would break out every once in a while—and ointments did very little to help me.

I read a doctor's article stating that pimply skin usually comes from the stomach—and bowels not getting rid of the poisons.

I tried Carter's Little Liver Pills for a few days—and since that time my skin is smooth and clear. Now I tell my friends the right way of getting rid of a broken out skin—and also of steering clear of upset stomach and sick headache. Carter's are all you claim for them.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-Made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HEADS STAMPING FIRM

ALFRED J. KIECKHEFER.

FROM WORK BENCH TO HEAD OF $25,000,000 COMPANY

Alfred J. Kieckhefer Succeeds George W. Niedringhaus as President of Stamping Concern.

Alfred J. Kieckhefer of Milwaukee, who was named president of the $25,000,000 National Enameling and Stamping Co. yesterday, has risen from the work bench to that position. He is a son of the late Ferdinand Kieckhefer, an executive of the firm.

Although his father was wealthy, Alfred J. Kieckhefer went to work at the company's Milwaukee plant during his vacations while attending high school. From factory jobs he advanced to the sales department, and is said to be equally adept at making pots and kettles and selling them. In recent years he has been managing director of factories.

He is also a director of the firm. His family owned the Kieckhefer Bros. Enameled Ware Co. of Milwaukee, which was one of the firms merged in 1899 to form the present corporation. Kieckhefer succeeds as president George W. Niedringhaus of St. Louis, who becomes chairman of the board.

FUTURE OF PAROCHIAL AND PRIVATE SCHOOLS HANGS ON SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

State of Oregon Defends Statute Compelling Parents to Send Children Between 8 and 16 to Public School.

(Copyright, 1925.)

WASHINGTON, March 11. — Does the child belong to the State or to the parent?

Small parochial schools and private schools, including girls' schools and military schools be subject to abolition by the states of the Union?

These are the issues before the Supreme Court of the United States after two years of wrangle in the lower courts. Argument is being heard this week on two separate cases, one brought by the Catholics and other religious bodies who believe they shall have the right under the Constitution to teach religion along with the regular curriculum prescribed by a state and one brought by Protestant and nonsectarian groups including the Association of Military Schools and Colleges of the United States, Association of Principals of Girls' Schools of Central States, Association of Private Schools of Oregon and Head Mistresses' Association of California.

Out of Oregon Law.

The two cases have been consolidated for argument because the issue is more or less related. The whole thing grows out of a law adopted in a wave of Ku Klux Klanism in Oregon in November, 1922. The Federal Court declared the law unconstitutional and the State of Oregon has appealed to the Supreme Court here to settle the issue once for all. The law would not have taken effect anyhow until September, 1926, but the private schools claim they already have lost business. They waived claims to damages.

Specifically the Oregon law would require all children between the ages of 8 and 16 to attend public schools unless physically unable or taught in the home by parent or guardian, but even so the latter must take examinations showing they are competent teachers and their children are required to attend public schools if the parents are unable to keep up with the professional teachers. Another exception was made in the case of children living at too great a distance from a public school, but if the State furnished transportation the youngsters were to be required to attend public schools.

Property Interest Pleaded.

In short, Oregon took it upon itself to say which schools its children should attend, arguing that states have absolute power to regulate education. The military schools and affiliated organizations do not base their contention on religious grounds, but on another article of the Federal Constitution which does not permit private property to be taken without due process of law. The complainants say that saloons and other businesses which can be proved to be a public evil can be stopped, but that businesses which cannot be proved harmful and are obviously helpful should not be ruined.

The State of Oregon contends that the private schools would not be abolished, but simply deprivated of students between the ages of 8 and 16, but the private schools answer that they would be losing business they now have, so the principle remains the same and if it is once conceded that the State can make the age limits 8 to 16, the State could at any time make the ages from 6 to 23, if it chose.

Affects Small Proportion.

The religious groups fighting the law base their argument on the ground that the Constitution guarantees freedom of religious worship and that no interference with a Catholic, Episcopalian or a Lutheran or anyone who attends a private school in which the parents wish religion taught is to violate the Constitution.

According to the counsel for the private schools the census for 1920 shows that there were 23,777,705 school children in the United States, while the Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior of the United States shows an enrollment in all private schools of 184,153. Of this number 130,019 were in private schools conducted by religious denominations.

"What effect on religious prejudice," says Joseph A. Hill, principal of the Hill Military Academy of Portland, Ore., "can 130,000 have on 23,000,000? In Oregon but 3 4-10 per cent of the children of the State at present are in private schools. The reports in Oregon do not segregate these schools in Oregon according to religious denominations, but if the private schools of Oregon were denominational schools, teaching one particular religious belief, the percentage is too insignificant to have any effect on the whole." This is made in answer to the contention of the other side that private schools foster religious prejudice and that 100 per cent Americanism is obtainable only in the public schools.

Freedom of Choice Urged.

John C. Veatch, attorney for the private schools, sums up the issue from his view with this statement in his brief:

"The police power may be used in correcting an existing evil and there may be cases where it must be used to prevent an evil that is certain to come, but we know of no cases upholding the use of the police power to prevent a purely theoretical and speculative injury. We can only judge the future by the past, and the history of private schools shows no such tendency as is predicted. While the State has the power to require that all its citizens shall receive instruction in certain things, we do not believe that the State has the power to say that education shall not go beyond the instruction it offers. Individual freedom to pursue any educational course that may seem best cannot be denied, and the State has no power to control this choice beyond placing minimum requirements. Parents are at liberty to say that their children shall receive instruction in accordance to the instruction required by the State and it matters not whether that instruction is in religious matters, military tactics, physical training or anything else so long as it does not interfere with the rights of others."

National Scope Planned.

So there is no denying the application of the highest standards of education in private schools, but there is a denial that the State can prohibit other instruction too and by schools of the parents' own choosing.

It was planned, according to Hill, by the people back of the Oregon law to get this type of measure passed by other states and ultimately to try to make it an amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Former Senator Chamberlain of Oregon has been employed by the State to defend the law. He has presented a comprehensive brief based largely on the broad doctrine that the power to regulate education in accordance as the people or the Legislature think to be in conformity with good citizenship and the public interest.

HEARING ON BREWERY LICENSE REVOCATION

Decision in Case of Plant at Highland, Ill., Reserved Pending Filing of Briefs.

A hearing to determine whether the permit of the Highland Brewing Co. of Highland, Ill., to manufacture cereal beverage should be revoked was held yesterday in the Federal courtroom at East St. Louis before Elbert H. Loyd, counsel to the United States Prohibition Director. Decision was reserved by Loyd until briefs could be submitted and the testimony reviewed.

Prohibition agents Alfred Johnson, Oscar Sandberg and Archie Benson of Chicago testified that they raided the brewery on Jan. 22 and found five five-gallon cans of alcohol in the office of Eugene Shott, president of the brewery. Rolla Neudecker, his clerk, Johnson said, was just leaving the office with two jugs of alcohol.

Testifies to Finding Beer.

W. H. Alston testified that four days later he and other prohibition officers visited the brewery and found 450 barrels of beer containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol in vats. The citation also charges that 550 barrels of beer in portable containers were found in the brewery.

Shott denied that he knew the contents of the cans and jugs in his office. Questioned as to the present organization of the brewery, Shott replied that he had resigned as president and "was through." "My father and myself," he said, "have operated the brewery for 70 years, but now it's all over. I don't know what we will do with the plant."

Shott said the beer was unfinished product and had not yet been dealcoholized.

Asked how the cans came into the office, Shott said his nephew would explain that. Maurice Shott, 19 years old, who said he worked at the brewery at intervals, but not at the time of the raid, then stated how on the day before the raid while he was seated alone in the office, at noon, a man, who appeared to be a foreigner, drove up in a truck and delivered the jugs and cans, which he believed to contain "flavoring extract," and was intended for some of the workmen about the plant.

Denies Knowing Contents of Jugs.

Rolla Neudecker, also denied knowing there was alcohol in the jugs and cans and explained that he was "cleaning house" when the prohibition officers walked in as he was walking out with the jugs.

The citation charges the corporation with making false reports to the Government as to the quantity of beer made and its alcoholic content, with possession, manufacture and sale of beer and possession of alcohol. These charges are in connection with the revocation proceedings. Lloyd said that no indictments so far have been returned against the concern for violating the national prohibition act.

Prohibition agents told yesterday how they had been watched and followed for weeks before the raid on inspection trips to the brewery. On one of these trips, the day before the raid, they sent their automobile from East St. Louis to St. Louis and stored it there in a garage. They the wen by train to Chicago, registered at a hotel, left by the back door without checking out and caught the next train back to St. Louis. From here they drove at high speed to Highland and "took the place by surprise."

WOMAN AND MAN HELD IN HOLDUP INVESTIGATION FREED

No Corroboration of Prisoner's Story Connecting Them With Use of Automobile.

Miss Tille Gast of 1300 Sullivan avenue, owner of an Essex automobile, and Robert Batey, 2238 Howard street, arrested by police Monday night following the confession of William Kendrick, in which Kendrick said Batey drove a car borrowed from Miss Gast during two drug store holdups in which Kendrick admitted participating, were released by the police last night.

Police found no corroboration of Kendrick's statements to connect either with any of the robberies. Two warrants were issued against Kendrick.

Negro Dies of Stab Wounds.

Joshua Taylor, 46 years old, a negro, of 816 North Twenty-third street, died at City Hospital early today from stab wounds suffered in a fight with George Johnson, 46, proprietor of a rooming house at the Twenty-third street address, March 8. Johnson told policemen his stepdaughter, Hattie Young, had been locked in a room by Taylor and another negro and her screams attracted him to the room. He broke the lock to rescue her, he said, and was attacked by Taylor, whereupon he dre wa knife and stabbed Taylor.

SEALING SHIP CRUSHED BY ICE

Crew of Canadian Steamer Taken Off, Says Radio Message.

By the Associated Press.

JOHNS, Newfoundland, March 11.—The sealing steamer Stella Maris, one of the fleet which sailed from this port Saturday for the annual seal hunt, sent a radio message at daynight today that she had been crushed in the ice and was sinking. Her crew of 50 men had been taken off by a sister ship, the Prospero, the message said.

Tobacco Valued at $680 Stolen.

The automobile truck, containing tobacco valued at $1280, which was driven away from 1515 Carr street at noon yesterday while its owner, Max Scherr of the Union Tobacco Co., was eating lunch in his living quarters at 1515A Carr street, was later found abandoned at the foot of Wash street. Night Mail Flyer Forced Down.

By the Associated Press.

CALAMUS, Ia., March 11. — Forced to alight because of engine trouble, Aandolph Page, air mail pilot en route from Chicago to Iowa City, landed in a field near here last night. GRIMM FOR CENTRAL SLAUGHTERING PLANT

Mayoralty Candidate Would Try to Establish Municipal Abattoir.

Former Circuit Judge J. Hugo Grimm, candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor of St. Louis, today announced that if elected he would do all in his power to bring about the establishment oof a municipal abattoir wheer all slaughtering of food animals would be done under the supervision of a trained corps of inspectors, who would examine the animals for disease.

..His announcement followed publication Monday, by the Post-Dispatch, of the fact that of 157 slaughtering plants in the city, 50 are not inspected by the Government because they do not conduct an interstate business. His statement follows:

"I think the Post-Dispatch did a distinct public service in publishing the fact that there are many slaughtering houses in St. Louis that escape governmental inspection because they do not engage in interstate business.

"I am told that some slaughtering is done in very unsanitary surroundings, and that in a few cases food animals have been killed in places that were actually filthy.

"I strongly favor a municipal abattoir, where trained inspectors would examine the animals on foot. I believe this would go a long way toward checking tuberculosis and even preventing anthrax. I shall do all possible to bring about the establishment of such an abattoir should the people of St. Louis elect me Mayor."

VERDICT BLAMES NO ONE FOR EAST ST. LOUIS BRIDE'S DEATH

Coroner's Jury Finds Blood Poisoning Was Cause, but Is Unable to Say if There Was Operation.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 11.—A Coroner's jury investigating the death of Nina Ruth Harding Pierce of East St. Louis, Ill., a student of the University of Illinois and who died five days after her marriage to Logan P. Pierce, broker and son of a Chicago capitalist, yesterday returned a verdict setting forth its inability to determine if an operation had been performed.

The jury, however, determined that death had been caused by blood poisoning.

Mrs. Lucy Hagenow, a midwife, was arrested and charged with murder after the young woman's death a few weeks ago, and Logan Pierce, the husband, was charged with being an accessory before the fact of murder. The charges were continued to March 12, pending the finding of the Coroner's jury.

ROBBER PUTS BACK $5 AFTER LOOTING CASH REGISTER

Counts Out Five Bills When Dry Goods Store Owner Tells Him $60 Loot Isn't Insured.

"That money isn't insured," said William Pike, proprietor of a dry goods store at 5578 St. Louis avenue, after one of two robbers who entered the store at 7:50 p. m. yesterday had taken $60 from the cash register.

"Is that so?" the robber replied, as he counted five $1 mills and put them back in the cash register, after which both men escaped.

The two men had drawn revolvers when they entered the store and forced Pike, his wife, Hattie, and two women customers to stand in a corner. One of the robbers covered the four persons while the other looted the cash register.

New York House Passes Dry Act.

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 11.—The Jenks bill, which seeks to re-enact a State prohibition enforcement measure in New York, was passed by the Assembly, by a vote of 82 to 61 yesterday. The bill now goes to the Senate. Gov. Smith, it is generally believed, will veto the bill, if it passes in the Senate unless sufficient appropriations to enforce it are also passed.

TEMPLE OF CHALDEAN MOON-GODDESS FOUND

Mud-Brick Structure Was Built by Governor Who Was Short of Funds.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.—The monthly report of the joint expedition of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania Museum excavating at Ur of the Chaldees, received today, makes known the finding of another temple in the buried city of Abraham in Babylonia.

According to the report of C. Leonard Wooley, head of the expedition, the temple lies close to the Ziggurat, or lower part of Ur, and inscriptions on bricks and stones proved it to be "that of Ninegal, the Cass Great Lady, wife of the Moon God of Ur." The building occupies the whole of the south corner of E-Temen-Ni-Il, the terrace-enclosure of the Ziggurat.

"Most of the walls are of crude mud brick of miserably bad quality," the report said, "often ruined right away and were standing at a height extraordinarily difficult to follow. My most experienced pickmen have found their skill taxed to the utmost to distinguish between fallen mud rubble and brickwork, so soft that one can rub it to powder with one's fingers, but the floors are of brick well laid and spread with bitumen, looking like modern asphalt, and with their help all the outlines of the chambers could be traced even where the walls enclosing them have altogether perished.

"The temple was built in its present form by Sinbalatsu-Ikbid, an Assyrian governor of Ur, in 650 B. C., who always seems to have been short of cash for his building schemes, and so to have employed the poorest materials. Fifty years later Nebuchadnezzar added to, or repaired the buildings, and later again his grandson, Nabonidus, repaved the temple floors."

The report tells of finds made at lower levels beneath the temple of Nin-Gal that give promise of good results.

"We have found," the report said, "inscribed door-sockets of several periods, inscribed foundation tablets in black and white stone and in copper with texts of Luri-galzu of Larsa, 2072-2060 B. C., and one of the earliest inscriptions found at Ur describing the foundation of the temple by a local governor, 'for the life of Utu-Hegal, king of Erech,' who was Suzerain of Ur."

CANDIDATES ENTER FINAL STRETCH OF MAYORALTY RACE

Vigorous Campaign by Five Republican Aspirants to Continue Up to the Primary Friday.

ELIGIBLE VOTERS NUMBER 298,905

Observers Think G. O. P. Nomination Lies Between Aloe, Grimm and Miller —Igoe Favored.

Five Republican aspirants for the mayoralty nomination are campaigning vigorously in the hours intervening until the primary Friday, which will eliminate four of them from the race. The Democratic situation is tranquil by comparison, with former Congressman William L. Igoe apparently assured of the nomination.

Election Board revision yesterday placed the number of eligible voters for the primary at 298,905, nearly 10,000 less than were eligible to vote in the mayoralty primary of 1921. Approximately 157,000 votes were cast then, 120,000 of them in the Republican primary. Politicians believe the Republican vote will be about the same, although the intensity of the campaign and the number of candidates in the race may increase it to some extent.

How Observers View Race.

The Republican nomination, in the opinion of political observers, lies between Louis P. Aloe, former Circuit Judge J. Hugo Grimm and Victor J. Miller. Circuit Judge Robert W. Hall has gained strength in the last week, but a not expected to seriously threaten the three named. George E. Dieckman apparently will have no substantial strength.

Judge Hall, Grimm and Miller attacked the records of their opponents in addresses last night at various clubs throughout the city.

Judge Grimm discussed the appearance of Aloe and Miller before the Municipal Contractors' Association, in his address before the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Francis Home.

"We come to a pretty pass," said Judge Grimm, "when a committee or ring of contractors doing public work can call candidates before them and say, 'How are you going to treat us? Isn't it time for some one to get up and denounce that sort of stuff?

Not Invited to Meeting.

"They did not invite me to that meeting for the same reason that politicians did not come into my chambers at court and seek favors. They would have been thrown out. I see that R. B. Brooks, vice-president of that association which called two of my opponents to make confessions before it, is the son of Mrs. L. J. Brooks, manager of the Women's division of Miller's campaign. We have been victimized long enough. We should stop it now."

Judge Hall and Miller directed their attacks at Aloe, basing them upon the published statement yesterday of Louis J. Becker, chairman of the Republican City Central Committee. Becker said that Aloe had not sought the support of any committeemen, but that 22 of them were backing him because of his qualifications for office.

"It is a wonderful and most unique proposition to find one committeeman after the other arriving at the same conclusion," Judge Hall said. "That is that they indorse a particular candidate. Why did not this general and sweeping indorsement take place at once? Is it due to the fact that previous experience has taught them that destruction usually follows concerted action of this kind?

Hall Assails Becker.

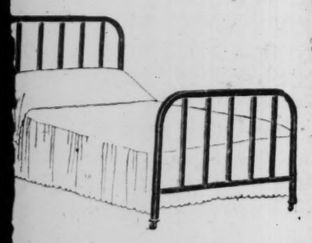

"It will be remembered that this is the same Mr. Becker who spoke up so quickly when I became a candidate. He said: 'Hall will get no committee support and is only going to muddy the waters if he gets in.' Possibly Mr. Becker, assuming so much for the individual committeeman, is possessed of an inherent power of mind reading. Possibly he can tell us whether or not he has pledged the support of the entire ward organizations throughout the city and whether he intends to deliver them in whole or in part.

"About the money that is being spent. After the $2400 which they say the law allows a candidate to spend is reached, will Mr. Becker please advise us as to how long it will take to return to the original contributors the unused portion of their contributions?"

Miller said Becker attempted to explain the reason that so many Republican committeemen were supporting Aloe and asked why Becker, in his resume of Aloe's public record, had failed to mention

Judge Hall, Grimm and Miller attacked the records of their opponents in addresses last night at various clubs throughout the city.

Judge Grimm discussed the appearance of Aloe and Miller before the Municipal Contractors' Association, in his address before the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Francis Home.

"We come to a pretty pass," said Judge Grimm, "when a combine or ring of contractors doing public work can call candidates before them and say, 'How are you going to treat us? Isn't it time for some one to get up and denounce that sort of stuff?

Becker said that Aloe had not sought the support of any committeemen, but that 22 of them were backing him because of his qualifications for office.

"It is a wonderful and most unique proposition to find one committeeman after the other arriving at the same conclusion," Judge Hall said. "That is that they indorse a particular candidate. Possibly he can tell us whether or not he has pledged the support of the entire ward organizations throughout the city and whether he intends to deliver them in whole or in part.

"About the money that is being spent. After the $3600 which they say the law allows a candidate to spend is reached, will Mr. Becker please advise us as to how long it will take to return to the original contributors the unused portion of their contributions?"

Miller said Becker attempted to explain the reason that so many Republican committeemen were supporting Aloe and asked why Becker, in his resume of Aloe's public record, had failed to mention the fact that Aloe served as a member of the Election Board from 1903 to 1905. He pointed out that Aloe had not mentioned it, although he mentioned every other public office he held.

"I want to ask Mr. Becker if he believes that elections conducted in the years Mr. Aloe was a member of the board were entirely honest?" Miller continued. "Mr. Becker, let us have a little more information concerning the manner in which elections were conducted while Mr. Aloe was a member of the Election Board."

Miller and Judge Hall spoke at the Twenty-second Ward Men and Women's Republican Club. Mrs. Alfred H. Elsman, Republican City Committeewoman of the ward, is supporting Miller, and Robert T. Claxton, committeeman, is supporting Aloe.

The usual discussion of the support behind a candidate was indulged in by James W. Byrnes, Democratic candidate; Dieckman, Hall and Robert J. Kratky, manager of Miller's campaign, in addresses before the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Brynes followed his earlier policy of flaying all candidates of both parties. The humor which pervaded his recent addresses was lost, however, in the vigorous attack he made upon all of them. He said Aloe made the campaign as a business man but that in the years he was president of the Board of Aldermen and a member of the Board of Estimates and Apportionment, the city operated at a $1,000,000 deficit.

Dieckman said the issue before voters was a question of whether they desired to select candidates themselves or allow "machine politicians and a few moneyed men" to do it for them. He said if apathy directed that course, the primary and election should be discontinued and that thereby the taxpayers could effect a saving of $150,000, the cost of holding the spring election.

Duties of Policemen at Polling Places Outlined in Order.

The Board of Police Commissioners and Police Chief O'Brien today sent to district captains separate orders outlining in detail the duties of police officers at polling places during the mayoralty primary, Friday.

The orders describe in detail the election law and warn the policemen that a "clean election" must be had. The orders will be read daily at roll call to all policemen until the morning of election day.

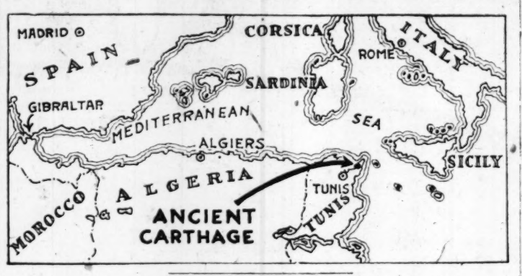

Both orders warn the policemen to prevent any lawlessness or disorder, and to bar loiterers from the polling places. "It will go hard with any officer who fails to do his duty," Chief O'Brien's order said. "The slightest neglect will result in charges and an investigation by the Police Board." The policemen are warned against influencing voters or expressing personal opinions on candidates, and are instructed not to leave the polling place until the ballots are counted and sealed.

Russian Ships in Fight.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1925.

SHANGHAI, March 11.—Russian ships lying at the mouth of the Yangtse River, 15 miles from Shanghai, last night engaged in battle. Several of the wounded have arrived here. The ships are remnants of the Wrangel fleet which have been held here three years under control of the Chinese Government pending decision of the soviet's claim to the fleet. It is understood red agents boarded the warship Oskotsk and persuaded the "whites" aboard to attack the Monguay. The latter containing "white" officers, exchanged shots with the Oskotsk and then departed to sea. Several hundred impoverished persons have been living aboard the two ships, claiming personal ownership.

6000 AT CARTHAGE HONOR TWO CHRISTIAN HEROINES

Anniversary of Martyrdom of Saints Perpetua and Felicitas Observed at Altar in Arena With Many Americans Present.

Following is the first of a series of articles on the DeProrok expedition in North Africa, which promises to exceed in interest any archeological research in recent years. The explorers plan to excavate Carthage, queen city of the ancient world; to raise a galley loaded with choice examples of the golden age of Greek art; send expeditions to dead cities of the Sahara, including Utica; and make researches in the Hoggar Mountains on trade routes of the Carthagenians and Romans and explore an amazing submarine city at Djerba in 30 feet of water.

Count DeProrok is backed by the French Government and five American and English universities.

EXCAVATION CAMP, Carthage, March 9.—The celebration of the anniversary of the martyrdom of Saints Perpetua and Felicitas here Sunday afternoon served as an impressive reminder that the stones of ancient Carthage, which the Franco-American expedition is now engaged in unearthing, once formed the stage of an intensely human drama. The ceremony took place in the shadow of Mount Bou-korine, the scene of the Punic sacrifices of children to Moloch in the Arena Amphitheater, where these two early heroines of Christianity were tossed about on the horns of a wild cow 1722 years ago to make an African festival.

How their courage helped to change that pagan holiday into the present Christian holy day—one of the most appealing stories connected with the city where Dido and Salambo perished—was retold today. One woman fainted when the sermon reached the point where Pepetua, a 22-year-old Roman patrician, forsook her infant son rather than abjure her faith, while her slave, Felicitas, abandoned her daughter, born four days before her martyrdom. The cow failing to kill her and the executioner himself unnerved by her courage and beauty, Perpetua herself had to place the sword's point at her throat.

An Amazing Transformation.

Since then time has wrought an amazing transformation. The Amphitheater, which had crumbled into ruins, has been excavated and restored to honor the two saints by the arch-priest of Carthage, Father Delattre, with the help of funds given by W. F. Kenny of New York.

The anniversary, which makes it every year a center of pilgrimage, brought 6000 persons there today, including Count de Prorok, the whole staff of the expedition and 40 American pilgrims going to Rome.

The walls of the amphitheater and the memorial chapel built in the dungeon, where the Christians were kept before their martyrdom, were beautifully decorated with palms. Chanting the gladiators' cry, "Morituri salutamais," 250 white fathers and white sisters from the Carthage Mission marched in slow procession to the altar in the arena, where the Vicar General of Tunis said mass.

The anniversary of the martyrdom of Perpetua and Felicitas at Carthage on March 7, 203, is observed throughout the Catholic Church, and the history of their suffering and death is one of the most authentic of records of the early Christian Church. During the term of her imprisonment, prior to her death, Perpetua carefully wrote an account of what had transpired, and this was added to by the writings of another Christian who was in prison at the same time.

Defied Decree of Emperor.

Vibia Perpetua was a young married woman of noble birth who, with her slave, Felicitas, who was also married, had embraced Christianity. By an order of Septimius Sevrus, one of the most famous Roman Emperors, all imperial subjects were forbidden to become Christians under penalty of severe punishment. In consequence of the imperial edict, Perpetua, Felicitas and three slaves were imprisoned and placed on trial. When they refused to make a sacrifice to the gods for the safety of the Emperor, they were condemned to death.

The men were ordered to be torn to pieces by wild animals and the women by a cow in the military games. On the day of execution they were brought into the arena and at the demand of the mob were first scourged. Then the men were sent into the arena to be torn by a boar, leopard and a bear. The women were gored by a wild cow and afterward killed by a gladiator. In the fourth century their names entered on the Philocalian calendar, the calendar of martyrs publicly venerated.

A magnificent basilica was erected over their tomb and the authenticity established afterward by the discovery of their names inscribed on the tomb. Description of their martyrdom has been found in ancient Roman and Greek writings, one, in fact, describing in detail even the hymn they sang as they were martyred.

STADIUM WITH 25,000 SEATS FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

$650,000 Structure at Kingshighway and St. Louis Avenue Approved by Board of Education.

GRANDSTAND IN HORSESHOE FORM

Field for Athletics, 660 Feet by 300, Expected to Be Ready for Football Games in Fall.

A public school stadium, seating 25,000 persons, will be built by the Board of Education at a cost of $650,000 on the west side of Kingshighway boulevard, at St. Louis avenue, as soon as bids for the work are received.

Authority for the project was voted by the board last night, when the report of Commissioner of School Buildings Milligan, outlining plans for the stadium, was approved.

Plans call for an upper deck for the stadium, to be added later bringing the ultimate cost to $1,250,000, with seating capacity for 50,000 persons.

The grandstand will be in horseshoe form, of concrete and steel with brick exterior. The inclosed field will be 660 feet long and 300 feet wide. Plans call for a football gridiron, baseball diamond, soccer field, and a quarter-mile running track 30 feet wide. The open end of the horseshoe will be fenced and will allow for the installation of temporary seats for emergency purposes.

The site is 164 feet north of St. Louis avenue, on a tract owned by the Board of Education. The entire tract has a frontage of 1900 feet on Kingshighway, the north end being reserved for a high school.

Work When Bids Are Received.

Work on the stadium will begin as soon as bids are received. Commissioner Milligan said today. He expects the field to be ready for the annual high school football games next fall.

Commissioner Milligan inspected municipal and university stadiums throughout the country before making plans for the St. Louis stadium. The horseshoe form was decided on in preference to the bowl stadium, after Milligan had inspected both types. The horseshoe type allows for the erection of additional seats, if this should be found necessary. Milligan explained, in outlining the plan for the board.

No stairways will be installed in the grand stand, entrance and exit being by runways six feet wide leading from a large concourse on each side of the structure. Dressing rooms for teams and for participants in pageant and field day exercises will be provided, as well as numerous public rest rooms.

When fully completed the upper deck will partly cover the lower section, and the four corners of the stadium will be marked by ramp towers, in which will be the runways leading to the upper tiers. Milligan estimates that 10,000 temporary seats may be installed at the open end in case of necessity, bringing the ultimate maximum seating capacity to 60,000. This compares favorably with any of the large stadiums in the country, with the exception of the Los Angeles Municipal Stadium, which has a capacity of 75,000.

It is also the plan of the School Board to lease the stadium to Washington and St. Louis Universities for important football games.

Two members of the board last night proposed to alter the plans of the stadium to conform to professional baseball demands, so it might be available in the event of a world's series here. Following a short discussion, this suggestion was dropped. Commissioner Milligan pointing out that a general athletic field could never be made to conform to baseball conditions as they are under major league rules. It was further pointed out that there was a question as to the board's right so to commercialize a project built from school funds.

Senate Passes Medical Bill.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—The Senate today passed, 25 to 0, the Mitchell medical bill amending the medical practices act to raise the educational qualifications of physicians, increasng the standards for medical colleges, and increased penalties for violations. The counties of Scotland, Knox, Shelby and Monroe would be transferred from the jurisdiction of the St. Louis Court of Appeals to the Kansas City Court of Appeals and Gasconade County from the Kansas City Court of appeals to the St. Louis Court of Appeals under another bill passed in the Senate.

MITCHELL VINDICATED, SAYS INQUIRY LEADER

Head of House Committee Asserts Lack of Air Defense Is Borne Out.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Chairman Lampert of the House Aircraft Committee said in a statement today that Brigadier-General Mitchell, Assistant Army Air Chief, appeared to have been "thoroughly vindicated" in his testimony regarding the "deficiencies in equipment and personnel" of the air service.

The General's statement in regard to a lack of an adequate defense against attack from the air, Lampert said, also appeared to have been borne out.

Mitchell's testimony, Lampert declared, was given because he considered it his duty, and "with the expectation of discipline which seems to have been meted out to him."

The Outstanding Witness.

The committee chairman said Gen. Mitchell was the outstanding witness of the aircraft inquiry and that the "directness of his testimohy was refreshing to the committee when compared to seeming restraint on the part of so large a number connected with the air service."

"While $433,000,000 may have been spent during the last five years, there has been no proof of waste or extravagance," continued the statement. "However, the fact seems to stand out that the conservatism in the Army General Staff and Navy General Board has prevented expenditures for the acquirement of modern air craft equipment in sufficient numbers to establish American supremacy in the air.

"Trifling with our national security must stop.

"Startling Revelations."

"Startling revelaions were made to the committee showing that even today the services are buying aircraft which does not seem fit to fly and orders are out that many planes should not be flown. Testimony was given which indicates that better planes are offered the services than have been bought. The lives of our aviators must not be sacrificed on the altar of conceit, reared by engineers whose judgment can be swayed away from the dictates of fact and science."

Asserting that the aviation industry was "stagnated" and that huge losses had been borne by companies who have dealt with the Government, Lampert said development of commercial aviation should be fostered in legislation by the next Congress.

BRITISH ENCOURAGE AMATEUR INVENTORS WITH CASH PRIZES

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The simple expedient of offering prizes of $50 has resulted in the discovery that there are 152 amateur inventors in England whose inventions have a commercial value. The Institute of Patentees offered prizes for the best inventions in several classes, and about 500 inventions were submitted from which four major prize winners were selected. The 152 inventions will be submitted to various manufacturers.

The major prizes were awarded to the inventors of a kettle with a lid that will not fall off; a portable flier; a rotoscope based on the theory of relativity for gauging the speed of machinery, and a machine for bending rods and tubes.

Sir William Grey-Wilson, head of the institute, is an inventor of renown and his house is full of his handicraft. One of the most ingenious is in the chicken house. A few grains of corn are placed in a tin beneath the perches. When the chickens wake and peck at the corn, a spring is released which opens the door of the house.

BAKER WANTS TO CONTROL STATE GUARD APPROPRIATION

Section of Bill Would Give Him Sole Power in Expenditure of $350,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—The desire of Gov. Baker to delegate to himself the full control of the affairs of the Missouri National Guard is disclosed in a section of the pending appropriation bills, which would give the Governor sole power over the expenditure of the proposed $350,000 appropriation for support and maintenance of the State troops for the next two years. Heretofore this power has been in the hands of the Missouri Military Council, comprising the General in command of the troops, the Adjutant General and the Colonels in command of the various regiments.

This section was written into the appropriation bill at the request of the Governor's office, it was learned from Chairman Bales of the Appropriations Committee. Bales admitted considerable protest had been made by national guardsmen.

Brigadier-General W. A. Raupp, former Adjutant-General, who was not reappointed by Baker, is in command of the troops of the State, by virtue of "outranking" Adjutant-General Rumbold. Raupp has headed the military council. Under the proposal of the Governor, the Military Council would be deprived of control over the guard activities, as the purse-strings are taken from its hands. A bill designed to make Rumbold the ranking general officer of the Missouri National Guard was killed by a House committee after national guardsmen made vigorous protests against it.

PAN-AMERCAN COMPANY TO BE SPLIT UP, DOHENY SAYS

Mexican and California Oil Properties to Be Operated Separately.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Segregation of the Mexican and California oil properties of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co., each to be operated under a separate corporate organization, is contemplated by Edward L. Doheny, chairman of the board, he announced today.

Completion of negotiations for the reorganization of the Pan-American holdings, Doheny said, probably would bring new interests into the organization. He declined to say, however, whether the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and British interest would be involved in the transaction. The California properties, it was said, would continue to be operated by a corporation organized by Pan-American interests.

"There may be changes in the personnel of the new company," it was stated at the Pan-American offices, "but Mr. Doheny will always remain interested and active in Pan-American affairs and he will give special attention to the California end of the business, which has become increasingly important in recent years."

The total amount of stock involved in the present negotiations, Doheny asserted, has a book value of $193,000,000 and a market value of $220,000,000. The Pan-American's properties, he added, have a yearly production of 60,000,000 barrels of oil.

INTEREST OF U. R. IN BUS BILL EXPLAINED

Reorganization Committee Issues Statement on Measure in Legislature.

The Reorganization Committee of the United Railways Co. today issued a statement explaining its interest in the proposed McCawley motor bus bill now pending in the State Legislature, and explaining why it urged the adoption of an amendment placing supervision of the St. Louis bus lines with the State Public Service Commission. The statement, in part, follows:

"The McCawley bill contains a provision which permits street railway companies in cities to extend their service by bus lines, even though competing bus companies have established routes superimposed over on paralleling the street railway's routes. It was argued on behalf of the People's Bus Co. that it should be protected by being given a monopoly, and it was argued by those speaking against such monopoly that the railways company should not be prevented from serving the public with the most modern method transportation, a co-ordinated bus and street car service.

"It was emphasized that the company be permitted for the sake of improvement of service and economy, to use the motorbus in transporting passengers over its routes; and it was stated that it was unfair to permit legislation to confer a monopoly on a competitor which had come in and competed with the railways company over its own routes. It was further stated that the Reorganization Committee in no way wished to obtain rights enabling it to injure the operation of the People's company, and that the sole object of the committee was to preserve the right to the new company to furnish such service as the committee has publicly stated it intends to offer to St. Louis.

"The Reorganization Committee is endeavoring to preserve to the new company, which it intends to organize to take over and operate the properties of the United Railways Co., the right to furnish transportation over its routes as a co-ordinated whole and at cost, both by street car and by bus, which ever will give better service to the public and be the more economical."

GERMANY TO BE TOLD ENTRY TO LEAGUE CARRIES NO STRINGS

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

GENEVA, March 11.—Germany will be told that entrance into the League of Nations lies by the same path taken by other members—that she must apply directly to the Assembly without reservations—according to a decision reported to have been taken by the Council after a secret session which extended late into the night.

The Council devoted hours almost entirely to the problem of drafting a reply to Berlin's recent communication. The document will be short and to the point. It probably will reply to some of Berlin's arguments and will point out that the League is not a super-state and that Germany's fears of commitments are not justifiable.

PARIS, March 11.—The French Cabinet, under the chairmanship of President Doumergue, went over the whole diplomatic situation today. Premier Herriot informed his colleagues of the substance of the declaration which M. Briand will make at Geneva tomorrow in favor of the League of Nations security protocol, and they approved the policy of sticking to the League plan.

HOUGHTON DENIES TALES OF GERMAN WAR PREPARATION

Former Ambassador to Berlin Says Germany Does Not Desire to Be Military Power.

STORIES OF SECRET ARMAMENT ABSURD

Declares Nation Has Shown More Recuperative Power Than Expected — Only 400,000 Idle in Nation.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 11.—"Germany never again will be a great military power," says Alanson B. Houghton, Ambassador to the Court of St. James, and former Ambassador to Germany. He unreservedly contradicts the charge by Marshal Foch and the Allied Control Mission that Germany was secretly arming.

"It is absurd," he said yesterday. "Germany does not want again to be a great military power. These stories of secret stores of arms used to be brought to the Embassy in Berlin every morning before breakfast. Some crazy person might have a hundred guns hidden in his attic, that's all. And it's ghastly nonsense to talk of an aggressive military alliance between Germany and Russia."

The diplomat arrived here yesterday on the Aquitania. He went directly to Washington to confer with Secretary Kellogg, on his three years' service as the first Ambassador to republican Germany, and to receive his commission to Great Britain.

Greatness of Ebert.

Speaking of the death of President Ebert of Germany, Houghton said:

"It was a tremendous loss for Germany. Ebert was the greatest German since Bismarck. He grew steadily while he held office and his influence spread over all his nation. To him is due the German republic."

Ebert's death will mean no change in Germany's underlying policy, he added, and there is no possibility of a reactionary coup.

"It is a mistake to regard the members of the Luther government as monarchists," he continued. "They are simply conservatives, the opponents of the Socialists and Labor representatives. They represent an economic division in Germany, instead of a political group."

"During my three years' service in Berlin I saw the strain of war days begin to disappear and heard laughter once more. Germany has not entirely recovered, but it has shown greater recuperative powers than anyone expected. A year ago last Christmas, before the operation of the Dawes plan, there were 1,250,000 unemployed in Berlin out of 4,000,000 inhabitants. Now there are 50,000. The 12,000,000 unemployed in the whole Reich has been cut down to 400,000. Interest rates fluctuated between 70 and 90 per cent a year. Now they run between eight and ten per cent. The cost of living is still high, especially in Berlin, but wages are beginning to rise. The increase in one month was ten per cent."

Advises Caution in Loans.

Houghton warned America not to try to force loans on Germany.

"Germany shouldn't borrow any more money than it has to," he said. "Just now I advise caution. The Reich already has declined to permit the provinces and cities to make foreign loans, and big business in Germany is discouraging it."

Germany is anxious for tourist business, the Ambassador said. Prices are still high in Berlin, but travel in South Germany and the Black Forest is inexpensive. He praised the new German Ambassador to America, Ago Von Maltzan, saying "Germany has sent us her best."

Coolidge, Kellogg and Houghton Discuss European Questions.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The visit to Washington of Alanson B. Houghton, the new American Ambassador to London, who has arrived here, was in response to a request from Secretary Kellogg that the Ambassador come here for conferences before proceeding to his post, and the first of these conferences was held last night at the White House, where Houghton is the President's guest.

President Coolidge, the Ambassador and Kellogg went generally over European questions in their discussions, and the question of selecting a successor to Houghton as Ambassador to Germany was also taken up. So far as is known to high officials, President Coolidge has not finally determined upon a man for the Berlin post.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Des Peres Project Again.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WHAT excites Mr. Kinsey so much? Is it a statement I made in your People's Column that a wooden support under the Tyler approach was sinking badly and jeopardized the safety of the structure? Is this an untruth or not—when the bridge is still open for traffic until March 9-10-11-12, when a real job is to be made on concrete piers?

Is it an untruth to state that the 6x8 sewer is three-fourths filled with sewage and will be too small in a few years? Is it an untruth to state that the overflow open ditch (size 100x7½ feet) will hold all or even half of the overflow when any one can and has seen the absurdity of this claim?

I beg Mr. Kinsey's patience to have to pay attention to this "ignorant" criticism but, having served ten years on our Mississippi and Missouri Rivers to prevent bank cavings and channel regulations, the writer should have a little knowledge of such work. That good work is done on the work now is appreciated by all but the plan of it is what is at fault. We have the free bridge tie-up as a sample of an uncompleted undertaking and here we are building an overflow sewer that has already proved that it cannot take care of its requirements.

The One-Man Cars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I READ an article on the success of the one-man cars on Compton Sunday, March 8. The U. R.'s claim is that by the use of the one-man cars they can give double service with the same expense as the two-man cars on Sundays. But have they done it? No. They ran on the same space on Park and cut to half a minute off on Compton, so it seems as if the U. R. has found a way to run their cars for half the expense but with less service, for it is a known fact that the same number of people cannot get on and off at one door as they can at two.

This is something that ought to be settled by the car riding public, and not by an agreement between the carmen's union and the company.

Smoke Abatement Efforts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WILL you kindly publish this as an answer to R. C. Gosreau, who criticizes the Smoke Commissioner in these columns for cleaning up only 87 violations, while over 100,000 instruction cards have been issued.

His letter reflects great ignorance of the subject and is destructive in its criticism. This is the wrong viewpoint. Give the Smoke Commissioner a chance. He is doing wonderful work. Help him, don't knock him.

For Mr. Gosreau's information let me state that the issuing of the 100,000 instruction cards does not mean that there is on record 100,000 smoke violations. Far from that! The 87 cases Mr. Gordon has cleaned up were those of violators who needed expert engineering advice, and a majority had to be handled with tact and diplomacy, for it is true that a large part of the population of St. Louis don't want Smoke Abatement when it involves themselves.

How Do They Live?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ONLY a short time ago we called your attention to the pitiful condition of The city's street cleaners. Most of them are laid off now from Tuesday till Saturday without pay, while the bosses are kept with full pay and nothing to do. The Municipal Research Bureau should give their findings and advice on such a condition. What do we want with those bosses, when nobody is working?

AN OLD TIMER.

Destructive Waste, or Worse?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ON the front page of your editorial section of today's paper (March 7), there is a picture of revenue agents uncovering a shipment of contraband liquor under the disguise of an oyster shell shipment at Kansas City.

How is it, Mr. Editor, that we are always shown pictures of these revenue men discovering liquor in one form or another, here and there throughout the country, but we are never shown pictures of these same revenue men actually destroying their finds? Do they really destroy all, or part, of the liquor they obtain in their raids on these dives and distilleries? What proof have we, the taxpaying public, we who are interested in law enforcement, that these men, the law personified, carry out their duty to the letter? The people who groan under the tax burden, and who give their hard-earned money as salaries to these so-called law enforcing agents, should have some proof that they are doing their duty. What proof have we?

PETER RABBIT.

OFFICIAL EXECUTIONERS.

Senator Couzens of Michigan lays a serious charge upon the administration relating particularly to the action of the Treasury Department in demanding an additional tax of between $10,000,000 and $11,000,000 of the Senator, charged to the alleged failure of the Treasury in 1919 to collect a sufficient amount on the profits of the sale of Ford stock.

The Senator says that he was presented with a demand for a waiver of the revaluation of the stock for tax purposes because of his activities as chairman of the special Senate investigating committee to inquire into the conduct of the Internal Revenue Bureau. The committee found that large rebates were allowed to William Boyce Thompson of the Republican National Committee, the Steel Trust, the Aluminum Trust, which Secretary Mellon and his family control; the Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies Steamship Co., and the copper interests. In short, he charges that he is being penalized for his zeal in investigating the income tax records of the Treasury Department.

The charge of Senator Couzens is a grave one, because of a similar charge made by Senator Wheeler that he was penalized for his activity in investigating the Attorney-General's office. Senator Wheeler's charge was practically indorsed by the Senate, which, after an investigation, exonerated him, and condemned his indictment for alleged misconduct in representing clients before a department of Government while holding the office of Senator.

The two charges raise a question of tremendous import in the conduct of the Government. It concerns both the power of the Government to reward or punish, and the willingness of the administration that this power shall be used to punish members of Congress who in the exercise of the power conferred upon them and in the performance of duty investigate charges of misconduct or dereliction on the part of administrative officials.

Shall the members of Congress be intimidated or destroyed because of legitimate and beneficial activities to uncover frauds, corruption or misconduct in public office?

There is another important phase of the question: That is, the power of the Department of Justice to indict citizens for revengeful purposes, and the power of the Treasury Department to make or break corporations or individuals through taxation.

Secretary Mellon, in explaining the action of the Treasury Department in regard to the Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies Steamship Co., said that he exercised discretion in remitting taxation, in order to avoid throwing the corporation into bankruptcy. Presumably he could exercise it the other way.

In the case of Senator Couzens, the tax rulings of a previous administration were reopened and Mr. Mellon asserted the power of his department to do this, so that no business concern nor individual is safe at any time from the reopening of tax cases and the levy of additional taxes. In the case of the Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies Steamship Co. the amount agreed upon as involved is $7,000,000, and the other alleged rebates run high into the millions.

What shall be the outcome of the exercise of these powers to penalize or destroy by the Department of Justice and the Treasury Department?

MILLER AS A LAW ENFORCER.

In addition to chasing a lot of innocent people around the streets and to the police station, Victor J. Miller's chief claim to the public's support is that he chased the gangsters out of St. Louis. Ray Renard, in his crime confessions, remarked that the gangsters had run out of St. Louis at the prospect of a Miller clean-up, but evidently they did not run far nor stay long.

Victor J. Miller was appointed President of the Police Board Feb. 15, 1921, and remained President until April 25, 1922. He was treasurer and a member of the Police Board until his removal April 13, 1923.

In the list of robberies given by Ray Renard in the Star of March 6 are the following:

Hodiamont Bank, Oct. 21, 1921, $7189.19.

Gravois Bank of St. Louis County, March 6, 1922, $3500.

Messenger of the Water Tower Bank, April 4, 1922; $7200.

Messenger of the Bank of Maplewood, Jan. 17, 1922; $4500.

Messenger of the Chouteau Trust Co., March 3, 1922, but the loot, not included in my figure, was $36,197, all of which was in checks.

Messenger of the Tower Grove Bank, July 5, 1922; $21,200 in cash and $78,000 in checks.

Jack Daniel Warehouse, held up and robbed of whisky worth $30,000 on Dec. 8, 1922.

St. Louis mail truck robbery, April, 1923, in which bonds worth $3,000,000 were stolen.

This list shows eight major robberies of banks, bank messengers and mail were committed while Miller was on the Police Board, five of them in the year he was President, not to speak of other crimes in which Renard was not mixed up and did not list.

Karolyi's friends apparently knew our State Department when they advised him that sitting in silence at a free-speech meeting in New York might be construed as "political activity."

THE SNITCH WINS AGAIN.

The ambulance-chasing lawyer has for years had powerful friends at Jefferson City. He still has them. This was shown by the action of the Senate Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence in killing a bill, introduced by Senator Kinney and approved by the St. Louis Bar Association, which was designed to compel attorneys to observe the ethics of the profession. The jeering reception accorded two other bills of similar purport convinced Senator Kinney of the hopelessness of his effort.

How effective these bills would have been if enacted into law is, of course, conjectural. There is, however, a reasonably sure way to eliminate the snitch lawyer, namely, a fair, equitable workmen's compensation law. But it seems impossible to pass a compensation bill of that character, and one of the most powerful as well as resourceful adversaries of such a measure is the ambulance chaser.

Is the ambulance chaser, along with his no less objectionable counterpart, the claim agent, an incurable and costly pest? By no means. A remedy is available. As soon as the electorate shakes off its apathy and its ridiculous fidelity to party labels and elects as Senators and Representatives men of parts and conscience who will resolutely serve the public welfare the snitch and claim agent and many another affliction will disappear.

All questions as to the kind of government we have ultimately hark back to the public. Intelligent, discriminating voting is the solution for our governmental ills—the only solution.

WARREN'S REJECTION.

In rejecting the confirmation of Charles B. Warren for Attorney-General an alliance of Democrats and progressives has saved the new Coolidge administration in its incipiency from what appeared on the basis of Warren's record to have been a great mistake.

Through the activities of Democrats and progressives the corrupt record of one former Cabinet officer was exposed. Another Cabinet member, after a Democratic-progressive investigation, had to be ousted from office as unfit and repugnant to the public conscience.

It is astounding, after these experiences, that there should have been nominated to the post from which Daugherty was ousted a man whose record proclaims him grossly unfit for its duties. Warren's connection with the Sugar Trust as a violator of the spirit and letter of the Sherman antitrust law was not a mere isolated incident, a slip from an otherwise impeccable career. It was an association of some 15 or 16 years, during which Warren's habits of thought must have been molded to sympathy with monopoly and the unfair dealing of big capital with weaker competitors and with the fixing of prices to farmer-producer on the one hand and to consumer on the other.

Such, however, was the deliberate choice of the administration. That it was a choice dictated by the large interests which backed and financed the Republican campaign is a reasonable conjecture.

It is hardly conceivable after this experience that Mr. Coolidge will again present the name of Warren for Attorney-General. If he respects public opinion he should not only abandon Warren but any other candidate of the same stripe representative of the same interests.

The parliamentary victory of the Warren opponents will go down in history as one of the high exploits of political generalship in an honest and popular cause. Missouri was honored on the floor of the Senate by the effective work of Senator Reed, whose argument and array of evidence were invincible and probably had a strong influence in winning over the narrow margin necessary for the defeat of Warren and the administration forces.

A CONSTRUCTIVE VETO.

The fuss and the furore, the tumult and the lobbying, over the Delmar curb ordinance are over. The bill lies dead as an embalmed herring in the archives of the Board of Aldermen. The Mayor, with an eye open to modern safety regulations and the interests of the man, woman or child who has to wait in the middle of a wide boulevard for a street car, killed it with his veto.

By this action the Mayor performs a service valuable to the public and, perhaps, more far-reaching than at present apparent. By saving the system of separation of traffic going in opposite directions and keeping safety isles for car riders on Delmar the Mayor may have given impetus to extension of these safety measures to other boulevards throughout the city.

If such proves to be the case, as we sincerely hope, Mayor Kiel's name may be long remembered as identified with the cause of safety in street construction.

A Washington prohibition agent announces that women and girls found drinking in public will be arrested. In a way that is all right, but it will be quite a job for the men to do all the public drinking in Washington.

OFF MAGDALENA BAY.

Only the most meager reports have sifted back from that naval engagement of the United States fleet with a school of whales off Magdalena Bay. Indeed, they are as terse as communiques. This is the first time the Navy has seen action since Gen. Mitchell began dropping bombs on ships of the line; therefore its particulars are awaited with bated breath.

We are told that the gunners distinguished themselves, but that might mean anything. Were the Navy and the whales equally matched? How many whales were there and how many ships? What were the casualties on both sides? It certainly is to be hoped that the Navy lived up to all its traditions and that the Admiral defied the whales with a proper phrase, such as "We will fight it out on this line if it takes all summer," or that he exhorted his men with "The General Board of the Navy expects every gunner to kill a whale."

This was purely a battleship affair, but it would be most interesting to know what would have happened if the air forces had been called to the scene. In that case, we should have had the answer to the Mitchell controversy. But the Navy had to hog the show, and from the carefully censored description of it, we fear they made a bad job of it. Even now, the whales may be traveling southward under their own steam, in haughty disdain of naval marksmanship.

There'll be no raise in pay for Congressman Tucker, whom the others are calling a first-class sucker.

THE CONTRACTOR INDORSEMENT.

Had it been the purpose of the Municipal Contractors' Association improperly to commit one of the two candidates for Mayor invited to a recent meeting it apparently did not succeed. Both of those candidates have disavowed to the Post-Dispatch any commitment which would have been detrimental to the public interest.

An attempt was made, however, to sound out the candidates on their policy as affecting outside competition. A declaration that, other things being equal, the candidate would prefer a home contractor was the least that might have been expected. A categorical stand against outside contractors would have meant an exclusion of competition. The question as to favoring work by city forces or by private contract had a similar bearing on competition. The alleged attempt to get one or both of the candidates to commit himself to special representation of contractors on the Board of Public Service was clearly improper.

The point made by a contractor that indorsement by the association would hurt more than help a candidate is conclusive. The contractor pull ought to be eliminated if public interest is to prevail.

To Thomas Shapiro beauty was nothing but a skin game.

LOVE—AND THE POPULAR SONGS.

Since kiss rhymes well with Miss
I loved the lass and kissed her;
But, Ah! How short my bliss,
She said she'd be my sister.
In June, how fair the moon—
Lost one, do you remember?
We'll not be married soon—
I loved you in December.

How bright the stars that night,
The night when first I met you;
While now hot sad my plight!
But still I can't forget you.
'Twere gay to love in May
Or even in September,
But my luck runs that way—
I loved her in December.

We sing some little thing
Of loving in the summer,
But what will winter bring?
The coal man and the plumber!
Your eyes, my love, I prize,
And ev'ry other member;
But I am far from wise—
I loved her in December.

It seems that all my dreams
Of liking one and wedding
Must turn to loving schemes
Before the trees start shedding;
Who grieves for love in leaves
May learn to hate bare timber,
How soon the heart deceives—

L'ENVOI

The song, sweet Prince, is wrong,
And love is but an ember;
Though passion seemed so strong
I loved her in December.

The Old Home Town is mighty proud of a native son who goes away and amasses great wealth, but mighty suspicious of him when he comes back for an extended stay with the folks. After 10 days have passed the Old Home Town notices that he smokes 10-cent cigars instead of the three-for-a-dollar sort. It observes that he only gets his shoes shined every other day. It notices a good many $1 bills in the roll he takes out on necessary occasions. The same suit of clothes, it also observes, is worn for three consecutive days, and it begins to be whispered about that our Native Son has probably received a complete trimming in some game of high finance. Wagers of 10 to one, with no takers, are freely offered on the proposition that he is mooching his board and slipping his soiled linen into the family laundry bag when nobody is looking. After two weeks the Native Son's prestige has so completely evaporated that there are none so poor as to do him reverence. And when he gets his visit out and starts back to his place of abode there generally is a widespread report to the effect that his return trip was financed by kinfolk on whom he had been sponging. It is another proof that distance lends enchantment.—Monroe County (Mo.) Appeal.

Sir: This is a busy metropolis. The police are busy with their intricket checker game keeping traffic so arranged that a pedestrian cant cross the street, thereby saving many lives per annum. Why should we not help them? What time has a busy cop got, if any, to give information about where anything is at?

Why should a stranger in the city have to stand on a corner and take chances of maybe biting his tongue trying to make a noise like a bumble bee to ask a busy cop, maybe, "Where is Pestalozzi street?" How many strangers already maybe have strained their membrains just because they wanted to visit a friend down on Accomac avenue?

Many a man who has been found laying up against a building or something, maybe on Walnut street, has probably been arrested for being plain drunk when maybe he was sober but was trying to go collect a bill from somebody that lived on Eichelberger. There are no doubt people in the U. S. who are still cripple for life from writhing on the pavement after taking one dose of trying to say "Where is Duchouquette street?"

If I ever mistakenly get on that avenue just mentioned in writing I wish everybody would just keep quiet and dont tell me where I am at.

I and the professor was on the lookout last week for Vandeventer, and I accented it on the "de." The professor aimed his horned rimmed glasses at me and holding up his hand just like he had picked the first spring violet, he said I should have accented it on the "anti-peanut"—trying to give me the razz because I dont believe in prohibition.

If our fair streets was named like songs, say like "Too Tired" street, it would maybe prevent lots of eye, ear, nose and throat troubles that seems to be in the hospitals. "Hot Mama avenue" and "Charlie-My-Boy place" seems like would be envious places on which to live, and if your friend was coming out to see you and forgot the name of the street, he could maybe whistle the tune to the conductor or bus driver and not stand any chances of getting hurt.

Lots of zest would be added to society notes, say where you write an editorial where Mr. Butcher was married to Miss Katherine Katts last evening and they will make their home on "Feeding-the-Kitty boulevard."

Anyway, the Chamber of Commerce ought to print a little dodger entitled: "Short Cuts to How to Pronounce Our Most Popular Streets, with Hints on How to Tell at a Glance which End of a Street Car to Get on before the Motorman Tells You to Get on the Other End." There are a lot of things that could be said about a subject like "Floating Down Olive with Cane and Gloves" or "Seeing Saint Louis with Seven Cents," but as the famous quotation puts it, "that would be wandering from the subject."

The MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reprint, without bias the latest comment by leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

THE AMERICAN PARTY SYSTEM.

WALTER LIPPMANN in Harper's Magazine.

THE American party system in its actual working is a most extraordinary device for creating a national majority out of regional factions. The party conventions are really the scenes of the great regional battles and compromises which have to take place somewhere if Federalism is to survive. The formal machinery of the American Government—the presidency, the Congress, the Courts—are much too rigid to effect the necessary federal adjustments. They would deadlock and crack under the strain of intransigent partisanship. They are protected against it by the party system, in which, precisely because the loyalty does not coincide with principle, partisanship acts as a cohesive and moderating influence. Instead of a political becoming more and more logical under the pressure of his following, he becomes more conciliatory because he has to keep in touch with a diverse following. Whether this is good or bad must be determined, in the last analysis, not by a prejudice in favor of consistency but by the answer we make to the question: Do we really desire the Federal Government to govern so as to divide the nation into two camps of crusaders? If we do, then the present system is indefensible. But if we take the position that the main business of the Federal Government is to establish security abroad and to check local self-government at home, then a great deal can be said for the party system. It is not a system adapted to the execution of great controversial policies. Major policies can be carried out only with bipartisan co-operation. But it is a system in which the frictions of federalism are reduced to manageable proportions. And that may not be a small service to popular government.

AUTO ACCIDENTS.

From the Thrift Magazine.

DURING the last decade, statistics show the number of automobile accidents has doubled. It must be remembered, however, that during this period the number of cars registered in the country have increased from 1,711,000 in 1914 to more than 10,000,000 in 1924. It is admitted that the number of cars registered and operated is going to increase for many years to come. The saturation point seems as far away today as it was a decade ago. What there would be a normal and reasonable number of fatalities and injuries per year when 20 and even 50,000,000 cars are in operation daily upon our streets and roads? It is reasonable to suppose that as traffic everywhere becomes more and more congested fast and reckless driving will be automatically checked. Drivers take chances now where the highways are open and where there is little danger of being caught. Comparatively few accidents or traffic violations are reported from congested points. Fatalities are most frequent on the streets and roads which are uncovered by the police. More police, therefore, on the unprotected streets of the intercities and along the open roads of the country, would seem to be necessary, if the frightful loss of life is to be cut.

$0,000 TO ST. LOUIS WOMAN UNDER R. C. CLOWRY'S WILL

...tate of One-Time President of Western Union Expected to Run Into Millions.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Although no transfer tax affidavit or petition was submitted with the will of Robert C. Clowry, one-time president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., when it was filed with Surrogate Slater at White Plains yesterday, it was estimated that the value of his estate would be in the millions.

Attached to the will were five codicils, in which he changed the name of executors because of deaths, and increased bequests.

The will, which was dated Sept. 3, 1916, first bequeathed $100,000 to each of his nephews and nieces. There is nothing to show the number of these heirs.

In a codicil dated Jan. 13, 1918, Clowry named Karley Roebling of Trenton, N. J., builder of the Brooklyn Bridge, and Henry D. Seabrook, a brother-in-law, as executors. Both men died before Clowry did.

In a codicil dated July 20, 1920, Clowry directed the executors to pay $2500 free of inheritance taxes to Mrs. Anna R. Adams, as a grateful recognition of her faithful services while in my employ. In a third codicil Clowry increased the bequest to $10,000.

In a fourth codicil, dated June 1, 1921, Clowry appointed Horace G. Roberts of Stamford, Conn., and Franklin J. Scherrer, his private secretary, as executors and trustees. He left $100,000 to Scherrer. The fifth codicil, dated Jan. 21, 1922, bequeathed to Mrs. Agnes Young Cole of Manhattan, $2500 as a grateful recognition of her help to me in Christian Science."

To his niece, Nellie V. Byrne of Chicago, Clowry left $200,000.

In a long list of other bequests is one to Mrs. Lizzie Handy of St. Louis, $10,000.

COOLIDGE WAS 'DELIGHTED'

President Commends Committee on Dignity and Modesty of Inaugural.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Coolidge, in a letter yesterday to W. T. Galliher, chairman of the Inaugural Committee, expressed himself as "much delighted with the dignity, the modesty and, it seemed to me, the appropriateness of all the ceremonies" attending his inauguration last Wednesday.

"I have to congratulate you," the President wrote, "and all who participated with you in the labors and responsibilities, on the excellent taste and sound judgment everywhere manifested, both in conception and in execution of the day's plans. I feel that I ought to say frankly to you that I was much delighted with the dignity, the modesty and, as it seemed to me, the appropriateness of all the ceremonies."

Cattlemen May Become Ranchers.

CHICAGO, March 11.—James Antonitto, former Italian Count, and his wife, who was Ida May Swift, may devote themselves actively to raising beef cattle on a ranch near Phoenix, Ariz., although his business associates say the plans are only tentative. They are now on the way to California after a sojourn in Arizona. Since their marriage in 1916, the Count has been an importer, vice president of a Chicago bank and a cattle man.

It must be remembered, however, that during this period the number of cars registered in the country have increased from 1,711,000 in 1914 to more than 15,000,000 in 1924. It is admitted that the number of cars registered and operated is going to increase for many years to come. The saturation point seems as far away today as it was a decade ago. What then, would be a normal and reasonable number of fatalities and injuries per year when 20, 30 and even 50,000,000 cars are in operation daily upon our streets and roads? It is reasonable to suppose that as traffic everywhere becomes more and more congested fast and reckless driving will be automatically checked. Drivers take chances now where the highways are open and where there is little danger of being caught. Comparatively few accidents or traffic violations are reported from congested points. Fatalities are most frequent on the streets and roads which are not covered by the police. More police, therefore, on the unprotected streets of the large cities and along the open roads of the country, would seem to be necessary, if this frightful loss of life is to be cut.

$10,000 TO ST. LOUIS WOMAN UNDER R. C. CLOWRY'S WILL

Estate of One-Time President of Western Union Expected to Run Into Millions.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Although no transfer tax affidavit or petition was submitted with the will of Robert C. Clowry, one-time president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., when it was filed with Surrogate Slater at White Plains yesterday, it was estimated that the value of his estate would be in the millions.

Attached to the will were five codicils, in which he changed the name of executors because of deaths, and increased bequests.

The will, which was dated Sept. 15, 1916, first bequeathed $100,000 to each of his nephews and nieces. There is nothing to show the number of these heirs.

In a codicil dated Jan. 13, 1918, Clowry named Karley Roebling of Trenton, N. J., builder of the Brooklyn Bridge, and Henry D. Cruikshank, a brother-in-law, as executors. Both men died before Clowry did.

In a codicil dated July 20, 1920, Clowry directed the executors to pay $2500 free of inheritance taxes to "Mrs. Anna R. Adams," as a grateful recognition of her faithful services while in my employ. In a third codicil Clowry increased the bequest to $10,000.

In a fourth codicil, dated June 11, 1921, Clowry appointed Horace L. Roberts of Stamford, Conn., and Franklin J. Scherrer, his private secretary, as executors and trustees. He left $100,000 to Scherrer. The fifth codicil, dated Jan. 21, 1922, bequeathed to Mrs. Agnes Young Cole of Manhattan, $2500 "as a grateful recognition of her help to me in Christian Science."

To his niece, Nellie V. Byrne of Chicago, Clowry left $200,000.

In a long list of other bequests is one to Mrs. Lizzie Handy of St. Louis, $10,000.

EBERT OPPOSED MUNITIONS STRIKES, COURT IS INFORMED

Statement of Late German President Read Into Record of Case Appealing Libel Verdict.

By the Associated Press.

MAGDEBURG, Germany, March 11.—"I was opposed in principle to the munitions strikes," declares the statement of the late President Ebert, drafted shortly before his death which was read into the court records today to show that the late President could not have committed the treason attributed to him in the decision of the Madgeburg Lower Court rendered in Ebert's libel suit against Editor Rothardt. The present hearing is on an appeal which was taken by both sides.

The statement, which Ebert had intended to read at a sitting of the Appeal Court at the executive mansion in Berlin, continues:

"I joined the strike committee at the request of the Socialist party executive with the single firm intention of ending the strike at the earliest possible moment and in such a manner as would make its renewed outbreak impossible."

The late chief executive of Germany insisted that he supported the idea of national defense throughout the war and considered the defeat more terrible even than the war. The statement adds: "With indignation I deny the implication that I intended to injure the armed forces of the nation."

NOTE BY BISHOP QUALE

Shortly Before He Died He Sent Humorous Message.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 11.—Bishop William A. Quayle, shortly before his death Monday, in reply to a note of sympathy from the Kansas City preachers' meeting, sent the following characteristic reply:

"Dear Brethern: It was good of you to stop to think of my estate, and I thank you. I promise not to do gymnastics on the open highway. It is no way for an attired or retired minister to do. If I ever get over this bit of pleasantry I am through with frivolity henceforth. Let no one follow my example. I was graceful, certainly, but some things edify not. Is is edification we are after in this world."

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

C. OF C. PARTY BACK, PREDICTING INCREASED TRADE

Members and Friends, Numbering 80, Report Great Time on Trip to Latin America.

RECEPTIONS FOR THEM EVERYWHERE

W. Palmer Clarkson, President of Chamber, Describes Trip — Special Race Program at Havana

A concentrated flurry of greetings and farewells, by a group of representative citizens, such as doesn't happen often even at Union Station, marked the end of a three-week Latin-American "good will tour" of the Chamber of Commerce, when an Illinois Central special train arrived this morning from New Orleans.

While the tour is over, the memory of good times lingers with all the travelers, and the business men among them are looking forward to improved commercial relations with the countries visited, as a result. Previous Chamber of Commerce trips over virtually the same route were made late in 1922 and early in 1924.

The party this time numbered 80, including members of the chamber, their wives, children and friends. A number of them carried orchids, obtained in New Orleans, upon their arrival at Union Station.

Clarkson's Story of Trip.

W. Palmer Clarkson, president of the chamber, who was a target for friendly slaps on the back and remarks of, "Great trip, Palmer," as the party broke up, gave reporters the following description of the journey, which began Feb. 18:

"We went to New Orleans by train and there the port officials gave us a most interesting trip in the harbor, arriving at the mouth of the Mississippi before dark and seeing the jetties built by James Eads.

"We took the United Fruit Steamer Cartago, which had just room enough for us, and went to Havana, Cuba. Ambassador Crowder, a Missourian, met us at the dock and remained with us the three days we were there. He arranged for a reception by the President, but the President was ill and this was canceled. A delegation of ladies met Mrs. Philip N. Moore at Havana, and she addressed the women there.

"They had a special racing program in our honor, calling it 'St. Louis day.' I didn't take part in the betting part of the program, but I guess the others broke even. We saw the celebrations of the Cuban national holiday. It wasn't arranged by any organization, but everybody took part. Thousands of decorated automobiles paraded. I wondered what would happen if we had a free-for-all celebration in St. Louis.

A Round of Receptions.

"When we landed at Port Antonio, Jamaica, we were much surprised to find six representatives of the Jamaica Chamber of Commerce to greet us. They had driven 70 miles from Kingston, and 40 would have come, but there were no hotel accommodations. There was a ball at Port Antonio and next day we drove to Kingston over the mountains. Many men and women were going along the road, the women carrying burdens and the men strolling or riding horses. There was a delightful lunch at Kingston and the Mayor headed a delegation to greet us. The newspaper there devoted its whole front page to welcoming our party.

"Our ship picked us up at Kingston and took us to Cristobal, Canal Zone. There was a special train taking us to Gatun locks and a launch took us on to Pedro Miguel locks. A Panama Chamber of Commerce delegation met us in the city of Panama. There was afternoon tea at the golf club, the president received us, and there was a splendid ball at the Union Club, built over the Pacific Ocean shore.

"Returning to Cristobal, we took the ship to Port Limon, Costa Rica, and then went on one of the prettiest trips I ever made. 30 miles through the swamps by train, then a climb of 6000 feet in the next 70 miles to the capital, San Jose. The American Minister, Roy Davis, a Missourian, had a reception for us, and we called on the President, who received us very graciously. A 16-year-old boy in San Jose, whom I saw there two years ago, remembered me and said he had saved enough to come to the States, so I am going to try to find work for him. We took the ship on to New Orleans and came home."

This NEW way will bring them quickly. Simply send the coupon. Make this unique dental test. See what a great difference a few days will make—it removes the film that invites "off color" and unhealthy teeth and gums.

HERE is a simple dental test. A test that will work a great change in the color of your teeth, in the color and firmness of your gums.

You may not realize it, but yet be handicapping yourself immeasurably with a smile that lacks the attraction of glistening whiteness and healthy gums.

So, for your own sake, send the coupon. It means so much to you.

That stubborn and dangerous film
You must remove it

Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles, directly or indirectly, to a germ-laden film that forms on your teeth.

You can't see it with your eyes, but run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel it . . . a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color" and dingy.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and decay.

You can't have pretty teeth unless you combat it. Highest authorities all tell you this.

Brushing won't end it

Ordinary dentifrices and cleasing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its duty.

Now new methods are being used. A dentifrice called Pepsodent—different in formula, action and effect from any other known.

Largely on dental advice the world has turned to it. Tooth and gum troubles hence are on the decline.

It removes that film.
And Firms the Gums

It accomplishes two important things at once: Removes that film, then firms the gums. No harsh grit, judged dangerous to enamel.

A few days' use will prove its power beyond all doubt. Why cling to old methods when world's authorities urge a better way?

MAN, 74, KILLED BY AUTO; DRIVER FAILS TO STOP

William C. Miller, Employed as Houseman at 522 North Newstead, Hit by Ford Roadster.

FIFTH CASE OF THE KIND THIS YEAR

Two Witnesses Say Man in Machine Looked Back but Ignored Their Shouts to Him to Stop.

A general order has been issued for the arrest of the driver of a Ford roadster who feloniously fled from the scene after his automobile had struck and killed William C. Miller, 74 years old, as the latter was crossing the street at 4234 Washington boulevard, at 8:50 o'clock last night.

The driver, after slowing his car and looking back at the man he had run down, speeded up and continued west to Pendleton avenue, then north. Miller, who suffered a skull fracture and other injuries, died immediately. Two witnesses, who described the car and driver, told police they had shouted to him to stop.

Miller had been employed for seven years as a houseman by Mrs. Elizabeth West, 522 North Newstead avenue, and resided in the basement there. He had left there at 5:30 o'clock to buy a newspaper. His possessions included $1, a small bottle of whisky and a notebook containing the names of a brother and sister living in the East. Miller is understood formerly to have been a fireman for the Pennsylvania lines.

This was the fifth case this year in which automobile drivers have feloniously fled after fatally injuring pedestrians. The number of fatalities from motor vehicles this year is 37, as compared with 32 for a similar period last year.

MAN WHO SHOT HUSBAND OF EX-WIFE INDICTED FOR MURDER

An indictment charging Michael Muvesz, 55 years old, of 3670 Hickory street, with murder in the first degree in connection with the death of August Lehoesky, 49, of 4328 Gano avenue, was returned yesterday by the grand jury.

Lehoesky died March 2 of a bullet wound inflicted Feb. 28 by Muvesz, after a quarrel over the recent marriage of Lehoesky to Muvesz' former wife. The shooting occurred at the home of a daughter of Muvesz.

'TRIAL DIVORCE' FAILS, WIFE WANTS REAL ONE

Richard Bennett, Actor, Accused by Actress Mate of Misconduct With Women.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch

NEW YORK, March 11.—The "personality separation," or "six-blocks' divorce," which Richard Bennett, well-known actor, and his actress wife, Adrienne Morrison, entered upon in 1923, has failed to prove the success they both hoped, and yesterday Mrs. Bennett's attorneys filed a suit for divorce in the County Clerk's office.

Mrs. Bennett charges her husband with misconduct with a person "unknown to her" May 26, 1924, at the address to which Bennett moved when he and his wife decided the solution of their domestic problems lay in an amicable separation and separate establishments.

In addition to her specific charge of misconduct, Mrs. Bennett also accuses her huband of wrongdoing with other persons unknown to her, at various places, between Feb. 15, 1920, and Dec. 11, last.

The papers in his wife's divorce suit were served upon Bennett in February. According to George Gordon Battle, attorney for Mrs. Bennett, Bennett made no attempt to file an answer to his wife's complaint and the time limit allowed him by law to do so has expired, indicating he dpes not intend to oppose his wife's efforts to gain a legal divorce.

According to Battle, the question of alimony has already been settled and when the case comes up for trial in the undefended divorce part of the Supreme Court, Mrs. Bennett will ask for custody of their three children, Constance, 20 years old; Barbara, 18, and Joan, 14.

Dr. K. E. Wettstone, president of Dubuque University, addressed the Executive Committee, expressing appreciation of the co-operation being given throughout the city.

The Executive Committee decided to bring to St. Louis next month a group of foreign students resident at the Dubuque University, so that they may make talks in various parts of the city.

CONSTANT PATRON OF OLD ENGLISH HOSTELRY 72 YEARS

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Francis Bourn is a candidate for the Hall of Fame, for he just completed a run of 72 annual helpings of the famous but heavy meat puddings, the product of the "Olde Cheshire Cheese" of Fleet street. The pudding is served free at the hostelry to all customers at the opening of the season each year. Bourn is 92 years old and still healthy. He has been a constant customer at the Cheshire Cheese, he says, since 1851.

The inaugural ceremony is usually presided over by some noted figure, such as the Premier, a Cabinet Minister or an Ambassador, and a place of honor is always reserved for the persons who can claim to be the oldest customer of the inn. Mr. Bourn has received the first helping in this seat of honor for the last 13 years and has had his pudding served by the late American Ambassador, Walter Hines Page; and Ambassadors Davis and George Harvey.

The famous pudding is known to contain rump steak, kidney, lark and oysters.

Legislation to Be Directed on Excess of Drink Shops.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, Feb. 20.—The Free State Government has appointed a commission of nine persons to inquire into the excess in the number of drink shops. There are more than 15,000 in the 26 counties. Some small towns have as many as 70 shops where drink is sold. It is agreed that at least half the number should be abolished, and the work of the commission is to find out what scale of reduction should be adopted.

As in England, which has seen a large reduction in the number of drink shops, the problem of compensating the dispossessed has to be faced. The report of the commission is intended to form the basis of future legislation.

GRIMM EXPLAINS HIS LETTER TO MILLER

Written Before Miller Showed 'Plentiful Lack of Judgment,' Former Judge Says.

Former Circuit Judge J. Hugo Grimm, Republican candidate for Mayor, said today that the letter he had written Victor J. Miller in August, 1921, commending the latter's official conduct at that time, was prior to Miller's charges of immorality in Soldan High School and in no way related to commendation of the "plentiful lack of good judgment his later conduct indicated."

"I have always commended faithful service and always will," Grimm said. "However, I never have and never will commend a lack of good judgment or a failure to exercise it, either as a virtue or as a recommendation for a responsible position."

Judge Grimm had observed in a speech that it was amusing to him the way Miller offered his dismissal from the Police Board as a recommendation of his fitness for Mayor. Miller retaliated by showing a letter from Grimm, commending his course. This was prior to Miller's difficulties with the Governor, which led to his removal.

Explains Object of Letter.

"I did write Mr. Miller the letter of Aug. 1, 1921, from Toledo, O.," Grimm said. "Just what the clipping from the Toledo Blade contained I do not recall, but have no doubt it related to some opposition to his conduct as Police Commissioner by some influential lawbreakers. Of course I encouraged him to go right on and do his duty. I favored law enforcement and efficient police service then as I do now and thought it proper to encourage all efforts to that end.

"When I returned to St. Louis about 10 days later I found that Mr. Miller had withdrawn the policemen who had been detailed to act as parole officers for our Circuit Courts, and at once wrote him, pointing out his serious mistake. For some time we were without anything like a parole officer, and the Board of Religious Organizations volunteered to furnish and pay for the services of such an officer. I opposed this because I believed we needed public officials and that it was not good policy to acept such service from a private agency.

"Some six months later Mr. Miller made his sensational charges regarding conditions at the Soldan High School. Law enforcement and good judgment required that if any conditions such as he said existed, that he take the matter up with the Superintendent of Schools, and if he could get no satisfaction there (which I seriously doubt), then present the matter to the Juvenile Court. That would be law enforcement—but if such lawful method had been pursued there would not have been the publicity which Mr. Miller seems to crave.

"I have not criticised Mr. Miller's desire to make the police force do good work, nor his declamations in favor of law enforcement. What I have done was to point out that the criminal laws of the State are enforced by the State criminal courts and their officers, and not by the Mayor. That the extent of his power in this direction is in the appointment of the two Judges of the city courts. I have also pointed out that the police force is a State institution under the control of the Governor, and that the Mayor is only an ex-officio member of a board of five Police Commissioners, the other four being appointees of the Governor.

"I have not questioned Mr. Miller's good intentions, but I have questioned his judgment. He seems to have a plentiful lack of it.

"At the meeting at which he says I criticised him, Mr. Miller spoke before me and said he wanted the people of St. Louis to act as a jury in deciding who should be the Republican candidate for Mayor, and that he wished them to consider the evidence as a jury would. He then proceeded to lay the evidence in support of his claim before the audience and mentioned that after he had been appointed President of the Police Board by the Governor he was first demoted and then discharged altogether by the Governor.

"All I said was that a political campaign had its humorous sides, and that it would strike the average man as quite amusing to be told that an applicant for a position would submit as a testimonial a letter from his former employer discharging him. This struck me as quite as funny as his statement that the Mayor's contingent fund is a part of his salary and emoluments, which he could not agree to surrender in advance without violating the law. This indicated a rather poor knowledge of the law. If he were to treat this fund as belonging to him, he might be treated to a dose of law eqforcement which he would not relish."

Grimm Active in Red Cross and Draft Work During War.

The campaign committee working for Judge Grimm's nomination for Mayor today directed attention to the fact that a recently published sketch of his career did not mention his activities during the war period.

Judge Grimm, besides attending his judicial duties, was Field Director of the Red Cross at Jefferson Barracks from July, 1917, to January, 1918, and was a member of the Legal Advisory Committee of the Sixteenth Ward Draft Board. Three of his five sons were in service, and a fourth, rejected because of defective vision, served as Second Lieutenant and Captain in the Red Cross in France. Judge Grimm was active in the Liberty Loan campaigns.

This struck me as quite as funny as his statement that the Mayor's contingent fund is a part of his salary and emoluments, which he could not agree to surrender in advance without violating the law. This indicated a rather poor knowledge of the law. If he were to treat this fund as belonging to him, he might be treated to a dose of law enforcement which he would not relish."

Grimm Active in Red Cross and Draft Work During War.

The campaign committee working for Judge Grimm's nomination for Mayor today directed attention to the fact that a recently published sketch of his career did not mention his activities during the war period.

Judge Grimm, besides attending his judicial duties, was Field Director of the Red Cross at Jefferson Barracks from July, 1917, to January, 1918, and was a member of the Legal Advisory Committee of the Sixteenth Ward Draft Board. Three of his five sons were in service, and a fourth, rejected because of defective vision, served as second Lieutenant and Captain in the Red Cross in France. Judge Grimm was active in the Liberty Bond campaigns.

STORM CAUSES BIG DAMAGE IN ILLINOIS AND INDIANA TOWNS

Several Persons Injured, Houses and Barns Leveled and Wire Service Impaired.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 11.—Indiana and Southeastern Illinois suffered severe damage by a storm which swept over the two states yesterday and last night. Several persons were injured, none seriously. The storm apparently struck in Edgar County, Ill., and then moved eastward in the general direction of Terre Haute, unroofing houses, blowing down trees and barns. Telephone and telegraph service also was impaired.

In Edgar County, where the damage was estimated at $75,000, about a dozen homes and the Methodist church were leveled. Ten houses were destroyed near Paris, Ill.

At Terre Haute the storm blew down a number of houses and unroofed several buildings at St. Marys of the Woods' Academy, west of that city, causing damage estimated at more than $50,000.

At Rochester, Ind., where the storm assumed proportions bordering on a tornado, numerous barns were razed and the fence and grandstand of the county fair grounds demolished, causing damage of about $75,000. Claypool, Ind., reported houses and barns demolished and many trees uprooted. The damage in this village was estimated at $30,000.

Traction car service out of Indianapolis was temporarily disrupted.

HAND-PAINTED SLIPPERS FOR EVENING IN VOGUE IN LONDON

Novelty Introduced by the Duchess of York Creates Work for Artists.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Hand-painted slippers for evening wear, which are the vogue just now, have created work for numerous artists who had never thought of doing anything of the kind before, but who have found that this kind of painting pays them better than turning out pictures.

The novelty was introduced in London by the popular Duchess of York, who is one of the smartest of the smartly attired young women. The idea spread like wildfire, and was quickly taken up by other society women.

The foundation of these shoes is satin, mostly in delicate shades, although there have been some exquisite models in old gold, bronze and black. On the toe cap, and tapering off along each side, neat designs are painted in delicate shades to match the color of the satin.

Orchestra Troupe in Auto Mishap.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Husk O'Hare, noted orchestra leader, and four members of one of his troupe, were injured early today when an automobile in which they were returning to Chicago skidded and overturned. Roy F. Murphy, one of the party, was taken to an Elgin hospital seriously injured, physicians said.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them 15c and 30c

STATE CONTROL OF BUS LINES NEARER

All Amendments to Give Cities Supervisory Rights Are Voted Down.

From the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—The Senate yesterday engrossed the McCawley bill placing motor bus lines under the control and regulation of the State Public Service Commission, after voting down amendment after amendment by Senators from St. Louis and Kansas City, which would enable those cities to regulate the use of their streets by the bus lines. A total of 59 amendments were offered to the bill from various sources.

The Senate defeated several proposed amendments by Senators Brogan and Kinney of St. Louis, and Summers of Kansas City, which would enable those cities to designate the routes to be used by the bus lines, and control operation of the busses. One amendment by Kinney, which was defeated, would require bus lines first to obtain a permit from a municipality to use its streets before being granted a certificate of necessity and convenience to operate by the Public Service Commission.

Another defeated amendment would have excluded St. Louis from provisions of the bill. Kinney attacked another section which would enable the commission to grant to any street railway system the right to operate motor busses in conjunction with its established street car lines.

Kinney declared this would enable the United Railways Co. of St. Louis to put the Peoples Motorbus Co. out of business in St. Louis, by establishing parallel lines with those of the Peoples company. An amendment by Kinney striking out that section was defeated.

The Senate also rejected an amendment by Senator Snodgrass which would have excluded from provisions of the bill the so-called "jitney" lines operating cars with passenger capacity of five or less.

The bill as engrossed imposes an annual license fee on motor busses, ranging from $30 to $200 a bus, determined by the passenger carrying capacity. In addition it would require the companies to pay to the State 3 per cent of the gross revenue derived on passenger traffic within the city of St. Louis and within Jackson County, and 2 per cent of the gross revenue on operations in all parts of the State.

Attempt to Rob Safe.

Failing to open the inner door of a safe from which they had knocked the combination, cracksmen last night took two phonographs, valued at $35 each, from the Bly-Moss Furniture Co., 4017 West Florissant avenue. Entrance to the building was gained through a rear window.

GOLD MAT FOUND IN ANCIENT TOMB

Name on Sarcophagus Indicates Mummy Within Is That of Princess.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, March 11.—A cable received by Dr. George A. Reisner, professor of Egyptology at Harvard and director of the Harvard University-Boston Museum of Fine Arts Egyption expedition, definitely establishes the tomb just discovered by the expedition near Gizeh pyramids as being some 1700 years older than the tomb of Tutankhamen and of a period of which little has been discovered heretofore.

The cable was from Alan Rowe, chief assistant of the expedition, an Australian who has been working with Dr. Reisner for three years. Duncan Greenless is the second assistant of the expedition.

The text of the cable was made public as follows:

"The new tomb reported from the excavations of the Harvard-Boston expedition at Gizeh is the only important intact tomb yet found previous to Dynasty VI. It is to be dated to the time of King Seneferu, the first King of Dynasty IV, the predecessor of Cheops, that is, a period of 100 years up to about 3000 B. C. The new tomb is situated about 100 meters due east of the great pyramid of Cheops.

"During the final clearing of the rock surface, a patch of white plaster was noted which covered masonry consisting of massive blocks laid in plaster. On removing the plaster a stairway was disclosed filled with blocks of stone, also laid in plaster. On removing these, 11 steps appeared which led down southwards to the side of a square shaft blocked in a similar manner, and the stones were carefully laid to imitate the natural rock.

"At eight meters down the shaft a closed recess was found in the shaft wall which contained a sacrificial offering consisting of a bull's head and legs, matting and pots. At 26 meters the top of the burial chamber was reached on the south side of the shaft. The bottom of the shaft was reached at 30 meters. On removing the top course of stone in the masonry block which closed the door of the burial chamber, the chamber was seen to be about 18 feet long by 12 feet wide. Inside was an alabaster sarcophagus intact and on the coffin lay an elaborate woven gold mat with a line of incised hieroglyphics, giving the name Nebti-Seneferu, which seems to be the name of the person buried in the coffin. The name indicates that she was a lady, probably a Princess.

"The posts of the sarcophagus are sheathed in gold and the floor of the chamber is covered with vessels of bronze and alabaster and a quantity of gilded wooden furniture which is in bad condition. Many objects are not yet identifiable. The Egyptian authorities have put a barbed wire fence around the area, in order to prevent intrusion on the part of the public and the work of clearing the tomb is proceeding satisfactorily.

"This tomb is not that of either Seneferu or Cheops. It was in existence when the first pyramid at Gizeh, that of Cheops, was built, and the superstructure of the tomb must have been cleared away by the architects of Cheops when they built the causeway which led from the valley to the temple in front of the Cheops pyramid. The tomb is to be dated probably to the reign of Seneferu."

Church Dating Back to Eighth Century Found in Egypt.

By the Associated Press.

ASSOUAN, Upper Egypt, March 11.—Prof. Ugo Monnert, an Italian cavant, who has been engaged for some time in excavations near here, announced that he has unearthed a church belonging to the Monastery of St. Simeon, dating from the eighth century; also a large quantity of papyri and a valuable collection of coptic pottery.

The discovered is expected to throw light on the history of the Middle Ages.

ROBBERS CLEAN OUT CLOTHING STORE AFTER ITS OPENING DAY

Merchandise Valued at $2000 Taken Away in Trunk From Cherokee Street Place.

Clothing valued at $2000 was taken from the Washington Credit Clothing Co., 2822 Cherokee street, last night by robbers, who jimmied a basement door and hauled their loot away in a truck.

The store had opened only yesterday, having moved to its quarters Saturday. Police found the door had been opened and notified the proprietors, who, after a hasty inventory, declared they were "cleaned out."

Burglars, who gained admittance into the J. O. Smith Plumbing Co., 4025 Forest Park boulevard, by breaking a rear window, last night obtained $95 from the company's safe. After climbing over a partition which separated the office from the stock room, the robbers rolled the 400-pound safe into the rear room and opened it with tools they found there.

Isaac Kodner, a butcher, 1207 Glasgow avenue, was held up this morning by two armed men, who obtained $22.

Car Extension Hearing Postponed.

The public hearing on the extension of the Market street car line to Brentwood and beyond, scheduled for tomorrow, has been postponed indefinitely by an agreement today between attorneys for the United Railways Co. and the city of Brentwood. Two attorneys who were to argue before the Public Service Commission, are ill, it was explained. A new date for the hearing has not been set.

Kennard's

Established 1856

Kennard's Window Shades Are Used Exclusively in Many of the Largest Office Buildings, Clubs, Residences and Hospitals in St. Louis.

This Popularity Is Founded on Merit

Kennard's have been making Window Shades for 69 years. They have thoroughly tested every make and variety of Window Shade material, and, as a result of long experience, employ and endorse only the best qualities of the following internationally known Shade fabrics.

John King & Sons' Imported Scotch Holland and Stewart Hartshorn's Shade Products

Complete in All Colors, Plain and Duplex, Oil Opaque and Tinted Cambrics

All Kennard's Shades are mounted on Stewart Hartshorn spring rollers of 1 inch or more in diameter, as careful observation over many years' time has proven the unvarying dependability of this roller. It is Kennard's experience that any roller less than 1 inch in diameter will not give proper service.

In addition to using only the finest fabrics and the best rollers obtainable, Kennard's cut all their Shades 9 inches longer than the window to prevent the possibility of pulling the Shade off the roller when drawn down to the sill.

All shade fixtures are attached with screws instead of nails to avoid disfigurement to woodwork. Screws are also more easily removed in case of moving to a new location.

SHERIFF DENIES CHARGES OF LAW LAXITY AT WELLSTON

Prosecutor Says Girl Named in Protest Was Not Kidnaped but Left Home Voluntarily.

The 19-year-old Wellston girl, on whose behalf 30 determined women on Monday invaded the County Court, throwing out incidental charges of flaunted vice and drinking deputies, was not kidnaped by four men, but voluntarily left her home, Prosecuting Attorney Mueller announced yesterday after questioning the girl, who is now an inmate of the House of the Good Shepherd.

The prosecutor said he was unable to find grounds for kidnaping or other charges against any of the men, one of whom was a former husband of the girl, Miss Bertha Laspe, of 6504 Curtis avenue. Her story yesterday, he said, was the same she told Jan. 23 when she was sent to the institution from Juvenile Court for delinquency.

If definite instances of the more general charges the women made were brought to him, he remarked, he would prosecute where the facts warranted or lay the matter before the next grand jury.

Sheriff Wilmas, who has four deputies whose duties center in Wellston, said: "I don't have to investigate the conduct of my deputies or the conditions they permit to exist. I know. Those men are good 'coppers,' not drinking men."

He ran through the "blotter" and showed that of the 12 latest arrivals in the Clayton jail, eight had been arrested in Wellston by his men. "Besides the four men there regularly," he said, "the night riders from my office make frequent visits to that community. I don't know what more they expect."

RAID DISCLOSES PLANT FOR DE-ALCOHOLIZING "RUB"

Large Supply of Alcohol and Many Empty Patent Liquid Bottles Found in Man's Home.

The de-alcoholizing of alcohol rub, for beverage purposes, apparently was the occupation of Tony Demma, 22 years old, before police raided his home at 1017 Wash street yesterday.

Capt. Nally of Carr Street District had received an anonymous telephone tip that he would find "something interesting" there. He found Demma seated on the floor of a second-floor room diligently scrubbing a copper still with a brush, hot water and soap.

"Who belongs to that?" asked Capt. Nally. "I do, it's mine," said Demma.

A search revealed 30 cartons, 12 bottles each, labeled "Fries Rub, Cincinnati and New York, 92 per cent alcohol." There were 64 five-gallon cans of distilled alcohol, 40 empty cans and 70 cartons of empty rub bottles, as well as eight bushels of assorted empty bottles, a 50-gallon vat, and the still. The alcohol, equipment and Demma were taken to Carr Street Station in a patrol wagon. The prisoner will be turned over to Federal authorities.

MISS M'GUIRE RECOVERING FROM AMNESIA ATTACK

Father of Girl Who Was Missing 47 Days Writes to Warden of Chicago Hospital.

Miss Charlotte McGuire, 22 years old, of 5545 Wells avenue, who was a patient suffering from amnesia in Cook County Hospital, Chicago, for 47 days, until identified after an appeal in her own voice over radio, is almost completely recovered from the attack. This is the information contained in a letter from the girl's father to Warden Zimmer of the Cihcago institution, as related in a dispatch today.

The letter also contained the information that the girl early in life was administered a local anaesthetic of cocaine for a nasal operation, and in the opinion of the hospital physicians this may have been a causative factor in the subsequent amnesia attack.

As has been told, Charlotte's appeal was heard over the radio and led to her identification by her aunt, Mrs. Georgia Griffiths, 1234 Temple place, who went to Chicago and returned with her niece. The girl had left St. Louis in November, telling her parents she wished to find employment away from St. Louis, and was next found wandering, and unable to identify herself, in the Union Station at Chicago.

AUTO ROLLS OVER 15-MONTH OLD CHILD PLAYING IN YARD

Lee Rehfelt, 15 months old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rehfelt of 325 North Sixth street, East St. Louis, was run over and injured yesterday by the automobile of Alonzo Akregge of 715 North Seventh street, East St. Louis, an uncle of the child. Akregge and Rehfeldt, while making repairs on the car in the back yard of the Rehfelt home, released the emergency brake and the front wheel of the car rolled over the child at the waist.

"We brought the baby in and prayed for it," said the mother, "myself and two married sisters who live here, too, with my father and mother. After about half an hour the baby began to get all right again. We had faith."

But neighbors had called the police, who insisted on taking the child to the hospital for examination, where it was found that no bones were broken and the injuries not serious.

DETROIT UNITED RAILWAY PUT IN RECEIVERSHIP

Directors Approve Action, Saying Lack of Ready Assets to Meet Obligations Caused Order.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., March 11.—The Detroit United Railway lines, operating interurban and city lines in and between several Michigan cities, yesterday was placed under receivership on the petitions of the Yellow Coach Manufacturing Company, which was granted in Federal court by Judge Charles C. Simons.

At the same time Judge Simons issued a restraining order enjoining all creditors and others from interfering in any way with the operation of the lines during the life of the receivership.

Directors of the railway at a meeting approved the receivership. In a statement to shareholders, announcing the receivership, directors of the company explained that no default in interest or dividend payments is contemplated. Lack of ready assets to meet current obligations was given as the reason for the action.

The annual statement of the company Dec. 31, 1924, gave the assets above all liabilities as $18,293,656.87.

The petition of the Yellow Coach Manufacturing Co. sets forth that the railway is indebted to it to the sum of $24,879.81, and that $276,686.75 "presently will become due for motor coaches and materials sold and delivered."

DRIVER OF TRUCK INDICTED ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Roy Toothman Held in Connection With Death of Youth After Accident March 1.

An indictment charging Roy Toothman, 27 years old, of 2736 Franklin avenue, with manslaughter and leaving the scene of an accident was returned yesterday by the grand jury in connection with the death, March 1, of John Schwefferman, 15, of 2918 North Ninth street, who died of injuries suffered when run over by a truck at Eleventh and Buchanan streets.

The truck sped away but shortly after the accident the police learned the truck collided with a parked automobile at Nineteenth and Branch streets, and the driver fled from that scene also. Tracing the license number, policemen visited a garage at 1801 Cass avenue, where several trucks are kept by the Schaeffer Construction Co., and there found a truck with a broken headlight and the tip of an acetyline headlight burner missing. A burner tip, found at the scene of the collision fitted the break.

Toothman was arrested at the garage and was treated at city hospital for alcoholism. A Coroner's jury held him under $10,000 bond on a charge of homicide at the inquest.

WOMAN SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL WHEN HIT BY TRUCK

Driver Is Charged With Operating Truck While Intoxicated.

Miss Marian Thompson, 18, of 2605A South Broadway, suffered a skull fracture when she was struck by a truck as she was crossing Sidney street at Broadway last evening. Arthur Weber, 2618 Armand place, was charged with driving the truck while intoxicated.

Mrs. Anna Wollmershauser, 38, of 4027 Hartford street, suffered injuries to her scalp and back yesterday afternoon in an unusual accident. Her automobile stalled at Tower Grove and Shaw avenues and, thinking the gasoline supply exhausted, she started to push it to the curb. The motor started and when she attempted to jump on the running board to apply the brakes, she was thrown to the street. The car stopped itself by running against another machine.

An automobile driven by Carl Hoffman, 821 South Sixth street, was wrecked in a collision with a train of box cars at the Long warehouse, 835 Gratiot street, yesterday afternoon. Hoffman escaped injury by jumping from his car.

SIDENER SAYS HE WAS EAGER TO TRY CASE OF MEININGER

Returns From Union, Where He Accepted Continuances for Bank Looter and Hogan Trials.

Circuit Attorney Sidener returned to St. Louis today after two days in Union Mo., where the cases of Arthur O. Meininger, looter of the defunct Night and Day Bank of St. Louis, and Jimmy Hogan of the Hogan gang, charged with robbing a bank messenger, were continued on defense motions.

Sidener said he was ready and eager to try either or both cases at this time, but accepted the continuances which the defense attorneys asked.

The Hogan case was laid over until March 30 because his lawyer, Frank Farris, is in the State Legislature.

The Meininger cases were continued to the August term, when William Baer, defense attorney, explained he had not been able to fully prepare himself because of the press of other business.

Make this easy test yourself

Are you a victim of blood-starvation?

DO you wake up in the morning eager for the new day, looking forward to its work and play keenly—with anticipation—or is your feeling just, "Here's another day!"

Successful men and women, people who have succeeded in the largest meaning of the word, are eager for life. Stop and think—that's true, isn't it? The successes in life enjoy life.

But here is something you may not know... the difference between success and failure is often the condition of your blood. Vitality—your energy—depends upon your blood condition. Rich, full lives need rich, red, energy-building blood.

For thirty-two years, Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been prescribed by thousands of physicians as the safe way and the quick way to enrich the blood—give it those qualities it needs for producing power. It is the sure way to combat Anemia—that disease which thousands have and only hundreds know about. Yet it is Anemia—impoverished blood—that is usually responsible for lack of energy and ambition.

The iron and manganese content of Gude's Pepto-Mangan is easily assimilated by the blood and carried to every cell of the body, rebuilding its latent power.

Your druggist has Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. Start a good habit today.

Squeeze the thumbnail hard. Unless it reddens again instantly, Anemia is indicated.

Pull down the lower eyelid as illustrated. Unless the inner lid is a bright scarlet, Anemia may exist.

President Coolidge Invited.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Washington baseball officials yesterday put in their bid to have President Coolidge open the season here on April 22 by throwing out the first ball in the game with the New York Yankees. An official invitation was extended at the White House and the President is expected to accept it if he is in the city at that time. He was regular in attending the world's series last fall.

Recruit's Audacious Replies to Manager Rickey Amuse Cardinals

Guilford Paulson, of Iowa, Cross-Examines His Boss When He Is Taken Out for a Pinch Hitter — Cards Meet Sacramento Today.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

STOCKTON, Cal., March 11.—During his wide and varied career as a college baseball and football coach and manager of professional ball clubs, Branch Rickey, skipper of the Cardinals, has met many interesting player-characters but he admits that the "Brown Derby" goes to Guilford Paulson, listed with the knot-hole gang as a right-handed pitcher.

In the last two days Rickey has been "knocked off" twice by this impetuous athlete and is having quite as much fun out of the incidents as those who have listened to him tell of them.

Paulson hails from Graettinger, Ia., and it was while he was pitching for the Cornell (Iowa) College team that he attracted the attention of the Cardinal management. He was signed to a contract a year ago and sent to the Sioux City (Tri-State League) team, one of the Cardinal "farms," but didn't like his teammates there and "jumped" the club.

After returning to his home he resumed pitching for the semi-pro clubs in the neighborhood and his work on the mound again attracted attention, and it was decided to give him another trial.

The First Outburst.

Paulson has been in camp since the arrival of the first squad and has taken an occasional turn on the mound in the practice games. It was not until two days ago, however, when he was dropped into the contest against the Kansas City club at Hanford, Cal., that he asserted himself in no mild manner. Bill Barnes and Vincent Shields had preceded him on the hill and Paulson had pitched the seventh inning and blanked the Blues, the score being 2-1 against the Cardinals at this stage.

In the Cardinals' half of the eighth, they scored a run, and with the bases full with only one man out it was Paulson's turn to bat. He grabbed one of Rogers Hornsby's favorite clubs and was midway to the plate when Manager Rickey called him back and sent up Wattie Holm to bat for the pitcher. Holm came through with a hit that put the Cardinals in the lead. Eventually they scored five runs and were breezing in front when the team resumed the field.

This left only Manager Rickey and Paulson on the bench. Without any sign of warning, Paulson, in a deep drawl, shouted, "Hey, what was I doin' out there that wasn't just all right?"

It is very indiscreet for a recruit to question the plan or action of the manager, but evidently Paulson was unacquainted with this bit of baseball ethics; or he simply wanted to know why he wasn't permitted to continue in the game.

Rickey Flabbergasted.

When Rickey regained his mental poise, he was still too flabbergasted to answer Paulson directly. "When, this afternoon?" he asked, sparring for time. "Yeh, right now," answered Paulson.

"What was the score? What was the inning? How many were out?" The manager barked at the recruit. "You're a rotten hitter, aren't you?" he also asked.

"I'm not a very good hitter," replied Paulson. Then the manager endeavored to prove to the pitcher that it was his object and aim to win every game he possibly could, but up to train time after the game Paulson was still puzzled as to why he had been taken out of the game.

Manager Rickey had informed the players who opposed the Kansas City club that they would be permitted to take a day off yesterday but on reconsideration, decided that he would use Paulson against the Leland Stanford University team yesterday.

"Guilford, I want you to pitch against this college team today," said Rickey when he encountered Paulson in the hotel lobby. "Oh, you do, do you?" was the player's comeback.

As related above, Rickey was somewhat taken aback by the curt remarks on two successive days by the young right-hander. At the same time he is proud of the big fellow inasmuch as it looks as if he has the makings of a great twirler.

It was only a workout to shut out the Californians for six innings and Paulson turned the trick in such easy fashion that those who predicted a career for him on the very first day they saw him work are now stronger than ever in proclaiming him a future great.

"The Nerve of a Burglar."

He has size and stuff and the nerve of a burglar, an asset of much value in professional baseball these days. And it is safe to say that Rickey, although pretending that he was well knocked off his pins by the impertinence of the rookie, is going to lose no opportunity to give him every bit of encouragement and coaching possible.

After Paulson's six innings of good pitching "Pea Ridge" Day took up the task for the remaining two innings and not a Stanfordite reached first base. The Cardinals scored five runs.

The attraction today is the Sacramento club against the Hornsby nine at Stockton. Only one squad will be in action.

Mark of 25:25 1-5 for 5000-Meter Walk—Nurmi Victor in His Race.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., March 11.—Frigerio, 1924 Olympic walk-champion, set a world's record 25, 21 1-5s. for 5500 meters in track carnival featuring Paavo Nurmi here last night. This is said to be the first time this distance has been walked officially.

Another world's record was announced when Willie Ritola, Finnish distance runner, ran three and one-quarter miles in 15m 58 2-5s. The previous record for the distance was 16m 9 3-5s., held by Hannes Kolehmainen in New York several years ago.

Nurmi failed to break his record for the mile and three-fourths, covering the distance in 8m. 3 2-5s.

Ritola Runs Easily.

Ritola ran with very little exertion, covering the first two miles in 8m. 1 1-5s., with a stride that was smooth and even.

He was opposed by August Faggin, unattached, and William Ballof the Magyar A. C., Cleve-

In establishing his mark, Frigerio defeated Phil Granville, New York, his only opponent, by 40 yards. The two men were never separated by more than a few yards until the twenty-seventh lap, when Frigerio paced away from Granville and was never headed.

Nurmi Laps Rivals.

Nurmi, who with Ritola, arrived here yesterday from Milwaukee, apparently was content to lap his opponents. Opposed to him were James Connolly, Georgetown, Harold W. Kennedy, Ohio State, who finished second to Nurmi at Charleville recently, and W. Helms, the Wesleyan star.

Nurmi and Ritola will run again tomorrow night when they compete with the Greek-American A. C. meet of New York. Nurmi is scheduled to run in a special two-mile handicap event.

INSTEIN, FORMER OLYMPIC CHAMPION, DIES IN NEW YORK

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 11. — Myer Prinstein, former world's record holder in the running broad jump and winner of Olympic championships in 1900, 1904 and 1908, for the United States, died yesterday morning at Mount Sinai Hospital. He was 45 years old.

Prinstein set a world's record of 24 feet 8¾ inches for the broad jump in 1898. This was displaced shortly afterward by Alvin Kraenzlein, former University of Pennsylvania star, but Prinstein leaped to regain his new mark of 24 feet 7¾ inches at Philadelphia in 1900. This stood until the next year when Pat O'Connor of Ireland set the standard at 24 feet 11¾ inches.

Prinstein captured four Olympic titles. He won the running triple jump, now known as the hop, step and jump, at Paris in 1900. Four years later, in the St. Louis Olympics, he repeated this victory, and added the running broad jump title to his list. At Athens in 1908 Prinstein again won the broad jump. He was graduated from Syracuse in 1901. He was a member of the New York Athletic Club for many years, but retired from active competition in 1910.

Set for Big Year

GEORGE SISLER.

Ruth Admits He Owes $7700 on Gambling Debt

Home Run King Has Little to Show From His Baseball Earnings.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Evening World prints the following today from its special correspondent at St. Petersburg, Fla.:

Babe Ruth has very little to show today for his arduous years of toiling in the big leagues.

This was gleaned from a talk with Ruth yesterday.

A country home in the shadow of the famous inn at Sudbury, Mass., where he might farm in his later years, is all that Ruth really possesses today, with the exception of his wife's holdings.

Ruth has passed the shadow line of his youth. He is growing fat and old. His best days are behind him.

During the last three seasons Ruth was known as the highest salaried baseball player in the history of the game. He received $52,000 a season. It is said that Ruth has one-third of his salary withheld by the Yankee owners, who are investing it for him for a rainy day.

Admits He Owes Money.

The revelation of Ruth's financial status came as a result of his being sued in New York for a racing debt incurred last summer at the tracks in and around New York.

The suit was brought by Harry Lichtenstein, to whom the claim was assigned by Edward J. Callahan.

"Yes, I owe the money," Ruth said today. "I made the bets last May. I lost $7700. I went to Callahan, who was making a book and told him I could not meet the obligation just then, but to give me until the end of the season when I had some more money and I would pay him.

"He said, 'All right.' A few months later, forgetting, or disregarding his agreement, he demanded that I pay him.

"I said I did not have the money. He told me 'All right, I'm going to expose you. I'll have it published in the papers.'

"I said, all right, if that's the kind of a fellow you are, go ahead.

Violated Agreement.

"I feel that inasmuch as Callahan had a gentleman's agreement with me and violated it, and by squawking that I welched and revealed that he is a gambler, I believe that he should be barred on New York tracks.

"I would have paid the debt had he kept his word."

Ruth's money has been taken away from him by "sharks." He has given freely to charity. Just a few days ago he was having his finger X-rayed in a doctor's office when a cripple came in. Ruth handed him a dollar and remarked:

"Gee, here I am complaining of a busted finger."

In his career as one of the greatest southpaw pitchers in the game and unquestionably the greatest of hitters, Ruth has earned a small fortune. But today with old age creeping on, he has very little to show for his being the most colorful baseball player in the history of the game.

Sisler Due for "Comeback" This Season, Walsh Writes

Eastern Baseball Critic Asserts That Browns' Manager Is Hitting Sphere in Way He Did When at Top of His Form Three Years Ago.

By Davis J. Walsh.

Eastern Baseball Writer Who Is Touring Training Camps.

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., March 11.—Every indication pointed today to an inevitable reinstatement of George Sisler, greatest hitter in baseball three years ago, to the rank of the first five batters in the American League during the impending season. Sisler, a victim of defective sight at this time last year, is smiting any and all kinds of pitching here with abandon and the business end of a baseball bat, and the lynx-eyed observers have declared him the Sisler of old.

The gentleman himself says he is facing the pitcher with more confidence than at any time since 1922, when he compiled the rather natty average of .420 over a full season of play. He thinks he is due to come back like a bad check, and to date not a dissenter has voiced a contrary vote.

For one thing, Sisler is taking his full, clean swing at the ball, where in 1924 he was chopping and pushing.

Low, ringing drives are shooting through the infield and his shoulders are snapping into the smash in a way that is calculated to show self-confidence such as Cobb, Speaker, Sisler himself and in fact only the great hitters have possessed.

Back Where He Belongs.

Deep down under his skin, Sisler seems to know that he is back where he belongs. But he will make no immoderate claims. He merely admits that his sight has so far improved this season that they seem to be throwing bigger and better baseballs.

"I feel better than at any time since the 1922 season," he declared. "When I stepped up there for the first time a week ago I admit that I felt a bit worried as to how the ball would look. I've lost all that now. There is nothing so comforting as the feeling of a solid hit as it rolls off your bat, and I seem to be getting a lot of them down here.

"Of course, the pitching in batting practice is not what I will get during the regular season or even the kind I will face in practice games. But neither kind was good enough to fool me constantly when I was right, and taking everything into consideration I feel just as good now as I ever did in my life."

Comeback Would Help.

This statement is not exactly calculated to cause consternation in St. Louis. There is a baseball axiom to the effect that as Sisler goes, so go the Browns. It just about scores a bull's eye from a very different angle.

When Sisler ran amuck in 1922 the Browns were beaten out of the pennant by a scant margin. Sisler then was taken ill, as a result of which he became partly blind and played no baseball in 1923. Whereupon, the Browns did a graceful flop. He returned to the game last season and hit a bare .305. The Browns never were a serious contender. Yet, on both occasions, except for Sisler's infirmities, they were virtually the same club that chased the Yanks right into the wire in 1922.

It would do baseball no particular harm if both Sisler and the Browns collaborated in a simultaneous comeback.

BILLIARD NOTES

MINNEAPOLIS.—Johnny Layton, former champion, split even in two National Three-Cushion League games with Robert Cannefax, the title holder, here yesterday. Layton won the afternoon match, 50 to 35, in 50 innings with a high run of 7. In the evening Layton was left in the "one hole" when Cannefax defeated him, 50 to 49, in 55 innings. Layton had a high run of 8 and Cannefax ran 9. Cannefax won three of the four games played in the series.

DeForest Named As Matchmaker

Dempsey's Former Trainer to Arrange Bouts for Polo Grounds A. C.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Jimmy de Forest, the man who conditioned Jack Dempsey for his bout with Jess Willard and one of the most widely known men in the boxing world, has been named as the matchmaker for the Polo Grounds A. C., to succeed James J. Johnston.

De Forest will arrange the bouts which will be promoted in the famous ball park this summer and fall. The bouts will be held at night.

De Forest visited the offices of the State Athletic Commission yesterday, following his appointment by the managers of the park. He informed the commissioners that he would make formal application for a matchmaker's license between now and the meeting of the board next Friday.

The announcement that De Forest would make the matches for the park indicates that the Stoneham interests will make it interesting for Tex Rickard and Charley Henderson when it comes to bagging big fistic game. It was not known that the Polo Grounds A. C. would again bid for the big attractions until De Forest was named.

Grip Left You All Run Down?

Colds and Chills Weaken the Kidneys and Cause Many Serious Kidney Disorders

DOES your back ache day after day? Do you have headaches, too, dizzy spells, a dull, worn-out feeling and annoying kidney irregularities? Then why not be giving some attention to your kidneys? Physicians agree that a vast number of serious kidney troubles are the result of colds, chills and other germ diseases. In every infectious disease the system is alive with poisonous germs and bacteria.

The kidneys are apt to be overtaxed with the rush of new work, break down, become congested and inflamed. Too often the real trouble is lost sight of until some dangerous kidney ailment sets in. If your kidneys are falling behind, help them with a stimulant diuretic. Begin using Doan's Pills today. Doan's have helped thousands. St. Louis folks recommend them.

Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These St. Louis Folks:

Eugene Daly, 4009 Cottage Av., says: "I had attacks of kidney trouble and my back pained a lot when I stooped over. I had darting pains catch me in the small of my back and run all through my body. My kidneys showed signs of disorder and were weak. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they strengthened my back and kidneys and did away with the aches and pains."

A. O. Miller, 1114 Park Av., says: "I was troubled with pains in my back and soreness across my kidneys. When I went to stoop over, darting pains caught me. I felt dull and tired and lacked energy. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. One of the family had used Doan's Pills and found them so good I tried them. They rid me of pains in my back and restored my kidney action to normal."

Mrs. E. Schewe, 3117 N. Sarah St., says: "My back ached and sharp pains took me in the small of it. I often had such headaches and dizzy spells I had to lie down for awhile. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. After using Doan's Pills I was soon rid of the trouble." (Statement given September 28, 1923.) On December 3, 1924, Mrs. Schewe said: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Pills because the cure they made has lasted."

Mrs. E. Roehling, 3712 Penrose St., says: "My back hurt me and when I stooped, sharp pains caught me through the small of it. I was often troubled with headaches and dizzy spells and everything seemed to turn black before my eyes. My kidneys were disordered, too. After using two boxes of Doan's Pills the pains left and my kidneys were disordered, too." (Statement given Sept. 24, 1923.) On December 5, 1924, Mrs. Roehling said: "An occasional use of Doan's keeps my kidneys in good working order."

Kramer's election means a better St. Louis.

PRIMARY, FRIDAY, MARCH 13th.

IGOE URGES CHANGE IN MEN AND METHODS

Democratic Candidate Says 16 Years of Republican Rule Has Not Been Satisfactory.

William L. Igoe, candidate for the Democratic mayoralty nomination, in an address last night before the "Igoe-for-Mayor Club" of the Fifteenth Ward, at Mission Inn, outlined the duties of a Mayor and said his obligation was to all the people and not to one party.

"There is no such thing as a Republican taxpayer, a Democratic taxpayer or an independent taxpayer," he said. "The election of a Republican or Democrat is not the question. The matter before you is whether you will have an honest and efficient administration.

16 Years of Republican Rule.

"For 16 years one party has been in power and for 10 years there has been no minority in any branch of the municipal government. Notwithstanding their complete control of the city's affairs and undivided responsibility for legislation and administration, the representatives of this party have not rendered satisfactory service. There is complaint among the members of the party in whose name this inefficient service was rendered. To elect any one of the candidates of that party would simply perpetuate the conditions which are now condemned. There ought to be a change of methods as well as a change of men.

"If I am elected Mayor of St. Louis I shall adopt the course I have followed in every other office I have held. I shall try to serve my party by first serving the people, without respect to party or race or creed. No man or woman will gain undue preferences or suffer unjust discrimination because of my election.

Easy to Make Promises.

"There is no such thing as a Republican taxpayer or a Democratic or independent taxpayer. What increases or decreases taxes is not the election of a Republican or a Democrat, as such, but the honest, efficient and economical administration of your municipal affairs. After all, only a few persons get positions in the city government. The vast majority of the people remain after some one's election to the mayoralty exactly what they were before; that is, taxpayers, those who pay the bills. The only benefit they ask, or expect, as a result of an election, is clean, careful, conservative expenditure of public money for public purposes. If they get that, they will profit by a saving of their taxes and a betterment of their municipal government.

"It is easy to make promises. It is also a rather common practice. I want to be sure that I don't promise what I can't perform. My record thus far is what I submit to you now. If you scrutinize that record, as I trust you will, I shall be satisfied to leave to your judgment whether my work in the past deserves your confidence and support now."

The Twenty-sixth Ward "Igoe-for-Mayor Club" will meet tonight at 1170 North Kingshighway. Committees of 10 persons in each precinct will be appointed for work in the ward after the primary.

Candidacy of Igoe Indorsed by George D. Markham.

The candidacy of William L. Igoe, Democrat, for Mayor was indorsed yesterday by George D. Markham, former Democratic member of the old City Council. In a letter to the Igoe Executive Committee. Markham is a member of the firm of W. H. Markham & Co., insurance, and a director of the Mercantile Trust Co. He resides at 4961 Pershing avenue.

"Mr. Igoe is a worthy and capable man for the place," Markham declared in his letter, which was read last night at the Washington Hotel in a meeting of the Twenty-fifth Ward Igoe-for-Mayor Club. "If the city elects him he will not be hampered in his efforts to restore economical and efficient government by political alliances and obligations to the existing office holders.

"Any Republican who is put in, no matter how good a man he may be, will be to a large degree tied down, like Gulliver, with many strands of political influence, his liberty of action hampered and curtailed and he will be forced to fight uphill in order to dismiss incompetent political appointees or to make the others expend their energies for the good of the city instead of the good of their party.

"Igoe, elected as a Democratic Mayor, would have a free hand. I think he would do as Mayor Wells did—discharge no man because he was a Republican, but be quick to discharge him if he did not serve the city well."

The woman's division of the Igoe campaign organization, meeting yesterday at Hotel Jefferson, outlined plans for a continuation of the work which has been under way since the division was formed. Mrs. Nat Brown and Mrs. Fred A. Reid conducted the meeting. Committees were appointed to carry on work among former service men, in industries, and to reach voters by telephone.

Cosmopolitan Club Officers.

Dr. F. H. Healy, an osteopath, was elected president of the Cosmopolitan Club, an organization for civic and social advancement, at a meeting at the American Annex Hotel yesterday. Other officers elected were: Edward Lantz, vice-president; O. J. Hippenmeyer, secretary; Fred W. Klinge Jr., treasurer; and Joseph Delabar, member to the executive committee.

PRESSURE OF SALES ON MARKET

News of Fresh Railroad Mergers Stimulate Rails for Time—Exchange Market Nervous—Call Money Down.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"Despite a steadier tone in the morning under the leadership of the rails and a fair rally in the final hour of trading, the stock market continued under the influence of persistent selling. Liquidation and short selling went hand in hand and while support appeared here and there, the urge to buy plainly was lacking. Pools made no attempt to renew their activities on the upside, and the rallies were the result principally of short covering and support on indications that the decline was going a bit too far. News of fresh railroad mergers stimulated the rails, but on the other hand the street continued pessimistic on the outlook for St. Paul and the selling of this company's stocks and bonds was a feature. The closing was irregularly lower on a turnover of approximately 1,700,000 shares. Call money dropped to 4 per cent.

Foreign Exchanges Unsettled.

"Foreign exchanges were unusually active and the tone was firm. Quotations moved through a much wider range than usual, fairly substantial advances in the early trading largely disappearing in the afternoon. Sterling moved up ½ a cent, fell back slightly below the previous close and then sold at $4.77, unchanged. French francs advanced 2½ points to 5.17 cents and receded to 5.14¾ cents, a net loss of ¾ of a point. Lire were ¼ of a point lower, but other Europeans were 1 to 4 points higher. Japanese yen advanced 30 points, while South American currencies worked to lower levels.

British Trade Improves.

"Board of Trade figures for February show a moderate improvement in British foreign trade. Imports were some £17,600,000 lower than in the previous month, while exports were slightly larger, resulting in lessening in the unfavorable trade balance from £59,600,000 to £40,800,000. It is probable that from now on the balance will improve further as Britain transforms into finished products the raw materials purchased in previous months.

Slight Recession in Steel Output.

"Midweek reports from the iron and steel trade show little in the way of new developments. Production in the Chicago district is being maintained at capacity, but there has been further slowing down in the East, which is bringing consumption and output into closer relations. While the industry still is turning out a large quantity of steel, the trend is unmistakably toward lower levels. There appears to be no reason for bearishness on the steel industry, but on the other hand production for the time being appears to have outrun consumption.

Commodities Drop.

"Selling in cotton and wheat was no less vigorous than in stocks. There were indications that large holders of both wheat and cotton were taking their profits and short selling also appeared, weakness in stocks being a strong influence. May wheat broke 7¼ cents to $1.80¼ but rallied to $1.82 at the close, a net loss on the day of 5½ cents a bushel. Cotton was subjected to liquidation of several large lots and dropped nearly 50 points. However, at a late price of 25.72 cents, May futures were down only 27 points.

SYMBOL OF SAFETY — MILLER BONDS

Four Minutes for the fundamentals, please!

If you are seeking a good investment and a rate up to 7%, with 4% Federal Income Tax refunded, forget your charts, tables, reports and statistics for a moment. How often have the conclusions you have laboriously formed been upset by some trivial, unforeseen incident!

Instead, spend four minutes with the four fundamentals of a good real estate bond—all you need to know to form your own conclusions as to its safety and yield.

We are referring to the Four Distinguishing Marks of Miller Bonds. There is nothing new about them, but many investors have seemed surprised at their simplicity. Ask for Booklet B-126.

ST. PAUL RAILWAY SECURITIES BREAK BADLY ON 'CHANGE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Sharp breaks in the securities of the St. Paul Railway, which carried the common and preferred stocks and several of the bond issues to record low levels, today accompanied the growing uneasiness in the financial district over the road's ability to avert a reorganization.

Engulfed by a heavy wave of selling, the common stock broke 2¾ points to a new low at 9 and the preferred crumbled almost four points to 16¼.

Liquidation of the company's bonds was even more drastic. The fours of 1925, whose approaching maturity is responsible for the road's present difficulties, were down 7¾ points to 55½, the refunding 4½s slumped five points to 47½ and four other active issues broke 1 to 3 points.

Meanwhile the plans of the St. Paul officials and bankers remained enveloped in uncertainty, with all interests refusing to comment on developments taking place at the conferences now under way. Wall Street was flooded with reports of an impending reorganization, a scaling down of capitalization and other drastic measures to meet the $48,000,000 bond maturity in June, all of which failed to elicit any official statement.

Bond Market Review

NEW YORK, March 11.—A sharp break of 1 to 4½ points in St. Paul Railway obligations featured today's early bond trading. With short selling of the maturing 4 per cent bonds increasing in volume, this issue suffered the heaviest loss, touching a new low level at 58¾. The refunding 4½s dropped 3½ points to a new minimum figure at 49 and the convertible 5s, 4½s of 1932 and the Puget Sound 4s were down 1 to 2 points, as heavy liquidation sent the road's stock to recover low prices. Reactionary tendencies predominated in other parts of the list. Detroit United Railways 4½s reacted further on the appointment of a receiver, dipping 2¾ points to a 1925 low at 88¾, and other issues which sold 1 to 2½ points off included Magma Copper 7s, Rogers Brown Iron 7s and Skelly Oil 6½s.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The raw sugar market was unchanged early today at 4.77c duty paid, with sales of 25,000 bags Cuban for March shipment to a local refiner. While quiet, raw sugar futures displayed a steadier tone, with prices at midday 1 to 2 points net higher on covering and buying by commission houses. Refined sugar was quiet and unchanged at 6c to 6.20c for fine granulated. Refined futures were nominal.

Sugar futures closed steady; approximate sales, 16,750 tons. March, 3.02c; May, 3.09c; July, 3.24c; Sept., 3.39c.

Western Pacific Cash Dividend Proposed.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Directors of the Western Pacific Railroad Corporation today proposed to distribute to common stockholders a cash dividend of $5 a share in addition to distributing one share of preferred and one share of common stock to present stockholders for each six shares of stock now outstanding whether preferred or common. This action is contingent upon the approval of stockholders to a change in status of the preferred stock.

The suggested change in the preferred issues, on which stockholders will vote May 11, will make the stock cumulative to the extent of two years' dividends at all times. If this is approved, payments will also be made to preferred stockholders at accumulated dividends of $1.55 per share earned prior to Jan. 1, 1925, and not paid.

The 33 1-3 per cent stock dividend distribution represents recoveries made in proceedings against the old Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Co. Although the payment was authorized four years ago it has been deferred because of litigation involving the Denver & Rio Grande system. Cash dividends will be paid out of surplus.

Goodyear Abandons Refinancing Plan.

AKRON, O., March 11.—At their meetings here today, the board of directors of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. decided to abandon the proposed plan for refinancing the company due to their failure to secure the necessary co-operation from all members.

A quarterly dividend of $1.75 per share, payable April 15 to preferred stockholders of record of March 22, was voted by the directors.

New York Silk.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Raw silk easy; prices per pound: Kansai double extra cracks, $6.50 to $6.60; Kansai best No. 1, $6.20 to $6.25; Shinshu No. 1, $6.15 to $6.20; Canton extras A, 14-16, $5.35 to $5.40. Shanghai china steam fil. gold double deer, $6.80 to $7.

St. Louis Southwestern Railway Co.
PREFERRED STOCK DIVIDEND
New York, February 26, 1925.
A quarterly dividend of $1.25 per share on the preferred stock of this company has been declared, payable on March 31, 1925, to stockholders of record at the close of business on March 14, 1925.
By order of the Board of Directors.
PAUL J. LONGUA, Secretary.

Investors who are holding these bonds cannot expect much more appreciation, if any. Also there is a considerable probability that such bonds will be called when your principal cannot be so profitably reinvested as at present. In line with this theory, certain bonds should be sold or exchanged without delay, while others, for various reasons, should be held.

It will be to your advantage to scrutinize your holdings for the purpose of finding out which bonds are affected by the call price. We have prepared a special form with particular reference to the effect of call price on investments, which will be sent without obligation.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, March 11.—May wheat slumped 7 cents and July 6 cents today, the July reacting better than May later. Corn also was down. The 2¼d lower closed at Liverpool where it was claimed heavy supplies were pressing, and report from seaboard that foreigners were willing to resell on lower basis than last night's offers from this country were influences.

The reaction from the low, especially in case of May wheat, was not very large at the close. Profits were taken. The weakness of stocks was an added influence in the grain market.

In the local cash grain market soft wheat was scarce, demand light and prices steady. Hard was 4c to 5c lower. Corn was steady to 1c lower, the market dragging. Oats were steady to ½c lower. Demand was limited.

May wheat opened 2c to 2½c lower and then sold at the extreme decline, July wheat also being on 2c lower basis. Liverpool wheat in the afternoon cable was 2½d lower on May and July. Winnipeg May was down 4⅝c shortly after the opening and July 3c lower. Corn futures here ranged fractionally lower.

May wheat opened at $1.84¼ to $1.83¾, July wheat $1.59 to $1.59½, May corn $1.26⅞ and July corn $1.30⅞.

The three Northwestern markets combined had 510 cars of wheat, compared with 712 a week ago and 698 last year, Minneapolis receiving 224 cars, Duluth 96 and Winnipeg 190.

Local wheat receipts, which were 52,300 bushels, compared with 117,000 a week ago and 70,200 last year, included 30 cars local and 11 through. Corn receipts, which were 77,000 bushels, compared with 120,400 a week ago and 130,200 last year, included 28 cars local and 27 through. Oats receipts, which were 98,000 bushels, compared with 154,000 a week ago and 72,000 last year included 20 cars local and 29 through. Hay receipts were ?? cars local and 7 through.

Primary receipts of wheat were 682,000 bushels, compared with 724,000 a week ago and 711,000 last year; corn receipts were 1,385,000 bushels, compared with 1,45?,000 bushels a week ago and 920,000 last year; oats receipts were 570,000 bushels, compared with 431,000 a week ago and 633,000 last year; wheat shipments were 727,000 bushels, compared with 750,000 a week ago and 649,000 last year; corn shipments were 646,000 bushels, compared with 541,000 a week ago and 857,000 last year; oats shipments were 591,000 bushels, compared with 507,000 a week ago and 763,000 last year.

Stocks in St. Louis public elevators were 1,700,466 bushels of wheat, 1,641,316 bushels of corn, 298,727 bushels of oats. Grain stocks comprised 1330 bushels of No. 1 red winter wheat, 327,185 bushels of No. 2 red winter wheat, 291,984 bushels of No. 1 hard winter wheat, 815,740 bushels of No. 2 hard winter wheat; 151,644 bushels of No. 2 corn, 56,784 bushels of No. 2 yellow corn, 144,626 bushels of No. 2 white corn; 71,046 bushels of No. 2 white oats, 152,053 bushels of No. 3 white oats; 11,936 bushels of No. 2 rye.

WHEAT HAS SHARP BREAK ON LIVERPOOL DECLINE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, March 11.—All of the ground gained in the wheat market yesterday was wiped out today at almost one stroke. The sharp break in Liverpool and the fact that most locals went home last night committed to the long side was the reason for the weakness. Corn was under pressure most of the time and also exhibited a weak tone and oats had a fair decline but met buying around 50c for May. Provisions are lower.

Wheat had only a slight recovery from the low point and closing prices were 3¼c to 5⅞c lower: May, $1.82 to $1.81⅞; July, $1.60½ to $1.60¼; Sept., $1.49½ to $1.49¼. Corn closed 1¾c to 1¾c lower: May, $1.28⅞ to $1.28¾; July, $1.31¾; Sept., $1.31¼. Oats were ⅝c lower; May, 50¼c to 50⅜c; July, 51⅞c; Sept., 51½c. Lard closed 25c to 27½c lower. Ribs 20c lower, and bellies 7½c to 15c lower. Local cash sales were 6000 bu wheat, 5000 bu corn and 77,000 bu oats.

A decline of 2¼d in Liverpool futures upset the bull campaign in wheat. Most local traders were long on wheat and they were in a semipanicky condition when they saw the action of the Liverpool market. The opening found most of these traders in a rush to dispose of their holdings. Prices were off 3c from the close of last night before buying power developed. A little rally ensued when bull leaders threw their support into the pit, but it failed to last. Selling credited to leading longs caused a break of nearly 5 cents before the decline was again stayed. Advices from the seaboard said that foreigners were offering to resell at 1½c below the price asked by exporters in their European offerings. The decline in Liverpool was attributed to cargoes on passage arriving at port with demand insufficient to absorb the wheat. Milling demand for wheat was slow. Buyers of this description refused to follow yesterday's upturn. Local mills said there was a slight improvement in demand for flour. The weather map shows light precipitation in parts of Western Kansas, but the moisture was by no means general.

Corn was in need of support. The outstanding feature was the selling of a long line credited to Eastern longs. The start was lower under scattered selling by commission houses because of weakness in wheat. Support developed on this decline and prices were forced up to last night's closing level only to run into liquidation and stop-loss selling. Cash corn was in better demand with outside markets taking hold. Receivers reported consignments holding up. Shipping demand was quiet.

Corn and oats went lower with wheat. After opening at ⅝ cent to 1¼ cents decline; May $1.29½@1.29¾, corn rallied somewhat but then dropped to $1.28¼ for May.

Oats were affected by other grains, but better support was noted on the decline. Advices from the seaboard to the effect that Germany had bought oats on overnight offers was a sustaining influence. Local export brokers offered oats on overnight refusals, but were unable to obtain a return bid. An improvement in the domestic shipping demand was noted.

Oats started at ⅛@⅜ cent off; May 50¼@50⅜, reacted a bit, and then fell lower than before.

Provisions declined under pressure stimulated by the break in grain and hogs. Buying power on the break was inadequate.

Provisions were weak, reflecting the action of grain and of hogs.

Henry Ford is probably the richest man in all history.

ILLUS.—The word parenthesis is used as a noun, it means an explanatory or qualifying clause or sentence inserted in a sentence grammatically complete without it, separated usually by upright curves, by brackets or by dashes. Any sort of a mark may be used after the parenthesis, it just depends upon the sentence in which you use it. You might use a comma, a dash or a period.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready for use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

HOUSE ENGROSSES BILL TO CUT ADMINISTRATOR'S FEE

Would Terminate Practice of Filing Letters on That Part of Estate Located in State.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 11.—After an acrimonious debate, the House today engrossed a bill by Representative Thatch of Hickory County, which would terminate the practice of public administrators of filing letters of administration on that part of the estates of deceased nonresidents of Missouri, located within the State, and collecting a fee of 5 per cent of the value of the estate for only perfunctory services.

The bill was vigorously opposed by Representative Floor Leader David Peters of Cole County, but it developed in the debate that Peters was attorney for the public administrator of Cole County, one of three public administrators of the State now benefiting chiefly from the present law. Figures were presented to show that in the last two years the Cole County administrator filed on 123 estates of nonresidents. In 42 of the cases already closed he has received fees aggregating $19,140, and the legal fees to be allowed in the other 81 cases will bring the total for the two years to $56,054.

The other public administrators benefiting chiefly from the present law are those of St. Louis and Kansas City.

Motor Miles for All Mankind

Inspiring the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is one comprehensive conviction: that the great gift of science to man—that of motor transportation—should be brought within the reach of all.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is doing its part to bring this condition about by making enough gasoline to meet the demands; selling it at a low price, and distributing it so widely and so thoroughly that every one may command it at will.

To render a service so essential to the public welfare, an organization must have foresight, initiative, size and power.

To reduce the cost of refining; to standardize the quality of gasoline, and to conquer the difficulties of thorough distribution, requires vast resources, facilities and experience.

The ideal of service to all, has been the stimulus and incentive behind every expansion of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

In building great steel tanks to hold oil in safety and without waste; in organizing tank wagon fleets, or building outpost service stations; in devising more economical refinery methods—the determination to serve has inspired the effort that overcame difficulties and made Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products, household words.

This Company has never been baffled by the magnitude or difficulty of any task. It never has shirked toil nor the burden of initiative! It has blazed the trail, and the fruit of its daring is—gasoline for all, at prices all can afford to pay.

The efforts of this Company have been abundantly rewarded. It is axiomatic that genuine service, honestly rendered, always receives its just reward. But the profits won are only part of the pay, for this organization sincerely rejoices in the thought that through its exertions, motor miles for business or pleasure, have been increased, bringing easier living, better health and wider opportunities to millions of families.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Jimmie's Happiness

WINIFRED BLACK

"JIMMY" is delighted!

"Jimmy" is tickled to death!

"Jimmy" hasn't been so happy in years, not since she was a little girl and had a brand-new Roman sash to wear with her white mull dress when she was going to speak a piece on the last day of school.

Oh, yes "Jimmy's" a girl. Her name isn't Jimmie at all, really. But everyone who knows her very well calls her that.

You see when she was little she hated being a girl and she was always playing she was a boy and so she called herself "Little Dimmie" and her father "Big Dimmie" and that's the how of it.

Having Time of Her Life.

Pretty thing. Little Jimmie—always was and always will be. Black eyes, big ones, with dancing lights in them, black curly hair, the whitest teeth you ever saw and the tiniest foot you ever dreamed of and a knack at clothes and she married the best looking man in the village and he turned out to be a drunkard.

She stuck to him and picked him up and forgave him and picked him up again and forgave him again and finally supported him and then he died, and she went to live with her rich brother in the big city.

She was awfully pleased with the idea of the big city. She always liked the theaters and concerts and the pictures and the shops and the life and bustle—and her rich brother had a great big house with plenty of room in it and a living room and a library and a morning room and a sun room and Jimmie had her own pretty little room upstairs all furnished in rose and cream, just as dainty as Jimmie herself.

But Jimmie is light-hearted and full of fun and Jimmie is generous and Jimmie likes company and Jimmie makes friends, lots of friends wherever she goes and Brother's wife is quiet and Brother's wife is a little dull, and Brother's wife doesn't like many people and very few people like her, and Brothers' wife is stingy—so stingy that she won't have really food enough on her great handsome dining table, and little Jimmy would rather have something good to eat on plain dishes than a stingy crust served with all the ceremony in the world, and Brother's wife made Jimmie cry and Jimmie made her Brother's wife angry and poor Brother had a terrible time of it.

Finally, one fine day, Jimmie packed her trunk and left a note on the bureau and went back to the little country town and she is "clerking" in the little country store, and having the time of her life.

She knows everybody in town and everybody for miles around the town. When the farmer's daughter is going to be married, she comes to the store and consults Jimmie about the trousseau.

When the farmer's wife is going to have a party she goes to the store and buys the material for her party dress and gets Jimmie's idea as to refreshments.

She plans the outfit for the new baby, she helps the new widow buy her mourning and who but Jimmie helps the little bride choose the rug for the living-room and the paper for the dining-room wall.

And she has a little bit of a doll's house of her own that looks just like her and she lives alone or pretends to, but, bless you, the the neighbors won't let her alone a minute, and she borrows the neighbor's children to spend Sunday with her and makes fudge for them in her neat little kitchen, and all the girls come and tell her their love affairs and she sings in the choir and is the head one at the church bazar and well, I really don't think Jimmie has ever been so happy in all her life.

Brother's wife simply can't understand her, and between you and me, I don't think Brother's wife believes it at all—what?

Leave a big, handsome house in a big city and be happy "clerking" in a little country store—but I believe it and I'm glad of it, and so would you be glad—if you knew Jimmie.

One Heart, So Many Girls

DRAWN BY POPINI

WHAT can a poor man do? Everywhere he goes he meets and sees pretty girls, lovely girls, sweet girls beautiful girls—until his head swims! Just when he thinks, "Ah! That's the one for me," along comes another and he promptly changes his mind.

It's so hard to decide just which is THE right one, for each seems more desirable than the last. But some day he will meet the right one, and he will surely know it, for Love tells the tale and always wins the race.

But until then—just to think he has only ONE heart and there are so many girls—he wishes he could take a bit of his heart and give it to each one. Sometimes men do—but always Love demands he take each little bit back and give it to the one who sooner or later will claim it. And then—One Heart—One Girl. —Popini.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Soiled Beads.

Scrub the white ivory or light-colored beads with a brush and soapsuds. They require it occasionally if you want them to really be a decoration.

* * *

Warming Oyster Stew.

To warm over clam or oyster stew, place in a pan of water over a low gas burner, or else use the double boiler. Either method will prevent curdling.

* * *

White-Topped Eggs.

If you wish to have your poached eggs white-topped just cover the pan and let the steam cook a film of white over the yolk. They are much more attractive.

* * *

Think Them Over.

Sunflower seeds make splendid bait for mouse traps.

Palms and ferns should be kept away from draft and gas.

Spirits of camphor will give the sickroom a pleasant odor.

Fruit should always be passed accompanied by a silver knife.

Do not stir sponge cake batter after the whites of eggs are added, but fold the batter over and over, enveloping as much air as possible into the batter.

Tips to Home Dressmakers

If your machine requires a thorough cleaning, do it before you begin the summer sewing during the Lenten season. To do this drop a little denatured alcohol wherever oil is usually applied. Unthread the machine and run it hard for a few minutes. This will distribute the alcohol. With a cloth remove the softened gum, wipe the machine dry and oil it as usual.

* * *

The new summer dresses show much needlework. Eyelet embroidery is popular; so is petit point. A dress in eyelet embroidered batiste is beautifully combined with white crepe. You can buy exquisite organdy vestees with rows of tiny rose buds done in petit point, and you have your choice between a choker or turnover collar.

You Should Serve—

SMALL birds, individually, from the pantry—half a bird on a bed of watercress or a slice of buttered toast, with a little relish on the side. Pass the sauce at the table.

* * *

Any of the following relishes with beef: Chili sauce, tomato catsup, plum jelly, mustard pickles, cucumber relish or pickled onions.

* * *

Large croutons with fish soups, such as cream of salmon.

* * *

Carrot Marmalade

PRESERVES often run low about this season of the year and many housewives resort to store products to eke out the season. If your family prefer the homemade jams and marmalades why not use carrots? They make a delicious marmalade. Just take three cupfuls of carrots that have been cooked and put through the food chopper. And the juice and grated rind of three lemons, juice and pulp of one orange and three cupfuls of sugar. Cook until it reaches the consistency of jelly—about half an hour—then put it into small jars.

A Dinner for One Instead of Two

Alas, the world is ruled by might
Instead of being ruled by right.
—Plunger the Osprey.

FLYING straight up the Big River high in the air Plunger the Osprey moved swiftly. It wasn't long before his wonderful eyes saw far, far ahead of him a speck. He knew that that speck was Mrs. Plunger. As soon as he was near enough he called to her. It was a shrill whistle that could be heard a long distance. Mrs. Plunger answered it and flew to meet him.

"What luck, my dear?" cried Plunger as soon as he was near enough to talk.

Mrs. Plunger shook her head. "Poor luck," said she. "I've caught only one small fish. It was hardly a mouthful. What are you looking so excited for?"

"I told you I was going to catch the biggest fish I could find to celebrate the finishing of our new home, didn't I?" cried Plunger.

Mrs. Plunger nodded. "You did," said she. "Where is it?"

"It was so big that I couldn't bring it!" cried Plunger. "I had to leave it on the shore because I couldn't lift it into the air." Then he told her all about his adventure with the big fish and how near to being drowned he had been. "So as soon as I could fly I hurried to get you. We'll go back down there and have a wonderful feast. That fish is plenty big enough for two," concluded Plunger.

Together they started back to where Plunger had left the big fish on the shore. They flew swiftly, and it wasn't long before those wonderful eyes of Plunger's could see the place where he had left the big fish. And they saw something else. There was someone sitting by that big fish. Worse still, that some one was very busy. At that distance Plunger couldn't see just what was happening, but he could guess. That someone was eating the fish with which he had planned to celebrate with Mrs. Plunger.

With a scream of anger Plunger increased his speed. Now Mrs. Plunger also saw what was going on, and she too screamed with anger. "Thief! Thief! Thief! Leave that fish alone! It is ours! Go away from it, you big robber!" screamed the Plungers as they swooped and circled above the place where the big fish had been left.

He paid not the slightest attention to them

A pair of fierce, yellow eyes looked up at them from a snowy white head. Then, as calmly as if the two big Fish Hawks were nowhere about, King Eagle resumed his feast. Already he had torn apart and eaten a large part of that fish. But there was still enough left for Mrs. Plunger to see what a big fish it had been.

For a short distance Plunger and Mrs. Plunger wheeled about him, screaming, "Robber! Robber!" at him. Then they gave it up. They knew it was useless. They did not dare attack King Eagle. The feast they had counted on for two had become a feast for Whistling, screaming, Plunger and Mrs. Plunger darted and plunged with whistling wings as close to King Eagle as they dared. He paid not the slightest attention to them. For a few moments he went on with his feast. Then with the remainder of that fish in his great claws, he spread his great wings and took to the air. He was taking that fish home.

One, and that one the only one who could take a dinner away from them. From far away King Eagle had seen the struggle of Plunger with the big fish. He had arrived just after Plunger had left to look for Mrs. Plunger. Had Plunger remained he would have lost the fish just the same. King Eagle would have taken it away from him.

FOR BAD TASTE IN THE MORNING

Sluggish liver, enemy of millions, causing headache, dullness, lassitude, bad taste, unpleasant breath and other disagreeable disorders, is toned up quickly by simple mixture of California lemon juice and hot water taken one-half hour before breakfast every morning.

Natural salts and acids which are appetisers and direct digestive aids, are the reasons for the lemon's efficiency in these respects.

Take advantage of this simple tonic.

Try it for ten days—give it that much time to "take hold" of your case. Note the results. Decide then to continue or not, according to the benefits the lemon brings. You'll use this method always if you try it once.

Get a dozen California lemons now for your ten-day test.

WHAT INTERESTS YOUR CHILD

By CAROLYN LISBERGE

Lecturer and Writer on the Bringing up of Children.

THE wife of a certain college professor, usually able in managing her children, was confronted by failure in one respect. She told me: "Janet (aged 12) has gotten to dislike her once loved school on account of arithmetic."

She was too wise to offer bribes to induce the girl to work for high marks and too sensible to punish for low standing.

"I hate arithmetic," Janet told me upon inquiry.

"What do you like?" I asked.

"I love drawing," came her enthusiastic answer.

"Would you love to draw plans for lovely houses, Janet?"

"Oh, wouldn't I?" And I mean to some day."

"But, of course," I explained, "you can't do that without understanding arithmetic. An architect has planning to do and measuring. He has to make angles and curves go where they belong. To draw plans for homes you have to work with numbers, figures, feet, and all the things arithmetic teaches."

The child's eyes shone with interest. For the first time her tasks in arithmetic were related in her mind to the things she loved to do instead of to drudgery.

I predicted rightly to her mother a new attitude toward this study.

There is almost nothing you cannot get a youngster to do if you make him feel it is something he wants to do for his own reasons.

Be sure in giving motives they are ones your child can understand and respond to, and not one above or below the youngster's age. With a little child you can use fancy. Make a game of a task. With the older child a practical motive within his experience and understanding will serve.

When parents realize the infinite power in motivating their children wisely and correctly, training them in the way they should go will be a much simpler and more successful affair.

A Tasty Salad

ARRANGE the halves of canned pears on lettuce and fill the cavities of the pears with cream cheese blended with maraschino cherries. Serve with mayonnaise and whipped cream in equal quantities.

Some of the mayonnaise or cream might be colored blue and dotted over the salad, then one or more of the cherries placed on top, and you will have a tasty salad for the Washington's birthday dinner.

She ran and knelt on the floor, and folded him about him.

"Oh, the bonnie wee laddie," murmured, kissing him. "My gay lit'lin'!" And then, knew she was, she turned her towards her old husband claimed:

"Look, John! Is he not him?"

The unimportant John, intently out of his kindly old smiled down on them, sighing.

"As like as two peas!" gently.

Then Libby, fumbling hand while her other held tle boy, pulled from a pe her voluminous cotton skirt ture in a little case. No other an of her class had in Scotland of aping the such an extent as having of her children made.

doubt about the paternity of the child. And so simply had she justified the resemblance, that Chirstie studied the picture unabashed, with a natural interest. The picture was handed from one to another, and Wully, when he got it, studied it intently.

No one noticed him doing it. Libby Keith had sighed again, and said, just about that time:

"'To them that hath, it shall be given.' 'Them that has sons, has grandsons.'"

Wully looked up from the picture to her, and wondered if it would have comforted her to know that the child so brutally begotten was indeed her grandson. Not that it made any difference, of course. He wouldn't tell her in any case. He hated that little picture. It had possibilities against which he couldn't fight. And the women were saying to the baby:

"Say 'Aunt Libby,' Johnnie. Come on, now. Say 'Aunt Libby.' Say it, baby. Look, he's going to say it!"

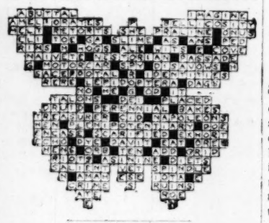

They had reason to think so. Johnnie prepared for action. He pursed up his red lips. He looked around upon his admirers, complacently, happily. All eyes were upon him. He let them wait a moment. Then he manipulated his lips more earnestly. The great moment was at hand.

"Pr-r-r-r-r!" he articulated proudly. "Pr-r-r!"

Various aunties dived for him, rewarding him with laughter and huggings, enthusiastically. Was there ever so silly a baby, ever a bairn so lovable, they asked. It occurred to Wully casually that perhaps the secure son of Wully McLaughlin was a more fortunate being than the unfathered offspring of Peter Keith would have been.

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

The solution of the above puzzle will be published tomorrow

Crabmeat Patties.

Open and drain a large can of Japanese crabmeat, then flake it coarsely. Dust with pepper and salt, sprinkle with the juice of an onion and the juice of half a small lemon. Make a rich cream sauce in the usual way and when done remove from the fire and stir in the crabmeat. Keep warm until the patty shells are heated, then place them on hot plates and fill with the crabmeat and turn a little of the sauce over each. Garnish with a spray of parsley and serve. This makes four or five good fillings and is wonderfully good in flavor. The Japanese crab is larger than the familiar varieties and has a fine flavor between the flavor of lobsters or Southern shrimp.

With nine children and 18 grandchildren the Countess of Coventry celebrated the approach of her diamond wedding by riding around the village of Croome, England, on a tricycle.

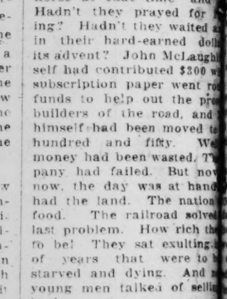

FILET OF SOLE.

Select a short, thick flounder and have it cut into six fillets. Rinse and dry them, then spread each one with a thin paste made of a half cupful of dry crumbs, pepper, salt, a half teaspoonful of anchovy paste, a minced hard boiled egg, juice of an onion, a saltspoonful of sugar, and melted butter, enough to bind and make a spreading paste. Dust the fillets with flour, spread each with the paste, then roll them into little rolls pinning them with wooden toothpicks. Fry the rolls in hot fat a delicate brown, covering until they begin to color, so as to cook the paste. This is an ample dish for four people. Serve tartar sauce with the fish and garnish with fresh watercress and sliced lemon.

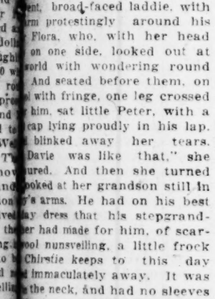

Probably the best record for dry convictions is held by Mrs. Gertrude Warner, assistant District Attorney in Peoria, Ill., who has a total of 122 convictions to her credit in one single court term.

ARBITRARY LEVY ON STOCK PROFITS TO BE SERVED ON SENATOR COUZENS

Assessment Will Be Withheld Till Tomorrow So He Can Have Chance to Sign Waiver.

ACTION BASED ON A PRIVATE NOTE

Mellon Says Law Does Not Permit Him to Make Amount of the Assessment Public.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Treasury has prepared for delivery to Senator Couzens of Michigan tomorrow a notice of an arbitrary assessment on profits alleged to have been made by him in the sale of his minority holdings of stock in the Ford Motor Co. in 1911.

While the computation of the assessment is practically complete, it is the intention of the Treasury to withhold it for one day to give the Michigan Senator, who is chairman of the special committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau, an opportunity to sign a waiver of the statute of limitations if he so desires.

The Treasury sent to the Senator Monday a copy of a memorandum from a private source outside of the Treasury purporting to show that profits he had made on the sale of the stock to Henry Ford had been underassessed and that between $10,000,000 and $11,000,000 still was due the Treasury.

Levy Not to Be Public.

Senator Couzens declared in the Senate an attempt was being made to "discipline" him for his activities in investigating affairs of the Revenue Bureau.

The statute of limitations, which Senator Couzens has declined to waive, runs from tomorrow and the Treasury declared it was faced with obtaining a waiver or the applying of an assessment, made arbitrarily from its records. Secretary Mellon said the Treasury is precluded by law from making public the amount of the arbitrary levy, adding that there had been no intention to give publicity to the case.

Amortization Questioned.

The Internal Revenue Bureau, in collecting war and post-war corporation taxes, has allowed $564,-000,000 in amortization claims under principles questioned by the Couzens Senate Committee, on the basis of testimony by bureau officials.

Similar claims that are still pending, as set forth in this testimony, amount to approximately $200,-000,000.

Through L. H. Manson, counsel for the committee, and its own engineers, with the aid of the bureau personnel, the committee undertook a more detailed investigation of several of the allowed claims, most of them arising out of war-time operations of industrial companies. The Berwind-White Coal Mining Co. in Pennsylvania, furnished the chief claim brought in this category.

J. W. Swaren, an engineer for the bureau, who made a study of the Berwind-White claim when it was originally advanced, agreed that he had reported the plant to be in use in 1922 to the extent of 70 per cent of its capacity. His superiors in a final adjustment allowed the corporation to claim deduction on the theory that it was only 52.6 per cent in use, he declared.

Steel Claim Largest.

The largest of the amortization claims pending, Manson reported to the committee, affects the United States Steel Corporation.

"The amount claimed is $22,482,-000," he told the committee, explaining that while the case was yet unfinished the engineering estimates had been approved in the bureau.

"The amortization allowed by the bureau (income tax) was $55,063,312. The amortization considered proper by your counsel and engineers was $37,124,957; the difference in tax was $21,438,512."

Finding Congress Says Industry Has Been Hurt by Inquiry.

By the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Coal interests throughout the country have started a movement to end the investigation of tax adjustments. The American Mining Congress asserted yesterday that mining interests had been hurt by the secret testimony
